WILLIAM GREEN DEMANDS RESIGNATION OF NANCE AS PRESIDENT OF GEORGIA FEDERATION OF LABOR

COMPROMISE PLAN SEEN AS SOLUTION OF GRADY DISPUTE

Council To Be Asked to Amend Ordinance to Continue Present Hospital Board as Sole Policy-Making Authority.

FRANKLIN SEEKS TO MEND BREACH

Members of Staff Say That Action of City Council Was 'More Drastic Than We Intended.'

Re-establishment of the Grady board of trustees as the policy-making body at that institution and the designation of John B. Franklin, superintendent, as the chief executive officer, probably will be asked at the April 19 meeting of city council, it developed yesterday as the acrimonious exchange of charges and counter charges in the latest Grady outbreak continued.

Dr. T. C. Davison, chief of the Grady surgical staff, and Dr. C. C. Ewen, of the visiting staff, who earlier in the day had issued a statement charging policies to the board of trustees, specifically Samuel C. Dobbs, chairman, asserted the ordinance passed Monday was "more drastic than we intended."

They said the trustees should be invested with final authority in disciplining internes and in designation of visiting staff members. The ordinance, which council approved last Monday and which Mayor Hartsfield sanctioned with his signature Wednesday, gives Franklin the final veto in both these cases.

White to Confer.
Councilman John A. White, co-author of the measure approved last Monday, informed of Davison's attitude, asserted he will confer with them and others and will decide on a course of action. White reiterated a statement he made Wednesday "if that ordinance is not right, we will change it because I want to do what is right about Grady."

Mayor Hartsfield last night said he was busy with other city matters and has "no intention of taking any drastic action in connection with the Grady row at this time."

Reaction over the signing of the ordinance, which Councilman J. Frank Beck, ex-officio member of the Grady board, said created Franklin as "a dictator" at Grady, was more conciliatory as the day progressed.

Would Heal Breach.
Franklin was known to have been busy in an attempt to prevent a widening of the rift between him and the Grady board. He adopted an attitude of mediation with the expressed intention of re-establishing harmony between the present board and the Grady administration.

Reports that the present Grady board would resign and be augmented by others to the effect that the present board must submit to the designation by council of Franklin as the supreme head of Grady or be driven from its post by administration leaders.

To a specific question as to whether he intended to force the board from its post if it resisted, Hartsfield replied:

"I don't do things that way. I want Grady operated by a citizens' board and not by a council."

New Hall County Hospital, Awards Project, Is Opened

Modern Institution Cost $50,000 and Will Serve as Center of Hospitalization for a Dozen Surrounding Counties; Contest for Name Planned.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 8.—All citizens of the county have been invited to participate. The new, completely equipped, air conditioned $50,000 hospital began operation today as one of the major projects in a county-wide drive to win the $3,500 first award in The Atlanta Constitution's $7,500 Progressive Government Awards. Under the leadership of the county commission, of which W. F. Peck is chairman, Hall county is definitely launched in its determination to win one of the awards and claims the distinction of being the first county in Georgia to complete and make real a county undertaking.

Commissioners R. G. McConnell and W. N. Lott co-operated fully in the movement to establish the hospital, which is the only one in Hall county and which will be available as a hospitalization center for a dozen surrounding counties in the northeastern section of the state. The new Hall county hospital is the only one in this section of Georgia.

Contest for Name.
Not content with establishing the hospital, commissioners have decided to hold a contest to select a name for the new structure and

GEORGIA WARNED OF REPRISAL TAX

Florida Legislators Wax Wroth Over Seafood Act; May Visit Rivers.

Strong threats of reprisal tariffs against Georgia peaches and other commodities discussed yesterday in the Florida legislature because of a $200 license tax against wholesalers handling seafoods produced in Florida will be settled amicably, if possible, Governor Rivers said here last night. The tax was reported in the Florida legislature by Representative McLeod of Apalachicola. Governor Cone joined legislators in starting efforts to have this state suspend the law, the Associated Press reported.

McLeod telegraphed Governor Rivers that the $200 license tax "is a fatal blow to one of Florida's greatest industries. . . . We desire friendly co-operation rather than a tariff war with your magnificent state."

In Florida he said that if diplomatic fails he would offer the reprisal tax proposal. Governor Rivers, associates said, had telegraphed McLeod that he would be glad to meet a delegation from Florida tomorrow morning to discuss the situation. He said he had hopes that the matter could be smoothed over.

Speaker Christie, of the Florida house, yesterday named McLeod chairman of the committee to study the situation and President Gillis, of the senate, said he would appoint a similar group. Enforcement of the law has not yet started. The 1937 assembly passed the act, placing enforcement in the hands of the new fish and game commission, now being organized.

The $200 license tax is designed to provide funds for inspection of seafoods coming into, or going out of the state and for inspection of all warehouses of fish dealers.

ATLANTA PASTOR OUSTED BY CHURCH

North Atlanta Baptists Dismiss Rev. McLarty in Early Morning Ballot.

Accused of attempted dictatorship in church affairs, the Rev. George N. McLarty, minister and former lawyer, was ousted as pastor of the North Atlanta Baptist church at 3 o'clock yesterday morning following an eight-hour night conference meeting of the church membership. Dismissal of the pastor followed several months of factionalism and disagreements with the board of deacons, which the Rev. Mr. McLarty last month had ordered abolished. Charges against the minister, made by Deacons W. A. Clark, William M. Burdett and L. O. Nichols were that the pastor had refused to co-operate with the board of deacons in administration of the church's business. Detectives sat in the church's pulpit Wednesday night as the monthly conference began at 7 o'clock. Uniformed police were on hand from midnight until the final count of votes on a motion to declare the pulpit vacant was taken at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The church is located at 11th and 12th streets, between 11th and 12th streets.

In addition to dismissing McLarty, the church membership refused to adopt the minutes of the previous meeting in which the abolition of the board of deacons was recorded, and thus refused to sanction the pastor's action. Officials of the church said yesterday that a new pastor will be chosen within 30 or 60 days. Beginning the service Wednesday night with prayers and singing, the Rev. Mr. McLarty acted as moderator at the trial. The congregation, by a standing vote, forced reading of the previous minutes but the vote on whether to adopt the records was from the church's membership roll.

SIT-DOWN INQUIRY KILLED BY HOUSE IN ROAR OF 'NOES'

Hudson Strike of 11,000 Is Ended as Union Starts Long-Range Drive To Force Recognition by Ford—Last of Big Three

TWO G. M. PLANTS CLOSED IN CANADA

Ontario Premier Warns He Won't Tolerate C.I.O. Tactics; Closing of All U. S. Shops Threatened.

By the United Press.
A resolution calling for congressional investigation of sit-down strikes was killed in the house of representatives yesterday as the Hudson Motor Company strike of 11,000 was ended and the automotive labor struggle spread into Canada.

Before the Hudson agreement becomes effective it must be ratified by vote of U. A. W. A. members in Hudson plants which have been held by sit-down strikers since March 8.

"Substantially, the agreement is the same as those reached in the Chrysler and Reo strikes," Governor Murphy of Michigan, said. That would grant the U. A. W. A. the right to bargain collectively for its members in Hudson's three Detroit plants.

Overhouse Strike Probe.
The house of representatives shouted down the Dies resolution for a "sit-down" investigation with a storm of "noes" in one of the most turbulent sessions of this congress.

After tabling the Dies proposal, the house blocked an attempt by Representative Warren, Democrat, North Carolina, to get an immediate vote on the senate resolution condemning sit-down strikes and employers who combat unionization of their workers through the use of labor spies.

Meanwhile, however, the main assembly plant of the General Motors of Canada, at Oshawa, Ont., was shut down by a walkout of approximately 3,700 workers. The strike marked the first effort of the United Automobile Workers to obtain recognition in Canada. The strike involved all General Motors employees at Oshawa except 200 non-union workers in the main plant.

VILLAGE WRECKED BY VIOLENT STORM

One Killed, More Than 20 Injured in an Alabama Lumber Mill Community

BRUNDIDGE, Ala., April 8.—(P)—Swept by a storm, the Dickert's lumber mill village on the outskirts of Brundidge, lay in virtual ruins tonight, with at least one person dead and more than a score injured.

The storm was one of a series that has scattered sections of the south within a week, taking 13 lives and doing damage that may run into millions of dollars. Shortly after the mill village was struck today, trucks, school buses and ambulances began streaming into Troy, Ala., 10 miles from Brundidge, taking the injured to hospitals.

Fred Crowley, 13, was killed instantly as the Crowley home collapsed. Three Missing Persons Found. Sergeant Tom Carlisle, one of 20 highway patrolmen dispatched here for the emergency, reported three persons previously unaccounted for had been located. The Red Cross sent a field worker here to organize relief. A series of storms dipped into

U. S. Guardians of Air in Army Day Mass Maneuver

The 17th attack group of Northrop A-17 type planes from March Field, Cal., under the command of Major Carlyle Wash flew in formation over various civic centers of southern California during Army Day celebrations. LOYALISTS SCORE SMASHING VICTORY

Vast Quantities of Materials Seized in Disorderly Rout of Foreigners

MADRID (Friday), April 9.—(UP)—Loyalist armies on the Cordoba front drove 10,000 Italian and German Rebels through the Chimorra mountains in wild retreat early today while army headquarters here rejoiced in "the greatest rout of the foreign invaders since the Battle of Guadalajara."

Dispatches told exultantly of the capture of Villaharta, dominating rail and highway communications of Cordoba province, and the swift advance of the Loyalists along the main road to the gates of Penarroya.

Great quantities of war material—mostly of Italian make—were reported seized, including five batteries of artillery, 80 machine guns, 80 submachine guns, seven Italian lorries loaded with war supplies, two Italian tanks and many prisoners.

Fierce fighting raged today on the outskirts of Penarroya, chief Loyalist objective that controls the rich Jaen coal fields.

REBELS USE FIRE FOR BASQUE PUSH.
VITORIA, Spain, April 8.—(P)—General Emilio Mola's insurgent troops, fighting on a flaming front, pressed closer to Bilbao tonight, hammering back fierce counterattacks by government soldiers.

Setting fire to pine forests, the insurgents swept behind a wall of flame into strongholds of Basque defenders, driving them from Baraz Pass and clearing the way to the Basque capital 18 miles northwest. Baraz Pass is the key to the Arrotia river valley leading down to Bilbao. Mola's motorized units hoped to use an improved highway northwest to Bilbao from Durango, once the latter is captured. Durango is 16 miles from Bilbao. Mola's forces met bitter resistance as government troops fell back to a second range of hills on one of two main highways between Vitoria and Bilbao.

MUSSOLINI PONDERS OPEN AID TO REBELS.
LONDON, April 8.—The rising fears of Europe centered tonight upon Venice palace in Rome, where Premier Benito Mussolini, believed near an open break with anti-Fascist France and Russia, pondered difficulties confronting the Spanish Rebels.

American Is Killed In Spain's Civil War

MADRID, April 8.—(P)—James Neipold, of Brookwood Labor College, at Katonka, N. Y., a recruit in the International brigade fighting on the Spanish government's side, was killed today while attempting to rescue a wounded comrade at suburban barricades.

Neipold climbed from a trench in plain sight of machine gunners on both sides. He had almost reached the wounded soldier when an insurgent marksman picked him off.

Injured Pedestrian Fined for Accident

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8.—(P)—From now on, City Judge Boyd decided today, it's a 50-50 proposition with motorists and pedestrians who get tangled up in accidents. The judge dismissed charges of reckless driving, assault and battery against Motorist Marion Saint, 23, but slapped a $25 fine on Joseph Collier, 36, who walked in front of Saint's car April 1 and then spent four days in a hospital recovering from his injuries. He announced a flat penalty of $25 for "jay-walking" and ordered Collier to jail when he could not pay the fine.

TEN-DAY STRIKE IS SETTLED HERE

Stone Baking Company Differences Ironed Out; 75 Will Return Today.

The Stone Baking Company's plant, employing 75 persons, will run again today after a 10-day shutdown occasioned by a strike of 30 employees, it was announced last night by Joseph Hexter, president of the company.

Neely said the welfare department has only $2,000 on hand and that no relief is being given to the city's 10,000 unemployed persons now on the relief rolls. He said the $12,500 released by the city Monday had been expended in payment for March relief obligations.

Speaking for the welfare board, Neely told council yesterday that increased investigations on account of social security benefits will increase the cost of the welfare department and that $30,000 is needed from the city and the county each. The county, he said, has agreed to donate this sum when the city does.

The welfare chairman said the department would assume all

FULTON'S RELIEF DONATIONS STOP

Board Awaits Allocation of City Funds; Council Meets, Fails To Act.

All relief donations through the Fulton department of public welfare have stopped pending allocation of the city's relief contribution. Frank Neely, chairman of the Public Welfare Board, said yesterday after city council at a special meeting heard the demand for $30,000 from the city, but failed to take any action.

Neely asserted the new five-man relief board will not begin operation until the city makes it appropriation. Mayor Hartsfield said that the budget commission will be called into session "just as soon as I can get them together" and that another special council meeting will probably be called Monday afternoon to allocate funds to the welfare department.

Murdaugh's Appeal.
Lamar Murdaugh, director of state public welfare department, appealed to council to release the money as soon as possible in order not to delay granting of social security benefits.

Neely said the welfare department has only $2,000 on hand and that no relief is being given to the city's 10,000 unemployed persons now on the relief rolls. He said the $12,500 released by the city Monday had been expended in payment for March relief obligations.

Four Plane Searchers, Feared Lost, Make Way to Scene of Wreckage

MENARD, Ariz., April 8.—(P)—A posse trudging out of the White mountains with bodies of eight plane crash victims said tonight four fellow searchers, reported missing, had made their way to the wreckage and joined the funeral party.

The four had been unreported since they left Greer shortly after noon Tuesday to seek the crashed Douglas airliner. Ground parties from McNary reached the wreckage yesterday. An alarm was spread when Clifford Wentz returned to Greer and said he feared he would be stricken with snowblindness. Searching parties, their attention diverted to a new emergency, rushed to Greer. They included John L. Butler, father of one of the missing men, who had discounted the theory the men might have lost their way, but expressed fear the glare of the snow might have blinded them. The four are Euly Butler, George Crosby, Kent Pierce and Cleve Wilbanks.

Word sent out by Sheriff John Nunn from the posse en route with the bodies said they got underway early this afternoon, but

A. F. L. PRESIDENT BARS C.I.O. GROUPS FROM CONVENTION

Fate of Nance as President of State Body To Be Decided Sunday at Meeting of Executive Board Called for Here.

OFFICE REMOVAL ALSO DEMANDED

Green Letter Asserts Nance Has Violated Rules of National and of Georgia Federations.

With a formal demand for his resignation received from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, A. Steve Nance, head of the Georgia federation, yesterday saw his fate resting in the hands of the executive board of the state body, scheduled for a special meeting here Sunday.

O. E. Petry, secretary-treasurer of the Georgia federation, announced Green's letter and said, besides Nance's resignation, it demanded that offices of the state federation be moved from their present location and that no delegates of C.I.O. affiliates be seated at the state convention here on April 21-23.

From Indianapolis, Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union, telegraphed Green that Nance "was elected president of Georgia Federation for specified term, and so long as he remains member of international union affiliated with American Federation of Labor I deny any authority to force his removal."

Green's demands, addressed to Petry, grew out of Nance's alleged activities as director of the Textile Workers' organizing committee, admittedly an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Nance in Chattanooga.
Nance yesterday was in Chattanooga, purportedly on a "personal matter," but Petry said "something else might grow out of it."

George L. Googe, southern representative of the A. F. of L., issued a statement last week saying Nance's resignation would be asked in view of the latter's identification with C.I.O. According to correspondence between Googe and Petry, Googe first presented Green's demands verbally to Petry and Green's letter yesterday followed Nance's announcement he had "no intention of resigning."

Googe, reached by telephone late yesterday, declined any comment, either on the Green letter or other developments and said he was leaving immediately for Birmingham. He said his visit to the Atlanta city would be on routine business only.

Googe was asked whether he had been invited to Sunday's meeting of the executive board of the Georgia Federation of Labor, replying:

"There's absolutely nothing I can tell you. Commenting on the executive board meeting Sunday, when asked what he thought the board would do, Petry replied it would 'do the right thing.'"

Green's letter said Nance's resignation was asked "in conformity with the laws, rules and procedure of the Georgia Federation of Labor and the American Federation of Labor."

Finds No Authority.
Petry said yesterday he found no authority in laws of either organization for such a statement, adding that the regulations provide for a "fair trial" of anyone

ADDIS ABABA, April 8.—(P)—
The United States legation was closed here today at almost the same hour that the consulate was vacated at Tripoli, Libya, in another part of Italy's African empire.

Consul Morris Hughes handed the key of the Addis Ababa legation to an Italian officer and en-

Viceroy Rodolfo Graziani bought the furniture in the palatial legation, planning to use it as an officer's quarters.

Vice Consul Robert Hunter, the former consul for Teheran, Iran, and the latter for Tirana, Albania.
for Cairo.

The United States State Department on March 5 decided to withdraw diplomatic representatives from Ethiopia, saying the Addis Ababa legation was being closed
"in accordance with its (the State Department's) usual practice of terminating consular activities in any district where American interests no longer require such services."

"ONE OF GEORGIA'S LARGEST CUSTOMERS"

SPECT IS TAKEN IN PENNSYLVANIA IN MODEL SLAYING

Fingerprints Are Sent to
Placed.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., April 8.—(P)—A man who said he was Francis Farmer, Syracuse, N. Y., was held by police tonight pending word from New York authorities whether his fingerprints tally with those of Robert Irwin, sought in the Gedeon Easter slayings. Chief of Police Turner said Irwin was taken into custody after attendants at a hotel here were registered early today. A resemblance to photographs of Irwin, eccentric sculptor, Irwin has been reported hitchhiking through Pennsylvania, but Irwin said Farmer was driving an automobile registered in his name. No charges have been placed against him.

WIN REPORTED FROM MANY CITIES.
NEW YORK, April 8.—(P)—Will-o-the-wisp tonight led the pie murder mystery of Beekman toward its thirteenth day—long as fantastic a trail as ever followed by the New York homicide squad. Robert Irwin, eccentric 29-year-old sculptor and former divinity student, on whom investigators entered their interest when the ashbuckling little father of awful "Ronnie" Gedeon was named as a suspect, continued to elude an eight-state police hunt.

As reports placing Irwin—or someone resembling him—in various parts of the country flowed across his desk, Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine predicted he would be "caught within a reasonable time."

THREE MEALS A DAY

HOME TESTED RECIPES
BY Sally Sawyer

There is no better meal at any time for a hungry family than a portly crock of baked beans. There are any number of delightful bean dishes made ready in an amazingly short time using oven baked beans as a basis. Such good things as chili con carne, sausages with kidney beans, pork chops with baked beans, fritters, patties, meatless roasts and many other whole meal dishes bring variety and interest to everyday meals. Serve the savory, tempting dishes suggested below and receive the wholehearted approval of your family.

New England Roast.
One medium can oven baked red kidney beans, 1 cupful soft bread crumbs, 1 cupful grated cheese, 1 medium onion, chopped fine, 1-2 teaspoonful Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 1 egg slightly beaten.
Mash beans or put through food chopper. Mix with other ingredients. Pour into a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until firm and Tomato Sauce.

Two tablespoonfuls butter, 1 green pepper, chopped fine; 4 tablespoonfuls flour, 1 medium can cream of tomato soup.
Melt butter and in it fry green pepper. When pepper is slightly brown, add flour and stir well until well blended. Add soup and cook until thick.

Pork Chops With Oven Baked Beans.
Four to six pork chops, salt and pepper, 1 large can baked beans, vegetarian style; 1-2 cupful tomato ketchup, 1 tablespoonful brown sugar or molasses.

Brown chops in a frying pan and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Pour beans over chops, add ketchup and sugar and mix lightly. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes, or until chops are tender.

Supper Casseroles.
One medium can oven baked beans with pork and tomato sauce.

STALIN DECREES SOVIET CLEAN-UP

Nation-Wide Arrests Feared as Drive on Corruption in Party Starts.

MOSCOW, April 8.—(UP)—Dictator Joseph Stalin, denouncing widespread corruption throughout the Soviet Union, tonight ordered a sweeping "top-to-bottom" cleanup of all trade unions which he said are controlled by racketeers, criminals and bureaucrats. Thousands immediately feared the order heralded nation-wide arrests and dismissals as the party began to carry out Stalin's decree.

The move was the opening drive in a sweeping reorganization of the Communist party and a long-delayed campaign to winnow out counter revolutionaries in every Soviet organization. The corruption among trade unions was announced as worst in Ukraine and white Russia, long the centers of unrest. Although no details of labor conditions were furnished, misuse of social insurance funds was widely reported.

DEPARTMENTAL PROBE
COLUMBIA, S. C., April 8.—(P)

The house passed a resolution today to second reading providing for an investigation of the state constabulary, state highway patrol and other agencies. An investigation of the offices of the state treasurer and comptroller general was provided in an amendment. An appropriation of $10,000 would be provided to finance the investigation.

THERE'S something so bewitchingly feminine about blue-eyed Mrs. Deegan—such soft-voiced, delightful charm. And like the smart young lady she is, she uses only Camay to guard her exquisite skin. "Because," she says, "Camay improved my complexion right from the start."

And Camay can improve your complexion, too. See if Camay's gentle, thorough cleansing doesn't show results at once. Its fragrant, velvety lather soothes your skin like a caress—while those sparkling little bubbles go searching down to the pores, to rid them of all dirt and grime. See if your skin doesn't respond to this special Camay cleansing. See if it isn't smoother and softer to the touch, more attractive than it has ever been before.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 8.—(P)—B. O. Sprague, president of the Savannah Sugar Refinery Corporation, announced here a 10 per cent wage increase for all plant employees, effective April 12.
He said the increase would amount to "about $55,000 to $60,000" annually, and that some 500 employees would benefit.

QUOTA DEMANDS PERIL WORLD SUGAR PARLEY

LONDON, April 8.—(P)—The international sugar conference faced its first major problem to-night in adjustment of proposed quotas submitted by various countries.
All the 22 nations represented, except Poland, presented figures designed to show their "necessary" production needs.
The requested quotas were not disclosed. A newspaper said the conference was in danger of breaking up because the total figures exceeded the world requirements many times.

THREE MEALS A DAY

1 cupful chopped cold frankfurters, 4 or 5 slices bacon, tomato ketchup.

Place a layer of beans in a casserole and cover with a layer of meat. Repeat until you have three layers of beans and two layers of meat. Over top layer of beans pour a generous amount of ketchup and lay strips of bacon over top of ketchup. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes or until beans and meat are heated through and the bacon is a golden brown. Serves 4.

Baked Sausage With Kidney Beans.

(Serves 4.)
One pound sausage; 1 medium can oven baked red kidney beans. Form sausage into patties and brown in a skillet. Pour over them the beans and simmer on top of stove for 15 minutes, or bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 15 minutes. Place the beans in center of platter, surround with the sausage and garnish with small sprigs of parsley.

Quick Chili Con Carne.

1 pound ground beef.
1 tablespoonful butter.
1 onion, chopped.
1 medium can oven baked red kidney beans.
1 small can cream of tomato soup.

1-4 teaspoonful salt.
1-4 teaspoonful chili powder if desired.

Brown beef in skillet with butter and stir for several minutes. Pour soup over this. Add salt and chili powder. Simmer for 15 to 20 minutes. The chili powder may be omitted, if desired, and a dash of pepper substituted. Serve with baked potatoes or with boiled rice.

Baked Bean Fritters.

(Makes 10 to 12 fritters.)
2 eggs, separated.
1 medium can oven baked beans.
1-4 cupful sifted flour.
1-2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.

1-2 teaspoonful salt.
Beat egg yolks. Add beans, pepper, and flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. A small amount of onion may be added, if desired. Serve with tomato ketchup.

Baked Bean Patties.

2 cupfuls oven baked beans with pork and tomato sauce.
1 cupful dry bread crumbs.
2 eggs, slightly beaten.
2 tablespoonfuls butter, melted.
6 tablespoonfuls flour, dash of salt and pepper.

Worcestershire sauce.
1 teaspoonful scraped onion.
Mash beans finely, add bread crumbs, eggs, butter and flour. Season with salt and pepper, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and the scraped onion. Drop by spoonfuls into skillet having a quarter inch layer of hot fat. Fry on both sides until brown. Serve with or without tomato sauce.

Old Army Mule Wins Strike for 4-Hour Day
NEW YORK, April 8.—(P)—Settlement of a one-month "stand-in" strike was announced today by a Fort Totten army officer in favor of Jack, 24-year-old mule.
Jack struck for a four-hour working day.
"He probably figured that long as most of the work he now is being done by mule there was no use in extending himself in his old age," said Sergeant Major Foster, of Morcomery, Ala., who guessed Jack would live another 10 years.
No comment from Jack.

CHARLES G. DUNCAN, ATLANTAN, TO HEAD STATE MILK BOARD

Named by Rivers as Chairman of Newly Created Group.

Governor Rivers yesterday named Charles G. Duncan, Atlanta dairyman, director of the newly created Milk Control Board and our members of the board who will serve on it with Commissioner of Agriculture Columbus Roberts, who was named in the act creating the board.

The board members named are: Schley Thompson, manager of the Buckhead branch of the Fulton National bank; George A. Jankin, of Augusta, and Macon; Glenn Holcomb, of Decatur, and Mrs. J. Y. Conn, of Thomasville. Commissioner Roberts represents the producers, Thompson represents consumers, Holcomb represents the Co-operative Marketing Association, and Mrs. Conn represents the producer-distributors.

Regulates Production.
The board is expected to hold its first meeting in a few days. It will regulate the production and distribution of milk in areas where those interested in the industry desire it. There will be milk sheds set up at various points where the board considers the sheds necessary.

Director Duncan is a native of Jundilla and has been living in Atlanta nearly 20 years. His appointment was recommended by Commissioner Roberts, who said he has been in the dairy industry for the last 17 years.

Governor Rivers earlier in the day gave the oath of office to the newly created State Contractors Board, Chairman W. Fred Scott, of Thomasville, and Board Members W. L. Cobb, of Decatur, and William Beckham, of Perry.

Chairman Scott said that the board planned to hold a meeting in a few days to set up rules and regulations for contractors. Only contractors working on jobs of $15,000 or more come under the scope of the board.

The Governor during the day also gave the oath of office as a member of the Board of Regents to J. Knox Gholston, Comer business leader. Gholston is one of the four new state-at-large regents named by the Governor under the terms of a bill enacted by the legislature last month.

Commissioners Take Oath.
One of the Governor's first acts following his return from a vacation was to administer the oath of office to four members of the new State Athletic Commission.

They were Ralph McGill, sports editor of The Atlanta Constitution, chairman; Bobbie Norris, sports editor of the Macon Telegraph; Lester F. Elliott, Augusta mortician, and L. C. Burns, Savannah railroad man.

Dr. J. C. Mahaney, Columbus physician, fifth commission member, is expected to take the oath today.

Rivers said he is considering appointment of Major Clark Howell, president and publisher of The Atlanta Constitution, and L. W. (Chip) Robert, secretary of the national Democratic committee, as two of the three citizen members of the new State Radio Commission which controls the state-owned station WGST.

Appointment of Major Howell and Robert, Rivers said, will depend upon a ruling by the attorney general on whether they can serve on both the commission and the Board of Regents, of which both are already members.

described by Hexter in a statement last night as "mutually satisfactory" to the company and employees.

His statement follows:
"We are happy over the arrangement bringing the strike to an end on terms mutually satisfactory to ourselves and our employees."

"Conferences have been conducted in a spirit of sympathetic understanding and fairness on both sides. Little difficulty was encountered in adjusting differences after the conferences got under way, thanks to the splendid efforts of Mr. J. A. Harper, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades."

7 Fighters Imported To Overcome Reds

RIVERSIDE, Cal., April 8.—(AP)—Seven little bugs from South Africa are being groomed here in the hope they will become the progenitors of millions of enemies of the red scale, pest of California citrus groves.

The bugs, known as habroloepis, were trapped in South Africa by Harold Compere, noted entomologist, discoverer of the Australian mealy bug which has proven an effective control for other scale.

against whom charges may be preferred. This was true also, he said, of the matter of denying seats to delegates. As to the demand for moving offices of state federation headquarters, he said there is no requirement either that the state body have offices nor is there any provision for saying who shall determine their location if the organization has offices.

"We defy anyone," Petry said, "to show where, by word or deed, we have been anything but friendly to the American Federation of Labor," adding that the "we" included himself and Nance.

HOWARD DENIES GREEN AUTHORITY

INDIANAPOLIS, April 8.—(AP)—Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union, flatly "denied" the authority of the American Federation of Labor to order the removal of A. Steve Nance as president of the Georgia Federation in a telegram to William Green, A. F. of L. president, today.

Green had said he asked Nance's resignation because of asserted activity in the Committee for Industrial Organization, "outlawed" by the federation.

"Nance is a member in good standing of International Typographical Union, which organization is affiliated with American Federation of Labor," Howard telegraphed Green in Washington, D. C. "He was elected president of Georgia Federation for specified term and so long as he remains member of international union affiliated with American Federation of Labor I deny your authority to force his removal."

"The International Typographical Union will resist any effort to disqualify its members to hold office in state and central bodies or any attempt of federation to dictate by whom our members shall be employed. Blacklisting of union members should be left to union-hating employers."

"Am unable to find any provision federation constitution which justifies your action."

The typographical union head previously had declared Green himself was "ineligible" to hold the office of president of the A. F. of L. after learning of Nance's requested resignation.

Howard said that Green is a member of the United Mine Workers of America, "a suspended union," and that the federation constitution "provides that, no member of suspended union shall be eligible to hold office."

ATLANTA HOSPITALS TO DISCUSS GEORGIA GROUP PROTECTION

Hospitalization Corporation To Seek Charter Within Two Weeks, Barker Says.

A state charter for a group hospitalization corporation in Atlanta probably will be asked in the next two weeks, it was announced yesterday by W. D. Barker, president of the Atlanta hospital council and superintendent of the Georgia Baptist hospital, who said also that plans were in progress looking to the setting up of such a group.

The group hospitalization plan was authorized under an act of the 1937 general assembly, providing that such corporations be operated under regulation by the State Insurance Commissioner and the State Department of Health. Barker said boards of Atlanta hospitals represented on the Atlanta hospital council would be asked to send representatives to a meeting to be held shortly, if the several boards approve the plan. Steps toward obtaining a charter would begin at this meeting.

Grady hospital will not be associated in the corporation, since it is a municipal institution handling charity cases exclusively, Barker explained.

Provisions in the state law, requiring that each such corporation shall be operated on a non-profit basis, permit assessment of dues on members, probably to be fixed at between $6 and $10 per year. The member would be entitled to a reasonable amount of hospitalization when required. Present plans call only for providing hospitalization insurance for bread-winners, but the plan might be enlarged later to include such service for their dependents.

CHAMBER TO PUSH U. S. BUILDING PLAN

Resolutions Pledging Full Aid of Body Passed by Directors.

Active support of the move to have the federal government purchase the old city hall site, together with the remainder of the block on Walton street, for the purpose of erecting a building to house the many government activities in the city, has been taken by the board of directors and the Industrial Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Resolutions pledging aid to "push the matter forward aggressively, both through personal appearance of board members in Washington and by securing the support of other organizations of Atlanta" were passed yesterday. In Washington Senators George and Russell and Representative Ramspeck are urging action by congress to insure the erection of a building to cover the entire block at an early date.

ALLEGED SLAYER TRIAL DATE SET

Negro To Face Jury April 20 for Murder of Tea Salesman.

Trial of Mayfield Turner for the alleged murder of J. R. Roberts, Atlanta tea salesman, on December 17, 1935, has been placed on the criminal court calendar for April 20.

Robbery has been definitely established as the motive, Calvin Cole, special investigator for the solicitor's office, said yesterday after talking to Mrs. Roberts. When the salesman was found dead, sitting in his automobile at the rear of his Fourth street home, his pocketbook was missing. His wife has been unable to determine how much money it contained.

Turner was recognized by a street car operator when he entered a trolley several weeks after the murder. He was carrying a shotgun at the time. The operator stopped the car and called police, but the negro got away. He was arrested last August and indicted last fall.

Robert Alexander, his alleged companion, was indicted by the grand jury Tuesday after police announced they had obtained a signed confession from him.

STATE PAY ROLL FRAUD LAID TO 2 TENNESSEANS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 8.—(P)—Charles King, former state highway maintenance engineer here, and Robert Wooltorton, his chief clerk, were indicted by the Hamilton county grand jury today in connection with an alleged state pay roll fraud.

King was released on bonds totalling $5,500. Wooltorton made bonds amounting to $3,500.

GRAND JURORS PLAN PAWNBROKING QUIZ

Probe To Seek Possible Link Between Brokers and Underworld.

Investigations into alleged connections of pawnbrokers with the underworld and of various phases of county government administration will be begun by Fulton grand jurors at their regular session this morning.

The probe of pawnbrokers is the outgrowth of a series of instances where thieves have pawned stolen property and then, when the rightful owner has claimed the article, the pawn broker has demanded payment of the amount of money he has loaned.

A special committee of grand jurors met with commissioners Wednesday and discussed possibility of the city and county together employing a government expert to make surveys of the two governments and make recommendations concerning the advisability of combining them, or at least eliminating overlapping functions.

At the meeting this morning, attended by all jurors and commissioners, each juror will be afforded the opportunity to ask any question he wishes cleared in his mind. Lewis C. Gregg, foreman, declared.

County finances and the purchase of high priced automobiles will also be among principal items for discussion.

Foreman Gregg has announced that the grand jury wishes to confer with department heads and seek their promise to make needed changes, rather than to condemn officials in presentations.

All commissioners and their guests have been invited to have breakfast at Bellwood prison camp this morning.

DANCE PROMOTER EXPLAINS BACKING

C. Winfield Jones Says Affair Is Not Confederate Sponsored.

A statement declaring the Confederate Memorial Day ball "was promoted by the United States War Veterans alone" and that it was "not a Confederate affair or sponsored by any Confederate organization" was issued yesterday by C. Winfield Jones, state organizer of the veterans' organization.

Jones, a former federal prohibition agent, and J. W. Bostain, of a Flora avenue address, were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and swindling and cheating, following alleged complaints the affair was being advertised as a benefit for Confederate veterans. Jones and Bostain will be arraigned in recorder's court tomorrow.

Jones's statement said in part: "Citizens bought tickets in good faith. They were offered for sale in good faith. A deposit has been paid to reserve the ballroom, with the balance due before the ball is held, and of course we must hold the ball and will do so."

RETAIL BEER SELLERS ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION

Formation of the Atlanta Retail Beer & Wine Dealers' Association was announced last night by Ed Lindsey, president.

The association adopted resolutions to "elevate and maintain higher standards of dispensing beer and wine and co-operate with city and state authorities."

P. C. Theos was elected secretary at the organization meeting. The next meeting will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at 896 Gordon street. All retail dispensers of beer and wine are invited to attend, Lindsey said.

CITY BOND PREMIUM FIGHT PUT IN COURT

Commissioners Seek Mandamus to Force $57,000 in Retirement Fund.

City bond commissioners yesterday filed petition for mandamus in Fulton superior court seeking an order requiring council to set aside a special fund to be used to retire the Atlanta sewer bond issue.

The court action was brought to force the mayor and council, Comptroller Graham West and Treasurer H. B. Kennedy to return to the sinking fund moneys diverted by former Mayor Key and the 1936 council from this to the general funds of the city.

Citizens of Atlanta voted in September, 1935, to float a $1,500,000 bond issue, $1,000,000 of which was to be used for constructing sanitary sewers and $500,000 for putting in storm water lines. This bond issue was sold at the premium price of $92,000, the petitioners set forth.

Approximately $35,000 has been used for purposes set out under terms of the bond issue, but last year the council transferred the remaining $57,000 to the general fund. The bonds were issued on 30-year terms with so much to be retired each year.

Petitioners are J. H. Ewing, chairman of the bond committee; George W. Powell and E. A.

Wechendorf, members. Hearing was set for April 25 before Judge Paul S. Etheridge.

City officials contend that the diversion of this sum will have no effect on the ability to pay the bonds as due, that the money is still available, the only difference being it is held in the general fund deposit.

HOURS OF LEISURE?
YES

When you buy Merita Cakes you buy priceless hours of leisure—hours for your children, for your hobby, or for your very own to do with as you please. For the open sesame to a magic, new method of baking a cake without ever going into the kitchen is just to say "MERITA" to your grocer. Try this new aid to crowded hours the next time you go to bake a cake.

FREEDOM FROM WORRY?
YES

Did Louis or Francois tell you there were tiny lines around your eyes the last time you visited your beauty salon? Here's one worry that need never cause them again—cake baking! What woman hasn't worried over recipe, ingredients, oven heat, frostings, when baking a cake. Just try this magic way to bake. Say "Merita" to your grocer, that's all there is to it.

ACTUAL COST SAVINGS?
YES

Do Merita Cakes actually save you money when compared to those baked at home? Of course they do, and you can prove it. Get out your pencil and add up the cost of eggs, milk, butter, flavoring, flour, heat—then look at Merita's price for those same things baked in a delectable cake. Your answer will surprise you.

FINEST INGREDIENTS?
YES

Of course, the economy of Merita Cakes wouldn't be at all important if they weren't made of the very finest ingredients. But they are. The very finest creamery butter in quarter-pound sticks, natural fruits, pure flavors, selected eggs, rich milk, bar chocolate—everything in your Merita Cake is of superlative quality and every ingredient is approved by Mrs. S. R. Dull.

COX TELLS HOUSE SIT-DOWN STRIKES ARE COMMUNISTIC

Georgian Urges Labor to Purge Ranks of Advocates of Tactics.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Characterizing as "Communist" sit-down strikers who have been menacing industry in various sections of the country, Representative Eugene E. Cox, of Georgia, today urged adoption of the Dies resolution for a thorough investigation of this new strike weapon employed in recent C.I.O. strikes.

The house killed the resolution by taking it.
Judge Cox, a member of the house rules committee, which reported the resolution to the floor, joined hands with another Georgian, Senator Walter F. George, who, last Friday, condemned the sit-down strike as an unlawful practice and urged adoption of Senator Byrnes' amendment to the Vinson-Cuffey coal bill, which would have expressed a national policy opposed to such strikes. The Byrnes amendment was defeated.

Representative Cox agreed with Senator George that no one should be opposed to declaring against sit-down strikes merely because of a lack of power in congress to legislate against them.

Would Place Blame.
"The Dies resolution," he declared, "rests upon the assumption that the sit-down strike which involves the holding of other people's property without their consent and against their will, is unlawful. The proposal is to investigate the cause of such strikes and place responsibility, in order that the public may be informed and the basis laid for legislation, either state or federal, probably both, as some such practices may come within the jurisdiction of one sovereign and some the other."

"But aside from all this, a moral responsibility rests somewhere and upon somebody to speak up and condemn this form of lawlessness that threatens the peace and security of the nation, and it might as well be here and upon this body as any other."

Seizure Is Trespass.
"No member should vote for this resolution who believes that the laborer, in the enforcement of his demands, has the legal right to seize and hold the property of their employer in an effort to force compliance with his demands. But for those who think such a seizure is trespass when used for purposes of compulsion, and is contrary to law and good morals, there should be no hesitation, but each should be eager to express himself and thereby place this branch of the congress on the side of law and order."

"There is nothing in the resolution that is not in the law."

be sure of yourself with a clear SKIN from WITHIN

SSS TONIC
A SKIN that glows naturally bespeaks radiant health beneath... it is alive... stays fresh! So, be good to your skin from within and it will be good to you. The reason for this is quite simple... skin tissues must have an abundance of red-blood-cells to aid in making the skin glow... to bring color to your cheeks... to build resistance to germ attacks.

It is so easy for these precious red-blood-cells to lose their vitality. Worry, overwork and undue strain take their toll. Sickness literally burns them up. Improper diet retards the development of new cells. Even a common cold kills them in great numbers.

Science, through S.S.S. Tonic, brings to you the means to regain this blood strength within a short space of time... the action of S.S.S. is cumulative and lasting.

Moreover, S.S.S. Tonic whets the appetite. Foods taste better... natural digestive juices are stimulated and finally the very food you eat is of more value. A very important step back to health.

You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Tonic to regain and to maintain your red-blood-cells... to restore lost weight... to regain energy... to strengthen nerves... and to give to your skin that natural healthy glow.

Take the S.S.S. Tonic treatment and shortly you should be delighted with the way you feel... and have your friends compliment you on the way you look.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build sturdy health by restoring deficient red-blood-cells and it is time-tried and scientifically proven.

lution that is unfriendly to labor except where labor favors the employment of illegal weapons in the effort to enforce rights, and this labor does not do. It is freely said that the sit-down strike is the result of alien influences in the ranks of labor.

Urges Expulsion.
This I do not know, but I do know that the cause of labor demands the immediate expulsion from its ranks of all who preach lawlessness, for no organization can live or ought to live, that flagrantly violates the rights of others or contemptuously defies the law. These Communist sit-down strikers should turn to the record of railway labor for a lesson from which they could profit. "This talk about being against the resolution because of a lack of power in the congress to legislate with respect to the evil is a mere pretense of concern in the maintenance of state rights. Gentlemen who take this position today will tomorrow contend that the federal government should go into the states and exercise police powers which are peculiarly the prerogatives of local government."

Put Yourself On Record.
The opposition to this measure arises out of a disinclination to displease labor, and everybody knows it.
"The resolution presents an opportunity to the membership of this house to stand up and be counted either on the side of law and order or on the side of a government by lawless mobs."

Judge Cox was loudly applauded by many of his colleagues during the 10 minutes he occupied the floor.

TWO POLITE BANDITS THANK THEIR VICTIMS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8.—(P) Police sought two gentlemanly bandits today.

The pair, whose victims said acted "more like Sunday school boys than criminals," are wanted in connection with four holdups last night.

Their operations were interspersed with "beg pardons" and "thank you's."

Police said the pair cruised about the city in an automobile for two hours, robbing motorists and pedestrians of jewelry and cash.

TRAFFIC LAW BOOK IS BEING COMPILED

Motor Club To Distribute Regulations Free to Atlanta Motorists.

Publication of a booklet giving all traffic laws and regulations in the city for free distribution to Atlanta motorists in the near future was announced yesterday by the Atlanta Motor Club.

The organization adopted resolutions requesting the city to paint center lines on all main thoroughfares and the state highway board to do likewise on all paved highways.

Robert P. McLarty was re-elected president of the club, and Major General George Van Horn Moseley and George Winship were named vice presidents. Sherrard Kennedy will serve as treasurer and C. B. Bishop as secretary-manager of the local organization of the American Automobile Association.

The following board of directors was selected: Dr. M. L. Brittain, Ernest G. Beaudry, Mike Benton, Scott W. Allen, Major Clark Howell, Harrison Jones, J. Sherrard Kennedy, N. Baxter Maddox, Robert P. McLarty, G. Everett Millikan, B. C. Milner, Wiley Moore, Major General Moseley, Fred Patterson, Herbert Porter, J. R. Regnas, John E. Smith, B. F. Vinson, Jere Wells, Russell R. Whitman, C. C. Wittaker, George Winship and Goodloe Yancey.

More drivers have taken the AAA drivers' test here than in any of the 30 other cities where the equipment has been exhibited, it was announced.

SIT-DOWN INQUIRY KILLED BY HOUSE

chinery department and an equal number of office workers.

Premier Warns Strikers.
Premier Hepburn called John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization "outside agitators" and said that strikers would not receive relief.

Although the Oshawa strike was not a sit-down, Hepburn said "The entire resources of the province will be utilized if the occasion warrants to prevent anything in this country resembling that which is taking place across the line due to the failure on the part of constituted authorities to take adequate action."

Possibility of repercussions in the United States was seen when Hugh Thompson, organizer of the U. A. W. at Oshawa, declared that if General Motors of Canada brings "even one car" across the border during the strike, the union will call another walkout in all General Motors plants in the United States.

Home Martin, youthful president of the U. A. W. who was at Lansing for final Hudson peace conferences, indicated he may fly to Oshawa.

Ford Next Objective.
As 60,000 workers of the Chrysler company began to return to their jobs under a settlement negotiated by Governor Murphy, the United Auto Workers marked the great Ford plants as their next objective.

In an interview at Pittsburgh, Lewis said organizers were enrolling Ford employees and added: "Mr. Ford's River Rouge plant in times past has been an arsenal—and still is today—all of which, however, will not gain him the end he seeks."

Lewis asserted within 60 days the membership of his C. I. O. would exceed the 2,250,000 member A. F. of L. and held it would mean that "C. I. O. has become the representative labor organization of America."

Thorough Operation.
Heeding Henry Ford's statement that he will "never recognize the United Automobile Workers," the union planned to organize the Ford plants thoroughly before attempting to deal with Ford himself.

With agreements already signed with two of the automotive "big three"—General Motors and Chrysler—Ford became the next natural objective.

The nation's employers were given assurance by Lewis that their plants are safe against strikes as long as they have a contract with the C.I.O. Lewis told reporters "the CIO stands for punctilious observance of contracts."

CIO Contract Protection.
"But we are not losing any sleep where employers refuse to recognize the well-defined principles of collective bargaining," he warned. "A CIO contract is adequate protection for any employer against sit-downs, laydowns or any other kind of strike. Our contracts provide a way to discipline workers who violate an agreement."

At Hershey, Pa., where non-union workers and farmers routed 300 sit-down strikers from the Hershey Chocolate Corporation plant, "cleanup crews" of 250 men were at work preparing the plant for resumption of operations.

"No one has lost his job or her job," said President F. R. Murrie. "We will take back all strikers if they want to go to work."

Governor Earle, of Pennsylvania, ordered an investigation to "fix responsibility" for the Hershey sit-down.

ONE-DAY STRIKE SETTLED.

Driving Contest In Real Traffic Planned Today

An outdoor drivers' contest, the first of its kind ever to be held in this section of the country, will be staged here at 11 o'clock this morning.

C. B. Bishop, secretary of the Atlanta Motor Club, announced yesterday.

Drivers will be required to drive their cars over a route laid out through city traffic south of the Biltmore hotel. They will be required to park, drive between obstacles, halt suddenly, reverse around corners and perform various other maneuvers involved in actual driving. Examiners will ride around the entire course with the driver to check his ability and to determine his final score.

The tests will start at the Atlanta Motor Club headquarters in the Biltmore.

SALARY LIST LAW REPEALER OFFERED

House Leaders Support Representative Doughton's Resolution.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(UP) Repeal of a law which forces the treasury to make persons earning $15,000 or more annually the target of "prying pools" and unscrupulous "sucker list" promoters appeared imminent as house leaders today united behind a move to scrap the two-year-old statute.

The offending measure is part of the internal revenue act and requires the treasury make a report to congress of all persons earning $15,000 or more annually and the full amount of their salaries. These names then are made public by the house ways and means committee.

Today the chairman of the committee, Representative Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, described the publicity provision of the act as a "nuisance," insisted that it "doesn't benefit anyone," and announced he had introduced a resolution to repeal it.

Doughton said he has not consulted the treasury but indicated he did not expect opposition from this quarter to his proposal.

Speaker of the House, Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, promptly threw his full support behind Doughton's resolution. He predicted it would have "considerable support" in the house.

CLYDE BEATTY FREED OF CRUELTY CHARGES

NEW YORK, April 8.—(P)—Charges Clyde Beatty, animal trainer, resorted to cruelty in the mastering of his performers, were dismissed by Magistrate Anthony F. Burke today.

Beatty was arrested yesterday on complaint of Humane Inspector Jacob Jacobs and was released under $500 bail pending hearing today.

Beatty did not take the stand, but told reporters: "I defy anyone to hurt those animals and get away with it. They just wouldn't stand for it."

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 9, 1937.

BY ALL MEANS, GET DR. REED

Every individual who lives in Fulton county, both inside and outside of the city of Atlanta, carries the unnecessary burden of two local governments.

To make conditions worse, those two governments are in an almost constant state of dispute with each other. One row is hardly settled before another begins. It is an intolerable situation and one that must be remedied eventually. The sooner, the better it will be for every citizen of the community.

It has been proposed that a survey of the city and county governments, with a view to merger of overlapping functions, be undertaken by Dr. Thomas H. Reed, head of the consultant service of the National Municipal League.

Dr. Reed is recognized as the outstanding authority on municipal service in America today. He is a specialist on municipal ills, a practicing physician for cities and counties who has given treatment to many ailing governments and who has never yet lost a patient.

The Chamber of Commerce has offered to bring Dr. Reed to make a survey of the governmental functions and activities of the city of Atlanta and Fulton county. Employment of Dr. Reed by a nonpartisan body, completely divorced from either of the affected governments, forestalls criticism on the basis of bias.

That there is serious overlapping of functions and that a merger of the city and county governments, or at least of some of their functions, would prove of far-reaching benefit is undeniable.

Today the city and county governments are engaged in an inglorious dispute as to which shall contribute most to the necessary support of our unfortunate citizens on the relief rolls.

There is another bitter argument under way as to the distribution of expense of maintenance of the new sewer system now being constructed with the aid of the federal government.

It is only one week ago since the action of Chief Mathieson, of the county police force, in ordering an end to wild chases of suspected law violators through the city streets, removed what was fast developing into another serious cause for disagreement.

Possibility of a new wrangle over the county's contribution for the support of Grady hospital has been evident since passage of the ordinance placing control of that institution in the hands of council and completely emasculating the authority of the board of trustees.

These are only examples of the constant series of quarrels and disputes and disagreements that make local government unnecessarily onerous to the people of the city and the county.

Overlapping of function is self-evident. Details of that overlapping can best be secured by such a survey as that proposed under the direction of Dr. Reed.

When the survey is completed and its results made known, the people should demand an end to a condition which has long since passed the objectionable stage and become intolerable.

Jacksonville, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and scores of other cities have demonstrated the advantages of businesslike management of their affairs. Atlanta will be deliberately blind if she does not force similar administration of public affairs here.

FIRE WE HAVE LEARNED TO DREAD

Discussion by Norman H. Davis, unofficial "ambassador" of President Roosevelt, of the proposal that another economic conference be held in the hope of allaying the growing menace of war in Europe, should be watched with care by the American government.

The purpose back of the visit of Mr. Davis to the European capitals cannot be criticized. Any movement which may, in any degree, contribute toward the avoidance, or outlawing, of war calls for wholehearted support and encouragement.

But America will not forget the ever-present danger she faces when she enters conferences with the European powers, no matter how praiseworthy and altruistic the purpose of those conferences may be.

Economic conferences of the past, trade treaties and agreements to outlaw war have, too often, proven abortive and entirely barren in the result desired.

Too often it has developed that the primary motive of the representatives of other nations present at those conferences has been to inveigle the United States into political and financial alignment with one or the other group of the divided European nations.

America, it is said, has never yet "won a conference."

Too much care cannot be exercised to safeguard our independence from all foreign entanglements before we agree to sit in on any parley of world powers, regardless of the ostensible purpose of such a meeting.

A FINE SUGGESTION

A wide ribbon of concrete, a superhighway, winding its way in long sweeping curves from Atlanta to Warm Springs and the "Little White House," Georgia home of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Gently sloping shoulders of green, with trees containing all the natural beauty of Georgia's arboreal loveliness, bordering that highway.

Glimpsed between the leaves and blossoms of the trees, well-kept, neat and attractive homes. Distant vistas of gently rising hills and nearer views of attractive churches, schools and other edifices.

Such is the vision that has inspired the movement to make the Atlanta-Warm Springs highway a perpetual, growing memorial to President Roosevelt, the "good neighbor" of his fellow citizens of this state, his "other home."

It is a vision that can come true. Plans are already under way and there is every indication they will be pushed to completion.

The Fulton county commission this week unanimously passed resolutions indorsing the project and asking the State Highway Board to widen and resurface the present bad stretch of road between Red Oak and the Coweta county line, and to widen and slope the shoulders of the entire route.

Civic organizations all along the highway are interested and are working for the completion of the plan. Women's clubs, civic clubs and other organizations can be depended upon to assure the planting of trees all along its length. It is expected that other states and even foreign nations will wish to donate trees to be planted along this ever-growing memorial to a great President.

All property owners have been, or will be, requested and, if need be, aided to beautify their areas and their homes bordering the highway. The work will not be complete until every foot of road, every vista along its length, is a view of beauty and a worthy unit in the whole.

The value of the project to Georgia cannot be overestimated. Given such a highway to invite, there is scarcely a visitor to the state who will not wish to see the "Little White House." The story of the memorial highway and its loveliness will redound to the credit of Georgia wherever automobiles travel.

Such an example, too, would inevitably inspire the cities, the residents and the organizations who live along other highways of the state to do likewise. It might easily become the seed from which shall grow a system of beautified arteries of travel that will send the fame of Georgia throughout the world.

Georgia has all the natural beauty bounteous nature could bestow. All that is needed is to display that beauty to best advantage along the show windows of the state, its highways.

THE NEED FOR MORE RURAL HOSPITALS

The gift of $50,000 by a Macon citizen and former resident of Hawkinsville to Pulaski county to be used in equipping a hospital is an outstanding example of public spirit.

Many sections of Georgia are lacking in hospitalization and it is about time the counties were doing something about it. If the constitutional amendment providing that counties may levy special taxes for hospitalization for the poor is passed in June, it is likely that many more hospitals will be constructed.

Only a very few counties in Georgia could afford to build and operate a hospital. But if several contiguous counties join together to have a common hospital—the cost to be prorated according to population and financial resources—several much-needed hospitals might be established. It is well to have at least one good hospital to serve territory within a radius of 40 or 50 miles.

Pulaski county is to be congratulated on the new hospital to serve its people. It must, indeed, be a good community for one of its former residents to be willing to give so large a sum for this purpose.

A psychiatric clinic at Bellevue hospital announces boldly that Dillingham is a sissy, thus clinching the March medal for fearlessness.

In the days when a woodshed stood behind the American home, a sit-down of school children, as at Akron, could have been painful.

A cable report says "Venice is flooded," which is a little like hearing that Spaniards have got into their own war.

A prehistoric oyster shell, four feet long by three feet wide, has been unearthed in Texas, which is the more remarkable as there is no "r" in Texas.

The New York World's Fair is still in quest of novelty. If it can't land a notary public without seal, it might try for an unphotographed Miami blonde.

Italians in Spain appear to be volunteers in the sense that a heavyweight boxing contender is yearning to fight.

A southern thief swallowed a $5 bill he had stolen, which certainly mixes up this whole question of property vs. human rights.

THE CONSTITUTION'S NEW DRESS

(From the Athens Banner-Herald)

The Atlanta Constitution with its slogan of being "The South's Standard Newspaper" came out Monday morning with a complete new dress and make-up. The new formation of The Constitution will be received in the homes of its subscribers with delight and pleasure for its easy-to-read type and the clearness of every letter.

The new dress is modern in every particular and one of the newest developments of the typographical art. The large size type makes it easy to read and restful to the eyes. In fact it is an ideal type size for news, feature stories and editorials. Another improvement in the make-up is that of setting the editorials in double column style. It emphasizes the importance of editorials and attracts the attention of the readers more readily than does the single column style.

In fact, The Constitution has gone on parade and made a show that gives the management just grounds for pride and its readers and friends should be appreciative of the advanced and enterprising movement inaugurated for their benefit at a great expense to the management of that newspaper.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON.

PLANNING. WASHINGTON, April 8.—In extreme secrecy, President Roosevelt has been fondling a new plan for the last two weeks. This time it relates to prices.

He has concealed it generally from congressional eyes. Federal Reserve Board and Treasury money-men have been consulted, but it is understood they did not originate it. The author is supposed to be one of Mr. Harry Hopkins' bright young men in WPA, and both Mr. Hopkins and Interior Secretary Ickes are behind it—if you can imagine that.

Details have been very successfully guarded, but one or two officials who have consulted the President have an idea it follows the price-line which Mr. Roosevelt has been hinting at in his last two press conferences. He is apparently disturbed about the recent increases in durable goods, including steel, where the price rise followed the new wage and hour arrangement effected by Mr. Lewis and the C. I. O.

The idea is said not to be drastic, but turns government spending away from bridges, dams, etc., into things like the Florida ship canal and Passamaquoddy, on the assumption that the prices of consumers' goods will thereby be stimulated.

ECONOMIC CONFUSION. The new Federal Reserve Board bond-buying policy was not an economic move, but a life preserver for Mr. Morgenthau. Despite all the many funds administered by the treasury secretary, he actually was short of ready money with which to support the bond market, in the face of the natural economic tide of increasing interest rates, commercial loans, commodity prices, and so on. This may be disputed with official figures, but is nevertheless true.

The step really runs counter to the economic theory of Federal Reserve policy. Chairman Eccles has put into effect two hoists in reserve requirements. He did it to keep prices down, to hinder inflation. The theory was that, by increasing the reserves required of banks, he could keep them from lending that money in the stock, commodity or business markets, where it might be used to make inflation boom.

But he ran counter to the policy of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, who was trying to make the banks carry the vast federal debt at low interest rates. Some banks had to sell their bonds in order to meet new reserve requirements. Whatever selling there was for this and other purposes hurt Mr. Morgenthau's bond market, blocked his game.

There is some talk now about Federal Reserve reducing the reserve requirements again so as to get out of Mr. Morgenthau's way, but the suggestion is premature, if not facetious.

The change undoubtedly represents only a temporary halt in Chairman Eccles' boom-control moves. If business keeps expanding and interest rates keep going up, what he will do is problematical. He says: "Balance the budget, not the economy, but really."

That appears to be not only an economic desirability, but a financial necessity.

SUM-UP. A very capable businessman was asked the other day the usual question of greeting: "Well, how do things look to you?"

His response was this story: "My mother once had an old negro cook. Dinah, whose husband was very ill. Mother went down to the kitchen one morning and asked Dinah how the husband was getting along. The reply was: 'Well, the doctor says he is improving, but Ah doesn't know whether it is for the better or for the worse.'"

SILHOUETTES

By RALPH T. JONES.

A puzzled tadpole in a pond
And a you and a hither,
His little rain was in a quandary,
Ary, in a dither.

He'd seen a sight to terror bring,
His brain was in a fog,
He'd seen a really awful thing,
A yellow, speckled frog.

The little tadpole didn't know
A frog, someday, he'd be;
And half-glanced visions scared him so—
Even as you and me.

She Hates,
With Bitter Agony.

She lives in a little house, on a little farm, far away from the city. She does her daily task and lives from day to day, from month to month, from spring to summer and fall and to winter. And there is a deep look of suffering in her eyes, a look as of bitter memory.

Whenever someone from the city pauses near her home she hides within the house and will not come out. She will peep from behind a door, though, and stare at the strangers with a gaze of utter hatred. Her look, at such times, is one of complete fear. After the visitors have gone there will be a dampness around her eyes, as of tears, but if anyone speaks in sympathy her response is resentful and her words are evil.

This is her story.

A Mother
And a Little Boy.

All her life she has been a countrywoman. She belongs, basically, to the soil and she is one with the growing things and the whispering trees and the little breezes that blow from beyond the hills.

She was born in the country, attended the little country school and in the white frame church was baptised. Later, in that little church, before the same old friend, the circuit preacher, she was married to the boy who had grown up with her, on the neighboring farm.

They bought their own acres and built their own small, unpretentious home and they were very happy.

Then the boy came. At his birth something happened. The doctor had to come a long way and he was delayed by another case, that night. There was no one there save her husband and her mother, an old woman who meant well but whose knowledge was chiefly superstition.

The boy was born all right, a fine, healthy child. But something happened to the mother and, afterwards, she was told she could never have another child. She lavished all the love of her deep spirit upon the boy. He was to her the glad symbol of all nature. She saw in him entire justification for her own being and she felt one with the warm, kind earth when she watched him at play, safely asleep or gravely poring over his school books.

A First Visit To the City.

When the boy was ten years old his father took him, and his mother, to the big city, 100 miles away, for a visit. It was the boy's first sight of the great works of man. The high buildings, the rushing traffic and the mingled noises confused and scared him.

But he was thrilled, too, and awed.

The three of them rode a street car out to the suburb where the relatives they were to visit, lived. And the mother knew her boy was a little frightened at the rushing vehicle, but she loved him the more because he hid his fear under a quiet, country reticence.

The second day they were in the city the mother and her son started to walk through the hurrying, noisy streets. They were country folk, unused to the rules and regulations of the town. They became confused. There was a mistake as to the red and green traffic lights. Shouts and a wild blaring of automobile horns. And a sudden, stricken scream.

The mother reached the sidewalk in safety. She turned and saw the broken form of her boy upon the concrete. Blood oozed slowly from the curls of his crushed head and a leg was twisted in horrible abnormality under the dead form.

The car that had hit him had gone, at accelerated speed, upon its way, its driver made a coward by horror at what he had done.

That's All
The Story.

That's all there is to the story. They carried the boy back to the hills and they buried him in one of the graves around the little country church.

The mother didn't cry, much. But through the succeeding years she has been uncannily quiet, always. And when the city folk pause by her door she runs and hides and peeps at them with awful hatred in her eyes.

For, to her, they are the city. The city with its noise and hurry and confusion. The city with its rushing traffic and the city with a little, mangled form lying inert and bleeding on its cold concrete.

Do you wonder she hates?

Twenty-Five Years Ago Today.

From The Constitution of Tuesday, April 9, 1912:

"The equipment for the new annex to the Grady hospital, which has been contracted for at a cost of approximately $20,000, will be installed in the new building within the next fifteen days, according to Superintendent Summerall."

And Fifty Years Ago.

From The Constitution of Saturday, April 9, 1887:

"Professor Agostini paid The Constitution a pleasant visit yesterday. He has just returned from a twelve months' visit to Maryland. He comes to re-open his dancing school here, and will be found at the Concordia hall this evening, where he will be glad to see his many friends."

Talmudic Tales

By DAVID MORANTZ.

NUMBER 611

Based upon the legends and philosophy found in the Talmud, which work contains the civil and canonical laws and traditions of the Jewish people, drawn back as far as 3,000 years.

(From time to time Morantz will answer in this column questions he has been asked on the religion, customs, ceremonies, institutions, etc., of the Jews.)

QUESTIONS I'VE BEEN ASKED.

Why do Jews fast on the Day of Atonement?

Because of the Biblical command, "Ye shall afflict your souls," Jews fast and abstain not only from all food but also all drink on the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) from the eve of the Day of Atonement until the next evening when three stars become visible.

Why do Jews keep a light burning throughout the entire night and day of Yom Kippur?

This is in memory of the departed ones.

What is the "Sabbath of Repentance?"

It is the Sabbath that occurs between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur during the solemn Ten Days of Penitence. In Hebrew it is called "Shabbos Shuvah" from the portion of the Prophets which is read on that day in the synagogue. That portion is taken from Hosea and begins with the Hebrew word "Shuvah," which means "Return." This is an exhortation to the people of Israel to return to God.

What is the "Sabbath of Sabbaths?"

It is the name by which Yom Kippur is referred to in the Bible, it being the holiest of all holy days to the red and green traffic lights. Shouts and a wild blaring of auto-

Fair Enough

By WESTBROOK PEGLER.

PLAYERS AND HAMS. WASHINGTON, April 8.—It will be hard to arouse any great popular sense of outrage over the down-trodden condition of the professional ball players, because theirs is a luxurious bondage by comparison with that of any other slaves except the moving picture hams.

Collective bargaining is absolutely out, and any players who attempted to organize a militant union movement would be taken out of the play by a conspiracy of the organized employers in a business which is rapidly concentrating in the hands of a few rich firms.

The minor leagues are being absorbed by the major league companies as training grounds for new players and live-storage plants for men of proved ability for whom there are no immediate vacancies in the big time. The entire industry operates under an agreement which amounts to a ruthless anti-labor policy on paper. In practice, however, the system is not very harsh and that is the reason why labor and the general public have never had any tears to spare for the athletes.

The patronage which supports baseball is drawn from the working classes and a labor boycott could smash the conspiracy in a single season, but labor has never taken any interest in the case because baseball is regarded as play, not toil, even under professional conditions.

As Representative Ray Cannon, of Milwaukee, remarked in a letter to Homer Cummings, the average pay of the athletes is much less than that of the stars whose salaries are revealed to the public as ballyhoo for the industry. And, with collective bargaining the average undoubtedly would be increased somewhat and the employers' conspiracy either dissolved or appreciably weakened.

INJUSTICE IS SHOWN. The worst injustice occurs where a good young player, without being consulted, finds himself sold to a cheap employer and compelled to accept the employer's terms year after year for service which might sell for twice as much in another city.

He may serve, 10 or 15 years with a cheap and stingy boss who has no policy, but to keep down his operating expenses and sell players to his more prosperous colleagues in better towns.

In these surroundings he has no chance, short of the miraculous, to share in a World Series pool and the years slip away from him while inferior men land with the Giants or Yankees, the Cubs, Tigers or Red Sox on better base pay and pick up from one to three or four World Series shares.

The owners' conspiracy forbids a player to shop around for a better job and an owner who wants to hire a man for much more money may be prevented by an exorbitant purchase price. So the player is the victim.

These are injustices beyond the power of Judge Landis to remedy. In fact, the judge is only a figurehead, being the employee of the owners, and league presidents are only stooges with less authority than the judge. They serve only as yes men and luncheon orators for the soulless corporations.

Should Use Showmanship. A dramatic case properly exploited by radical labor leaders in the name of collective bargaining, and with a derivative attack on organized labor as semi-civil status as the national game, could compel some concessions. But labor could tackle baseball only as a demonstration and not with any warmth, as the players' thralldom, even in the minor leagues, is an enviable state, particularly to the younger men of the country who make up the ranks of the sit-down movement.

The athlete may get only $30 a week, he may have family responsibilities, he may wear a patched and ragged uniform and his work may call him far from his home, subject to dismissal on 10 days' notice, but he gets his name in the papers and his job is just to play ball. Labor will be a long time squeezing a tear over the tragic injustice of that.

The main objection to the baseball conspiracy is its effrontery. Here is an industry which accepts and prospers by the sentimental status of the American national game, and arrogantly flouts all the principles for which the majority of its public is fighting on the picket lines. There is no other group of employers in the whole land who would have the gall to impose the same arbitrary conditions and indulge in the same open defiance of public opinion and still appeal for popular support.

(Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

Early Wage Laws

On March 30, 1852, a month of great historical significance in the labor movement neared an end. The Ohio legislature enacted the world's first law regulating the labor of women. It fixed 10 hours a day as the maximum for children under 16 and women.

Earlier in the month, Massachusetts had enacted the first child labor law, prohibiting those under 12 from working more than 10 hours a day.

There Never Was a Boy Fight for Which Your Boy Was to Blame

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

Senator La Follette got his first experience in shaping national opinion in the year 1924 when his father was a candidate for the presidency. He said the old gentleman was the ideal man for the job.

At that time La Follette Senior was in his 70th year. If he had been elected and blessed with ordinary luck, he would have finished his second term at 75.

Some days ago young Senator La Follette made another speech to inform his countrymen that men of 70 are mentally unfit to serve as justices of the supreme court.

Does this change of opinion indicate a want of sincerity? It does not. When Mr. Roosevelt, speaking as a candidate, said that any change which became necessary would be effected by amending the constitution, his devoted followers said that was the right way to do it.

When Mr. Roosevelt decided to save time and effort by appointing justices who would approve New Deal measures without an amendment, his devoted followers loyally changed their minds and declared the new way right.

MARKHAM DEFENDS CANAL FOR FLORIDA AT HOUSE HEARING

Damage to Water Supply Denied; Project Justified, He Says.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of engineers, placed his fluency squarely behind congressional efforts today to revive the suspended Florida ship canal.

Markham insisted, before the subcommittee on rivers and harbors committee, the project was feasible and would be completed. Questioned by committee members on various points of the canal, Markham held vigorously to his position that the government would be justified in spending $197,921,000 to complete it. He will continue his testimony tomorrow.

He said the canal, despite the adverse report of engineers, would not damage the state's underground water supply, and would have but little effect on adjacent ground water. Representative Beiler, Democrat, New York, produced a report in which the geological survey warned last year the canal might have serious adverse effects. But Markham was adamant.

"I assume the geological survey reported," he said, "that certain remises were true, certain other things would also be true." "Every boat that floats, of proportions, will use it," he said.

Markham said shippers were not interested, because they pay on a parity basis in the present route around the Florida keys. Therefore, he explained, the short route would not accrue to their benefit.

The same situation applies in the petroleum industry, he said, because any saving would be passed on to the consumer.

"The difference," he said, "will be to the public."

The general told the committee his report was not greatly at odds with that of the board of engineers. The two decisions, he explained, had to do with entirely different canals.

The board, arguing the water-

Teachers Forbidden To Dance or Smoke

ATHENS, Tenn., April 8.—(AP)—Athens' 34 school teachers, C. C. Hoback, school board member, said today, "can do anything they wish" except smoke, dance and visit roadhouses.

The new rules governing their conduct were adopted unanimously by the six-member board Tuesday night.

The ban did not include chewing tobacco or picture shows.

And for any teacher caught smoking, dancing or hanging around a roadhouse—well—Hoback said:

"I expect it would mean immediate dismissal. It would so far as I'm concerned. I can't speak for other members of the board."

Hoback added the restrictions were not aimed at any particular teacher.

way would be inadequate if its depth was less than 35 to 37 feet, placed the cost at $263,838,000. On that basis, it said the benefits would not justify the expenditure.

Markham's report said, however, a depth of 33 feet would be sufficient. He estimated the cost at $197,921,000.

Traffic Available.

They concurred on a width of 400 feet, and Markham told the committee there was no disagreement on the waterway's saving to vessels plying gulf waters. Nor need there be any speculation, he said, on the great potential traffic available to the canal.

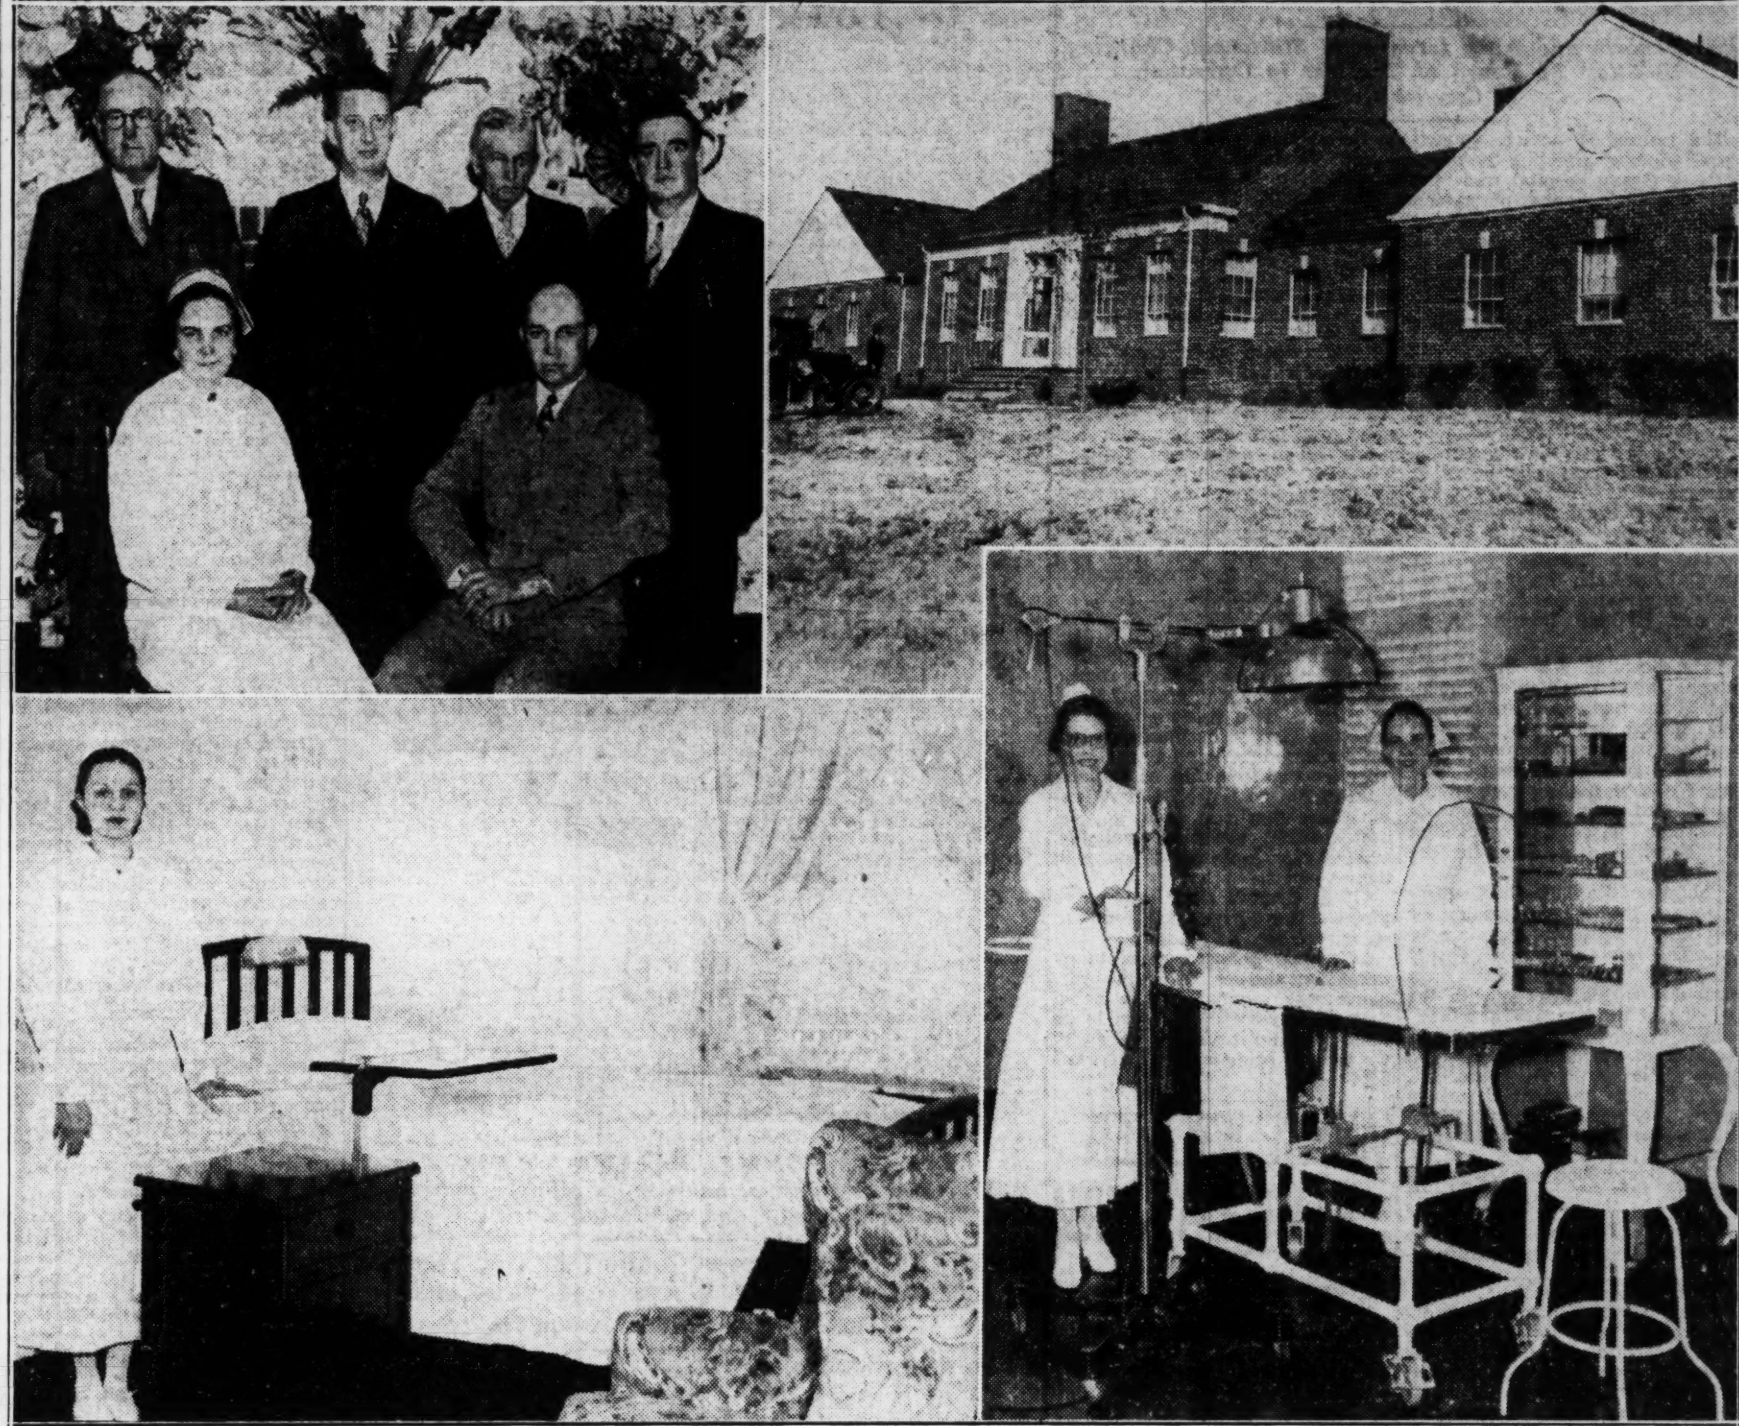

Markham told the committee there were four items which his report had not "capitalized" upon, yet were worthy of consideration:

That the canal would be of value to the nation in the event of war, that there would be a greater demand for a short route as the Gulf states' slash pine industry develops, that the Gulf commerce could be expected to increase one and one-half to two per cent annually, and that ships passing through the Florida straits run the risk of hurricanes. The annual loss, he said, is about $248,000.

NEVER RODE IN AUTO.

BURR OAK, Kas., April 8.—(AP)—Quaker funeral rites were arranged today for Levi Dillon, 82, a farmer who never rode in an automobile in his life and had been to town only once in the last 20 years—walking the seven miles there and back.

Hall County Opens Modern, Air-Conditioned Hospital Near Gainesville

Pictures of Hall county's new air-conditioned hospital, near Gainesville, which commissioners opened yesterday for the first time, thus providing hospital service for a dozen counties of northeast Georgia, are shown above. The hospital staff and commissioners are shown at the upper left. Seated, left to right, are Miss Irene Benjamin, superintendent, and Dr. R. L. Rogers, surgeon in charge. Standing, left to right, are W. F. Peck, commission chairman; R. G. McConnell and W. N. Lott, commissioners, and George W. Buice, commission clerk. At the upper right is the hospital building, showing the administration building, with private wards located in wings on either side. Miss Sally Simons, nurse, exhibits one of the large airy and modernly equipped private rooms at the lower left, while Nurses Alice Thompson, left, and Virginia Claire Stickley are seen at the lower right in one of the most modernly equipped operating rooms in Georgia.

HOSPITAL OPENED FOR HALL COUNTY

Ten beds will provide facilities for men and women in the projected negro unit.

The new, red brick building is located on a beautiful lot about a mile southwest of Gainesville on the Atlanta-Gainesville highway. It sits about 1,000 feet from the road and is flanked on all sides by spacious lawns, which are now being landscaped.

All doctors are invited to practice there by Dr. R. L. Rogers, the surgeon in charge, and Miss Irene Benjamin, superintendent. The administration offices are located near the entrance and to the right and left run wings which provide private hospital rooms, the maternity ward and nurses quarters. Towards the rear are other wings which include the operating rooms, the wards, sterilization plant and service departments.

The basement is occupied with air-conditioning and heating plants. All the rooms are beautifully appointed. All equipment is the most modern. The commission has worked on the project since the first of the year.

Built Four Years Ago.

The hospital building was constructed about four years ago for an almshouse, but a change in the program left the building idle since it was completed.

When the present commission, with McConnell as the only hold-over member, assumed office on January 1, it began immediately to convert the structure into a modern hospital under the spur of a desire to establish hospital facilities for this section of Georgia and a determined attempt to win the $3,500 first award in The Constitution's Progressive Government program.

"We are proud of the new hospital and of the benefit it will be to the citizens of our county and those in surrounding territory," McConnell said. "The commission has expended about $50,000 in the building and its furnishings and it stands as a monument to the progressive action of our commission. I am proud to have had a hand in making it a reality. Hall county is writing a fine record of achievement and other Georgia counties are going to have to hustle to keep pace."

"Hall county is proud of this contribution to the health and comfort of its people," Peck asserted. "The commission has done a good job, and it will offer new facilities for health and comfort to the citizens of this county as well as to those in neighboring counties."

Benefit to People.

"I am happy to have been identified in this progressive and constructive achievement," Commissioner Lott declared. "Hall county has long felt the need for adequate hospital facilities but until now we have been unable to provide them. The people of our county and those in other counties will get continuing, lasting and permanent benefits from this project. In addition, Hall county seems to me to have set the pace for other counties of Georgia in this awards competition."

George W. Buice, clerk of the commission, has been one of the most industrious workers for the project, and beamed his satisfaction that it is now in full operation.

In addition to Dr. Rogers and Miss Benjamin, the staff of nurses includes Miss Sally Simons, Miss Alice Thompson and Miss Virginia Claire Stickley.

CARRIER AUTHORIZED.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized William Henry McCrary, of Decatur, Ala., today to operate as a common carrier between points in Alabama and points in Mississippi, Tennessee and Georgia.

RICHMOND, Va., April 8.—(AP)—The will of the late Mrs. Florine B. Starke, probated today in chancery court, left the bulk of her $101,500 estate to her sister, Mrs. Nettie D. Wortham, of Macon, Ga.

Personal property accounted for $81,500 of the estate and approximately $20,000 was in real estate.

CHURCH HERE OUSTS PASTOR FROM PULPIT

This vote began shortly after 8 o'clock and was finally counted at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Adoption of the minutes lost by a count of 194 to 168.

Deacon Clark and Deacon Nichols led the attack on the minister, accusing him specifically with being "out of harmony" with the deacons. The Rev. Mr. McLarty replied he had no ill will in him for any one and that his only purpose had been to serve Jesus and save lost souls in the community. Repeatedly he warned his congregation that "some of you are going before morning" and urged them to purge themselves of their faults before that hour of death.

Other Dismissals.

The minister asked his congregation why "three other pastors have been run off by this church," several years ago. He had been minister of the church since February, 1934, it was said. Deacon Clark answered that one had visited houses of ill fame and another had resigned because of a difference of opinion on church doctrines, but that he did not know why the third left.

Clark charged the Rev. McLarty with being a "dictator" in connection with the pastor acting as moderator at the trial before the conference. McLarty said that "it has already been agreed upon that I should act as moderator."

Willie Clark, a junior deacon, accused the pastor of failing to recognize him when he rose to vote on a question at a previous meeting and stated that the pastor had told him once that he did not see him at another time he had seen him. During heated discussion before the pulpit the pastor called for the detectives to come forward and seat themselves at his side.

"You all know what the law says regarding disturbance of divine worship, beloved," he asserted. The pastor addressed his audience with this term frequently.

Deacon Nichols, in prayer, related that the pastor had brought dissension in the deacons' board at a prayer meeting some time ago. In later discussion, the deacon said the pastor had falsely accused him of man-handling the pastor. McLarty said "you did."

McLarty defended himself during the meeting. He and Tom Swafford, also a minister, said McLarty had visited the homes in the community and prayed for the people. "When you charge him with anything, you must charge also that he has served Jesus and preached the gospel of the blood," Swafford said.

Charlie Bandy, church secretary, said the final count on dismissing the pastor was 141 to 105.

G. H. WARREN TRIED IN CHASTEEN DEATH

Surprise Eyewitness Expected to Appear Today for State.

Two surprise eyewitnesses are expected to be called by the state today in an attempt to prove G. H. Warren, postoffice employee under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Bessie Chasteen and her son, Clarence, fired without justification the shots which killed the son.

Warren is facing trial in Fulton superior court before Judge Hugh M. Dorsey for the murder of Clarence Chasteen only. Assistant Solicitor E. E. Andrews, the prosecutor, severed the indictment and is not trying Warren for the murder of Mrs. Chasteen at this time.

As soon as the state rests its case this morning, Attorney Paul Carpenter for the defense has announced he will place Mrs. L. C. Hume, an eyewitness, on the stand to prove Warren fired only after Clarence had threatened him with a cold chisel. A plea of self-defense will be based around this testimony, the attorney said.

The trial is expected to continue tomorrow.

Grace and Rose Mary Chasteen, sisters of the dead man, were brought to Atlanta under guard yesterday from Birmingham to testify. Rose Mary's life has been threatened if she testifies, Andrews said. They both swore Warren came to the door and struck Rose Mary when she attempted to escort him out the door as Grace was not fully dressed.

Grace then joined the fight and also was struck by the defendant, they testified. Neither saw the actual shots fired, according to their statements. The trouble began when Warren came to the door at the request of tenants to quiet arguments between Grace and her mother, it was declared.

Other state witnesses said Clarence entered Warren's room after he came home with the announced intention of apologizing if his mother was at fault or "whipping" him if he had insulted his mother and sisters.

Warren is the owner of the apartment house at 66 Baker street, where the fatal shooting occurred on the night of December 25, 1936. He was released after a bond hearing on $5,000 bond.

COLLEGE PUBLICISTS WILL CONVENE TODAY

BALDWIN REVEALS BRITAIN MAY STUDY HULL ECONOMIC PLEA

Commons Told Coming Council Agenda Permits Discussion of Problem.

LONDON, April 8.—(UP)—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin told the house of commons tonight that Secretary of State Cordell Hull's plea for world economic cooperation to avert war might be taken up at the British imperial conference, to be convened soon.

A questioner asked Baldwin if, in view of Hull's suggestions in a New York speech Monday night, the British government would extend the conference agenda to include the American proposal.

"The agenda," Baldwin said, "is sufficiently wide to permit discussion of this question."

The imperial conference will be held after King George VI's coronation on May 12.

The Irish Free State has announced that it will boycott the conference.

Baldwin is expected to resign shortly after the conference, to be succeeded by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain.

Hull's cautious invitation for an economic settlement of world troubles which hold a constant threat of war were applauded tonight by David Lloyd George's council of action, which warned that unless England takes prompt action the "offer" might be withdrawn.

Grady Doctors Defend Ordinance As 'Only Way To Save Hospital'

Drs. Davison and Aven Issue Joint Statement Charging 'Politics' To Board of Trustees in Operation of City Institution.

The ordinance which council passed Monday affecting the operation of Grady hospital was "the only possible change of saving Grady from ruin, and of restoring it to its place as the servant of the people of Atlanta," Doctors T. C. Davison, chief of the Grady surgical staff, and C. C. Aven, of the visiting staff, asserted in a statement yesterday.

Issued during the morning, the release came prior to a compromise movement which was under way during the afternoon to mend the break between the city administration and the Grady board of trustees.

Text of Joint Statement. It follows: "The main trouble at Grady hospital has been the friction between Superintendent J. B. Franklin and Medical Director J. H. Hines.

"The hospital was first under the charities committee of council, which was bad. Then in 1931, it was placed under the present board of trustees, which was fine.

"It is a good board, wisely chosen. We have nothing against the board. But they have taken all the credit for the good work that Mr. Franklin has done for the past six years.

"Mr. Franklin is the best superintendent that Grady hospital or any other hospital in Atlanta ever had. The improvements at Grady during the past six years have been due to his efforts, with the backing of the board of trustees.

"But Councilman J. Frank Beck, member of the board of trustees, gives all credit to the board. Mr. Beck, it may be recalled, was a member of the old council committee that was found unsatisfactory.

"The board took over the hospital in 1931, presumably to get the affairs of the hospital out of politics. Now it appears that the board has been playing politics itself, a policy that has gotten Grady into its present situation.

"They put Mr. Hines in as medical director, and a medical director under certain circumstances is probably a good thing. But when it causes friction and discord it is a bad thing. Under the situation prior to the ordinance, the staff of Grady hospital has not known whom to obey.

"The board has gradually elevated Dr. Hines until he has now more authority than Mr. Franklin—until Mr. Franklin is embarrassed by the lack of proper authority.

"The board gave Mr. Franklin certain rules under which he was to run the hospital and then they made it impossible for him to follow these rules by elevating Dr. Hines to a position in which he superseded Mr. Franklin.

"It has been rumored recently that the trustees were attempting to force the resignation of Mr. Franklin. His time is up the last day in May, and the board had made no move to re-elect him or to assure him that he would be re-elected.

"The present ordinance changes all that, and he has been appointed for four years, with the consent of the board.

"This new ordinance simply gives him the powers that he was supposed to have had all along, but which he has not had.

"For several years Grady hospital has had what is called an executive committee, composed of the chiefs of each department, who acted in an advisory capacity to the board of trustees, and who were the go-between between the board of trustees and the medical staff.

"This committee, in January, was appointed for another year, and then suddenly, in March, the board of trustees in executive session abolished the executive committee and set up a new committee with Dr. Hines, secretary of the old committee, as chairman, and with only two other members besides Dr. Hines.

"This means that Dr. Hines has got Grady hospital in the palm of his hand.

"The mayor, an ex-officio member of the board of trustees, was not even invited to the meeting at which that action was taken.

"That was politics.

"Right then doctors saw how things were going and started some politics of their own. They started the movement that resulted in the passing of this ordinance.

"One function of the committee was to nominate the medical staff of the hospital. Under the new committee setup the heads of the departments did not even have the privilege of saying who the men should be who were to work under them.

"It is a well-known fact that visiting physicians and surgeons at Grady Hospital have issued orders for the treatment of patients, only to have those orders countermanded by Dr. Hines. Is that good hospital management?

"You hear talk of making Mr. Franklin a czar. Mr. Franklin is a layman, and never in the world would he take the responsibility of countermanding the order of a physician, or questioning the judgment of a doctor in the treatment of his patients.

"Mr. Dobbs is a staunch prohibitionist. He has dismissed doctors from the staff of the hospital for drinking.

"Yet when Mr. Franklin fired a drunken ambulance driver, Mr. Dobbs ordered him restored to duty.

"Is that good hospital management?

"We, and we represent the sentiment of the majority of the doctors who give their services to Grady Hospital, do not feel that the office of medical director is necessary. It costs the city of Atlanta approximately $5,000 per year, plus all living expenses, and in the present case it has worked to the detriment of the hospital instead of to its good.

"In closing, we would like to reiterate, the men for whom we speak do not want Grady Hospital placed back in the hands of council. Neither do we want a new board of directors. The mayor does not want that. The doctors do not want that.

"And when those who cry 'politics' begin their attacks on this ordinance as a piece of political maneuvering we would like to point out that Mr. Franklin has never given permission for the wife of a councilman to be treated at Grady hospital free on taxpayers' money, nor the wife of a policeman nor fireman nor any other city official who could well afford to pay for hospitalization at a private hospital.

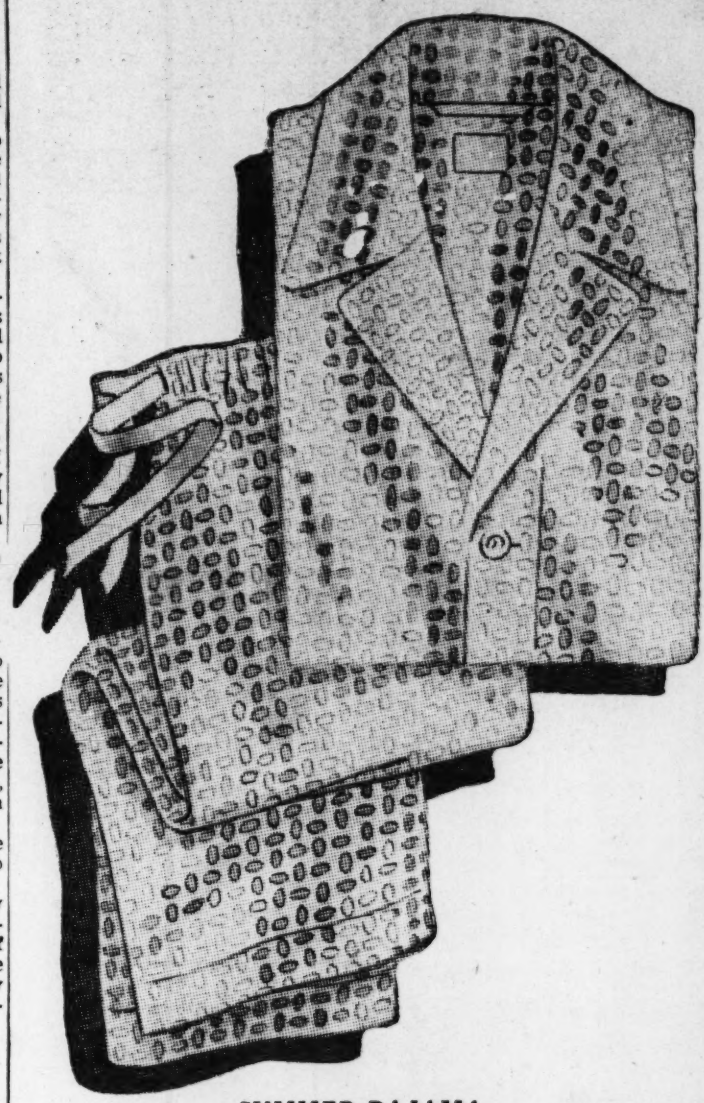

"But these things have been done under Dr. Hines.

"Our only interest, and the interest of the doctors we represent, and the only interest of Mayor Hartsfield in this matter is to see that Grady hospital is once more allowed to function as it was intended that it should, as the hospital of the poor people of Atlanta, where they can go to get the best medical attention available, even if they have not a penny in their pockets.

"It is Grady's duty to serve them. They have not been so served under Dr. Hines.

"We may be accused of many things, but the passage of this ordinance was secured in the belief that there were great evils to be remedied and it was the only way we saw to bring about that remedy."

Sleep in the Raw--- You'll Wake Up Cooked

SUMMER PAJAMA
This zephyr pajama, bearing an all-over pattern, is cool, "air-conditioned," and comfortable.

Summer Pajamas Increase Comfort in Hot Weather. Lightweight, Zephyr Weaves and "Air-Conditioned" Cloths Promote Coolness.

By ROBERT FAIRCHILD
Editor Men's Fashions.

Let us assume (we may be doing you an injustice) that you are one of those who have delved into the private lives, as detailed in the public prints, of the great of Hollywood; that you have learned of the movie constellation is accustomed to sleep in the raw, and that having learned this, you have been working on the same implicit theory—to sleep without pajamas is to sleep more comfortably in hot weather.

Which gratuitous assumption having been made, let us inform you that frequently those who go to sleep in the raw wake up cooked by the juices of perspiration.

Why? Well, many of you may be aware of the custom in the tropical regions (where hot is real hot) of dressing not lightly, but thoroughly. The Arab on the desert does not discard his garments gradually as it grows hotter—he knows that those garments protect him from the heat. To go naked—or even bareheaded—in the tropics is to invite sunstroke.

Pajamas Form Protective Layer
The layer of cloth between you and the sheets is a protective layer. Of course, it is as light as it can be. But it takes up the perspiration, it protects you from sweating out the possibly irritating sizing and starch the laundry puts in a sheet, and it shields you from the outside heat as well.

Lightweight broadcloth, known as zephyr, is the chief material of summer pajamas. The cloth has been lightened as far as is compatible with suitable tensile strength. It is almost literally featherweight.

Many of these summer cloths are made up in "air-conditioned" fabrics. This "air-conditioning" process is one that blows away from the pores of the cloth the shreds of lint and other superfluous material that clog them. This permits easier entry and egress of air, which is, of course, conducive to greater comfort on hot nights.

Printed Fabrics Are in Favor
Although summer pajamas have been until this season mostly solid color, frequently with piping on the edges and pockets, into the style spotlight this season move many pajamas with printed all-over novelty motifs. One, for instance, bears a blown-up replica of a piece of coral; another carries a multitude of tiny pipes (the smoking, not the plumbing kind); still a third has sunburst effects in varying sizes, while a fourth reproduces myriads of parameria (the microscopic wormlike beasts that biologists find in pond water).

Two other types of fabrics and their patterns are synthetic-yarn cloths, bearing satin stripes, and solid-color or candy-striped seersucker. Both of these are exceedingly lightweight and cool.

For model, the coat-style leads, but some men find more comfortable the low-neck, middie style, without lapels. Short length arms and legs are found in some models. (Copyright, 1937, for The Constitution.)

year. Murdaugh said this could be legally done. Neely assured the mayor the board will make every effort to give relief only to year or more residents.

"Atlanta has been a dumping ground for the indigent," Hartsfield said. "We must stop the influx of persons who will come to Atlanta just to get on the relief rolls."

Neely said it will be four or six months before full benefits of social security will be obtained. Those eligible are dependent persons 65 or over, dependent children under 16 under certain circumstances, and blind persons who are unable to care for themselves.

SKIES TO CLEAR TODAY, WEATHER MEN PREDICT
In the face of a low barometer, weather observers predicted last night that the present rainy spell would end this morning, bringing partly cloudy, but clearing, skies today. Rainfall yesterday totaled 1.52 inches at 6 o'clock, and another shower during the night was expected to swell the total.

Yesterday's storm, weather men admitted, was a little heavy even for April. Electric and telephone lines suffered minor damage at several points in the city. The low temperature yesterday was 52 degrees, the high mark 59 degrees.

This morning the mercury is expected to drop to 45 degrees. Fair weather is expected by tomorrow, with temperatures running to the cool.

Admission Supervision.
He said that the department plans to assume all charitable obligations of the city and to clear funds for certain private charitable institutions, instituting a new service of supervising admissions and dismissals from such institutions in order to better check eligibility of inmates for social security benefits. The federal benefits cannot be given to persons in institutions, but will be used to subsidize dependents of certain classifications in private homes, Neely said.

Mayor Hartsfield insisted that the welfare board restrict relief to persons who have lived in Atlanta or Fulton county at least a

After Jumping Ship in Wild Port Cain Joins Arabian Camel Train

Impecunious Tourist Discovers Good Samaritan in Person of Cockney Bartender of Rio Del Oro, African Village Port.

Arthur Cain, returned from a two-year hitchhiking aragony of the world, is writing a series of stories, recounting some of the startling experiences of his journeys which could not be told in the letters he wrote while still away from home. Another of the series is presented today.

By ARTHUR CAIN.
Most people think of Africa as a great jungleland of monkeys and palm trees—a leafy setting for the beat of the tom tom and the weird cry of the Wazari, a place of wild men and wild animals. I have heard much of the velvet and of the high plateaus which fringe Victoria and of diamonds in Kimberley. Explorers and big-game hunters have brought strange tales from Timbuctu and Walada and Wadan in the great Sahara desert.

But this is not the Africa that I know at all, and I'm content to tell of the Gidi desert, which I crossed from Rio del Oro to Casa Blanca in the hottest season the Gidi has ever seen.

There still being some question whether the British immigration authorities would receive me hospitably, I thought it best to once again jump my ship and take an overland route to the nearest American port of call. The coastwise Linney vessel which had taken me to so many colonies of West Africa was making one more stop before proceeding back to Liverpool and the British Isles. Rio del Oro, which means "river of gold," was the last opportunity I would have to make the Cain presence scarce and to somehow extricate myself from the mess which that hair-brained decision in Havana had gotten me into. There was no choice but to pack my few belongings and take my chances with the Arabs of southern Morocco.

Cain Not Aboard.
Thus, when the ship sailed at midnight Cain was not aboard. Far on the eastern border of the village we listened to the melancholy of the farewell whistle of our last chance to reach civilization for a long time to come. Then we set about finding someone who spoke English.

In Rio del Oro we first discovered that there exist a certain fraternity of men the world over who make up the finest examples of Christian good will and unselfishness I have ever known. Men who have knocked about the world and have been to the top and then again to the bottom a dozen times. These men have a strange sense of values, but they are the best judges of character on the face of the earth. Without the good will of this intangible order of soldier's of fortune I would never have left Africa alive, let alone finishing the trip around the world.

A cockney bartender was my patron saint in Rio del Oro. He watched me approach the saloon dispassionately, although he had never known a white man to be ashore after the ship had sailed. Without a word he set a glass on the table and waited.

"No denaro," said I, letting him know in a word that I had missed the ship, was broke, and probably wanted no end of favors. He looked at me keenly and removed the glass. I was not surprised. After all he had to make his living, too. But I was surprised when he returned with a steaming hot plate of food and a glass of wine.

Cockney Samaritan.
When I told him my situation he appeared thoughtful, but not a bit nonplussed, and told me to be patient and wait. He expected an Arab caravan in town this week and might fix things up. I didn't mind riding a camel, did I? "No, I guess not," quavered Cain, not wishing any part of any sort of Arabs regardless of how romantic the idea might seem. "Well then, me bye," said the cockney, "take this, and take care of yourself." He handed me a hundred francs, all there was in the till.

On Thursday the camel train arrived. There was a two-day rest and the long journey towards Casa Blanca would continue. I met my future companions with a mixture of apprehension and relief. These unfathomable men of the desert made no friendly advances, but on the other hand did nothing to indicate that the adventure was else than a day's work to them. Not one of them spoke English but my smattering of French was sufficient to let them know my needs. They accepted 50 francs in exchange for a promise of safe delivery to the Mediterranean port which was my destination.

"Not a Dream."
For 16 long days we forged steadily onward. Stopping at Tamagru and Maroc and Mequinez we rested only long enough for the water bags to be filled and the camels to drink their fill of the cool water which is so precious on the arid wastes of Gidi.

The terrific sun kept the Cain brain as light as a feather and the cold nights left us huddling against the nearest Arab for warmth. Curiously, the one thing that I remember distinctly was that I constantly repeated the words "This is not a dream—this is not a dream," over and over and over. I'm not even sure that it was 16 days before we reached journey's end.

It was like a nightmare—indeed, scribbled beautiful at night and when the red sun rose and set and unbelievably hot under a swathe of robes and bedouin hoods by day.

And people still inquire casually if I'm glad to be back!

AT RATE CHARGES FAVORED AT SESSION F HOSPITAL GROUP

Patients Resent 'Special Fees,' Southeastern Hospital Conference Told.

Southern hospitals must adopt a policy of flat rate charges for hospitalization if they are to please their patients, Fred Walker, superintendent of Duval County hospital, Jacksonville, yesterday, told 10 nurses and doctors from 10 Southern states gathered here for a southeastern hospital conference.

"The patient seems to resent paying special fees for every attention he receives while in a hospital and these fees are a constant source of irritation," he declared.

The south is five years behind the rest of the country in adjusting their rate charges to the changing economic condition, G. Davis of the Duke Endowment, said in comment on the same subject. Throughout the nation, the rate of so much per day for services is the prevailing policy in the larger institutions and the future policy of all, he concluded.

Ethics Stressed.
Hospitals rightfully belong to the public and it is of paramount necessity that their officials and employees maintain ethics above all else, Dr. Bert W. Caldwell, of Chicago, executive secretary of the American Hospital Association, declared at the conference banquet last night.

"In dealing with patients all information obtained either voluntarily or involuntarily from them must be treated as strictly confidential for an attack on the hospital has no way of telling when this information gets out, the patient may be severely injured," Dr. Caldwell pointed to Grady hospital as an example of what can be done with a hospital when it is taken out of the hands of politicians.

"With the appointment of a board of upright citizens to govern the hospital, six years ago, Grady began a steady improvement until now it is pointed to with pride," he continued. "It will continue to improve under the direction of superintendent Franklin."

The conference organized itself temporarily by electing W. D. Barker, superintendent of the Georgia Baptist hospital, president; R. Charles N. Caraway, of Birmingham, vice president for Alabama; Miss Mary Corbitt, of Miami, vice president for Florida; R. L. C. Fischer, of Crawford hospital, Atlanta, vice president for Georgia, and Miss Emma Rawls, of Gadsden, Ala., secretary.

This defendant wasn't satisfied with making one jury work, he made two labor in the same day. James Pope Kryder was tried for possessing burglary tools and as the jury went out to deliberate the evidence, defense and state attorneys began striking another jury to hear a case charging Kryder with the felony offense of receiving stolen goods.

In the middle of the second trial the two juries exchanged places long enough to allow the first jury to return a verdict of guilty. Judge J. R. Hutchinson gave Kryder a three-to-five year sentence. The first jury was dismissed and the second returned to resume the case, which later was suspended until today. Assistant Solicitor Quincy Arnold is the prosecutor.

Permanent Organization.
Delegates of the 10 states were given until Saturday morning, when the permanent organization is to be perfected, to decide whether they wish to enter the association. Only the states of Georgia, Alabama and Florida are now represented.

A public meeting on hospitalization problems is scheduled at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Tabernacle Baptist church auditorium. Among subjects to be discussed are "The Efficient Hospital and the Cost of Hospital Service;" "The Responsibility of the Trustee in Making the Hospital What It Should Be;" "How Much of a Menace is Tuberculosis to the Community;" and "Are Social Diseases a Menace to the Community?"

Dr. J. Hockett, superintendent of the Touro infirmary, of New Orleans, is to discuss group hospitalization tomorrow.

FORESTRY IS TERMED GREAT STATE ASSET

Timber Land Will Make Georgia Rich, W. T. Anderson Asserts.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—Forestry is one of Georgia's greatest natural resources and the state's 27,000,000 acres of timber land are destined to make it rich, W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph, told the Richmond County Educational Association today in an address on "Georgia's Natural Resources."

Calling the educators' attention to the pulp paper industry developed by Dr. Charles Herty's process of making paper from pine pulp, the Macon newspaperman said the Savannah chemist's discovery will mean the industrialization of the south, and cited the advantages this section offers paper manufacturers because of the rapid growth of pine trees.

Other natural resources of the state listed by Anderson were its climate, soil and water, its $4,000,000 worth of property of all kinds, $800,000,000 in industries, and $300,000,000 worth of agricultural products.

Declaring that Georgia's people are its greatest asset, the editor advocated raw foods and wider highways as the means of conserving human life in the state. Wider highways, he said, will reduce materially the enormous toll of traffic accidents.

The Macon editor said the people of Georgia are entitled to better things and more profit from the natural resources of the state. He criticized the federal government for some of its policies in this section, and cited the present unemployment, which he said could be remedied by the same spirit shown in the days following the War Between the States.

Southeastern Hospital Group Opens Convention Here

The Southeastern Hospital Association opened its annual convention at the Biltmore hotel yesterday by electing temporary officers. W. D. Barker, left, superintendent of the Georgia Baptist hospital, was elected temporary president of the group. Emma Rawls, center, president of the Florida Hospital Association, was named temporary vice president, and Mary Corbitt, right, of Gadsden, Ala., was elected temporary secretary.

Nurses Discuss Hospital Problems at Session Here

Food Costs and Eight-Hour Day Highlight Nurses' Discussion Here

New Curriculum and Adaption to Small Schools of Nursing Outlined by Educational Director at Grady; Adjustments Said to Be Necessary.

By YOLANDE GWIN.

Food cost discussions and a plea for eight-hour duty for all nurses were among the highlights discussed yesterday at the afternoon session of the southeastern hospital conference at the Biltmore hotel.

The advantages of a centralized kitchen, wherein foods may be prepared under one supervisor or dietitian were discussed. The economical aspect which the plan presented and the more modern methods which could be applied in such instances were emphasized. Many of this type kitchen are now in operation in Atlanta hospitals.

Good nursing service, the new curriculum and its adaptation to the small school of nursing, the efficient supervisor and nursing problems were among other subjects bringing comment and discussion from those attending the conference, which is under the sponsorship of the Alabama, Florida and Georgia Hospital Associations.

Patient Requests.
A patient on a selective diet may make his own request for certain dishes and food prepared at home is not encouraged by hospital officials, but different cases present different problems, it was said.

In her discussion of "The New Curriculum and How It Can Be Adapted to the Small School of Nursing," Miss Lottie C. Leavell,

Don't Irritate Gas Bloating

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating cathartics and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable.

You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grumpy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adierka the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adierka rises out of the gut and cleans food poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleaning with Adierka. Get rid of GAS. Adierka does not gripe—It's not habit forming. At all leading drugstores.—(adv.)

resident nurse and educational director at the Grady Hospital School of Nursing, said in part: "Nutrition, cookery and dietotherapy may also be taught in the home economics department of a university or college. This solves the problem of no dietitian. In these days when nutrition is paramount in prevention and cure of disease, a way must provide ways and means for our own students to receive instruction."

"The public must become interested in the present economic situation in schools of nursing. Facts of nursing education must be presented intelligently. Interest the ladies' auxiliary or influential people in the important situation at hand. We seem to be curriculum-conscious now. It is not intended that the curriculum be used as a model and copied by a school. It is used as a guide. The modern point of view in curriculum construction is that revision be a continuous process. Constant adjustments are needed because of rapid changes taking place in the conditions of every-day life."

Eight-Hour Day.
Miss Jean Trentham, resident nurse and director of nurses at St. Luke's hospital at Jacksonville, Fla., stressed the importance of shorter working hours for nurses. She said:

"A schedule of shorter hours of nursing improves the quality of nursing service by promoting better health on the part of the nurses, and less fatigue, and by giving the nurse time for recreation and her professional growth. I suggest eight-hour duty for all nurses, regardless of the field in which they have chosen to practice their profession. We cannot expect to render a good nursing service if we are deprived of sufficient nursing personnel to give our patients service of a grade adequate to the needs and habits of the community. The greatest detriment to a good nursing service is placing more work upon the nurses than they are able to do well."

"Since food plays an important part in the prevention and cure of disease, no patient will be happy unless he receives well prepared, palatable food, served attractively. This factor itself aids the patient physically and mentally in his recovery. Good nursing requires good housekeeping. Hospitals need professionally trained nurses in order to give the best service. The equipment is especially important and for example, the uniformity of treatment trays, and ready at all times; an adequate linen supply; and a wide selection of drugs."

There should be a professional relationship between all groups working in hospitals. No one department can exist independently. The nursing department must have an unselfish spirit, a real understanding and appreciation of the functions of all other groups."

ROSALYN, N. Y., April 8.—(UP)—An angry parent demanded tonight that the State Board of Education take a firm stand on the issue of whether storks bring babies.

Before Dr. J. R. Morrison, commissioner in charge of all elementary schools in the state, appeared Mrs. Thomas Gilmore who deposed as follows: "She is the mother of a 3-year-old who attends the elementary schools in Roslyn. So far as 3-year-olds children are concerned storks bring babies. They not only bring human babies; they bring animal babies, including rats."

Rats are vital in this controversy because Mrs. Gilmore says a cage of rats was kept in one of the classes. By observing these rats, Mrs. Gilmore said, her daughter lost faith in the old-fashioned theory that storks bring babies and drop them down chimneys, neatly dispersed.

Mrs. Gilmore withdrew her daughter from the school, observing that it was hardly crick-et of the teachers to destroy the faith of children in the stork before they taught them how to read and write.

Dr. Morrison asked time in which to make a thorough survey of subversive propaganda against storks.

Meanwhile an ugly rumor, wholly unconfirmed, raced through Roslyn tonight—that there wasn't any Santa Claus.

APPEAL BOND MADE BY JOEL LUNSFORD

Former Bondsman Sentenced to Gang After Lottery Conviction.

Joel Lunsford, former Decatur street bondsman, made $2,500 appeal bond yesterday afternoon after hearing Judge Jesse M. Wood sentence him to serve 12 months on the county chain gang and pay $1,000 fine for operating a lottery.

The lottery operator was convicted by a five-man criminal court jury last Friday but secured two postponements before sentence was passed because of illness.

Lunsford was arrested by county police in Clayton county as he was allegedly checking the day's lottery receipts. Officers testified Lunsford operated a "bug" racket in Atlanta and Fulton county but each day went into Clayton to check receipts. Swift Tyler represented the defendant and Solicitor John S. McClelland prosecuted.

Trial of Mrs. Ethel Ransom, one of nine arrested in a raid on alleged lottery headquarters in the Erlanger theater building, has been indefinitely postponed. Others arrested in the raid have been fined as first offenders.

army reserve corps of Newman Coker, of the Cascade theater, 1346 Gordon street, S. W., was announced yesterday by fourth corps area headquarters.

Competitive examinations for pointment of civil, mechanical and electrical engineers in the Corps of Engineers, regular army, to fill 18 vacancies were announced yesterday at fourth corps area headquarters. Examinations will consist of three parts, the first of which will take place May 4. Forms may be secured at headquarters on the fifth floor, old postoffice building, and must be filed before April 24.

"Shall the United States Compete for Military Supremacy" will be the subject for discussion of the Public Speakers' Club at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Atlanta School of Oratory and Expression at 204 Wesley Memorial building.

Dr. Willis A. Sutton will speak on "Crime and Its Causes" before the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' conference at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the First Baptist church. It was announced last night by Samuel A. Cowan, secretary.

E. W. Watkins, manager of the Aaron Transfer Company, Blue Ridge, was authorized yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington to act as a common motor carrier between Atlanta and Copperhill, Tenn.

FUNERAL PLANS MADE.
LEBANON, Ohio, April 8.—(AP) Albert Price, 86, retired farmer who died yesterday, made arrangements a week ago for his funeral. Dr. F. Taffel, funeral director, said Price bought a coffin, burial apparel, selected pallbearers and joined a church.

Farmer Quickly Ends Sit-Down Of Farm Hands

ITHACA, N. Y., April 8.—(AP)—A Tompkins county farmer, who told the story on the promise everybody would keep his name a secret, broke up a sit-down strike of his farm hands by turning the bull loose in the dairy barn.

"The boys (the two hired hands on his small farm) have been reading so much about these sit-down strikes, they kinda thought they'd put one over on me the other night."

"We'd brought in the cows and had them in their stalls, ready for the milking, when the boys just planked themselves down on their stools and declared a sit-down strike for a raise in pay."

"The good Lord knows you can't squeeze blood from a stone but words wouldn't move 'em."

"Then I happened to think of Neb, loading in his box stall. That bull is so mean we don't dare take him out without clamping a lead pole in his nose ring."

"I just opened the stall door and turned him loose."

"There was nothing to it; before you could say Jack Robinson there wasn't a sit-down striker within 100 yards of the dairy barn."

White Mice Acquit Man in Auto Theft

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—(UP)—A quarter sessions court jury acquitted Truman Boisseaux, 32, of charges of driving while intoxicated and attempted larceny of an automobile today after he blamed the whole affair on a pair of white mice.

Boisseaux said he sat down in an automobile to rest while taking his two pets out for an airing. One of the mice, he said, jumped out of the box and ran up his sleeve and in his excitement to recover it, he knocked off the emergency brake of the machine, sending it rolling down a hill. Boisseaux admitted having "a few beers."

NEW FIRE EQUIPMENT.

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 8.—The city commission has purchased a new fire truck for delivery within 60 days. It also has purchased two masks for use by firemen in entering smoke-filled or gas-filled buildings.

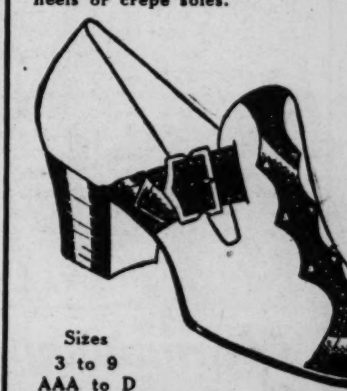

SLAYER IS SOUGHT.

AMERICUS, Ga., April 8.—Police today were seeking the slayer of Eddie Horton, 20, negro, who was found shot to death Tuesday night in an automobile on the outskirts of Americus.

TWO CONFESS PART IN NEWNAN HOLDUP

Suspects' Statements Lay Actual Robbery to Unnamed Gunmen.

NEWNAN, Ga., April 8.—Two Coweta countians have confessed a part in last Friday's $7,050 Arno Mill pay roll holdup and implicated two unnamed gunmen as the actual perpetrators of the crime, Sheriff Potts revealed here today. One other man, held in jail here, steadfastly has denied any part in the holdup.

Sheriff Potts said the written statements of Gordon Green, an Arno Mill employee, and Tom McLeod, garage operators, related they had "laid the groundwork" for the robbery, in which a pay roll was seized from A. E. Fleming, secretary, and A. H. Mann, bookkeeper, of Arno Mill. They were booked today, charged as accessories.

A third man, listed as Bill Walker, operator of a filling station near Hogansville, is being detained on a warrant charging highway robbery, but denies participating in the holdup. He recently was released from a federal prison in Ohio, where he served a one-year term on a liquor charge.

Following the confession by the two men, Sheriff Potts stated he recovered approximately $700 from a hiding place near the McLeod home at Arno Mill.

Dr. Harvey Cox, Ralph Mc-
for First Day.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., April 8.—Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory University, will speak here Friday afternoon, inaugurating the two-day Bartow county public forum. He will speak on "Conservation of Human Resources, Physical, Human and Moral."

Dr. J. E. Hedges, of Emory University and Dr. Carl Hartzell, of Georgia Tech, also will speak at the afternoon session.

At the Friday night program, which is expected to attract a large attendance at the First Baptist church, Ralph McGill, sports editor of The Atlanta Constitution, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Cullen B. Gosnell, of Emory University, also will have an important place on the program.

The forum, held under the auspices of the Bartow county forum committee, will continue through Saturday, with other speakers to include C. M. Snyder, advertising director of The Constitution; Raymond Nixon, Dr. J. Sam Guy, of Emory, and Arthur Corey, of California.

HOLDUP VICTIMS FAIL TO IDENTIFY EWING

More than a score of victims of recent holdups viewed Forrest Ewing, notorious escape, who was recaptured in Detroit several weeks ago, but failed positively to identify him in a police lineup at headquarters last night.

The victims included Frank Eubanks, 20, assistant cashier of The Constitution, and Reuben Caldwell, 34, negro porter employed by the newspaper, who were robbed of $1,400 in cash and $3,200 in checks in a daylight holdup March 3.

Eubanks and Caldwell said Ewing "resembled the bandit," but could not make positive identifications. Ewing was returned to Fulton Tower following the lineup.

LUTHER LEAGUE OPENS
AUGUSTA MEET TODAY

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—Returning to Augusta for anniversary conventions has been the custom since 1927, members of the Georgia-Alabama Luther League will open their three-day tenth annual session at the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Resurrection Friday night.

A program, beginning with a supper the opening night and closing with church services Sunday morning, has been planned. Business sessions will be held Saturday and several outstanding Lutheran workers will deliver addresses.

CHEMURGIC PARLEY SLATED FOR TODAY

Five States To Participate In Conference on Use of Farm Products.

MACON, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—New and advanced industrial uses for southern farm products will be the theme of the Georgia chemurgic conference to be held here tomorrow and Saturday.

Industrial, chemical and agricultural representatives from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida are expected to participate.

Carl E. Frische, of Dearborn, Mich., managing director of the Farm Chemurgic Council, will sound the keynote of the meeting tomorrow morning in an address outlining its objectives.

Discussions of starch from sweet potatoes will occupy the remainder of the morning program. The afternoon session will be devoted to scuppernon and other wines. Grape production and legal aspects of wine making will be taken up.

Industrial uses of peanuts and southern vegetable oils will constitute part of the afternoon discussion.

Various products from pine trees will feature discussion at a banquet Friday night.

The Saturday session is to be devoted to reports from the various participating states. The afternoon meeting will include talks on industrial uses of syrup canes and "power alcohol."

THOMASVILLE WINS
MISSIONARY MEET

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor Addresses Methodist Conference in Macon.

MACON, Ga., April 8.—(AP)—Thomasville was awarded the next convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the South Georgia conference at the closing session here today.

The delegates heard an address today by Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, W. C. T. U. leader, in which she charged that the "proposal to use revenue from liquor to buy school books is a bribe."

Officers chosen today were: Mrs. W. H. Ketchum, Macon, secretary of children's work; Mrs. H. E. Carter, Columbus, secretary of young women's organization work. Mrs. John L. Hodges, Perry, who has been recording secretary, resigned. Her place will be filled by the executive board.

Mrs. W. F. Quillian, Nashville, Tenn., was among the speakers heard today.

FARMER, 40, DROWNED
WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., April 8.—The murky waters of the Chattahoochee river were watched today for the body of Homer Newburn, 40, Fayette county farmer, who was drowned at Campbellton ferry yesterday afternoon.

D. H. Hardy, who was with Newburn at the time of the accident, reported their boat capsized and floated away from them. He swam to shore, but reported he saw nothing more of Newburn. Finders of the body today were requested to communicate with J. Cowan Whitley Company, undertakers, here.

Mr. Newburn, a former resident of Douglas county, is survived by two brothers, Pat and Amos Newburn, and one sister, Mrs. Claudia Eavins.

RAIN ENDS DROUTH.
CHUNCKING, Szechwan Province, China, April 8.—(AP)—Heavy, widespread rains today broke the great drouth which has gripped central China since August, 1936. Only a fraction of the water needed to relieve the distress of the famine-area had fallen, but the parched countryside was beginning to revive and the Yang-Tse river was rising.

Rialto Stars Bancroft
In "Racketeers in Exile"

George Bancroft, one of the finest actors of the screen, returns to the Rialto theater today in the star role in a new and most powerful drama produced by Columbia, entitled "Racketeers in Exile."

Playing with Bancroft in the important supporting roles are Evelyn Venable, as the feminine lead; Wynne Gibson, Marc Lawrence, Richard Carle, George McKay and other well-known featured players. The picture was directed by Eric C. Kenton from a story by Harry Sauber.

Bancroft portrays, in this picture, the role of "Big Bill" Waldo, leader of a racket gang, who has to hide out when the law authorities get too close on his trail. He takes his entire "mob," including his "moll," Wynne Gibson, to the little town where he lived as a boy, the son of a minister.

He is welcomed as a local son who has made good in the city and he lets the mistake pass. Later he accidentally discovers how much money may be made by posing as a revivalist and he starts a new racket, preaching and broadcasting the "Ex-Racketeer, the Voice of Your Conscience."

In the meantime rivalry has sprung up between Wynne Gibson and the girl of the small town who was Waldo's childhood sweetheart, Evelyn Venable.

The story really gets fascinating from this point on and leads up to one of the most powerful punch climaxes ever seen on the screen. Manager W. T. Murray has secured a group of excellent short subjects.

"Waikiki Wedding" Held,
Moved to Paramount

Held over after a most successful week's run at the Fox, "Waikiki Wedding" is to be shown at the Paramount theater starting today. Three big names of the air waves—Bing Crosby, Bob Burns and Martha Raye—are included in the list of players who appear in "Waikiki Wedding," a gay romance of the South Seas.

The same trio headed the cast in "Rhythm on the Range" in which Burns, the Arkansas drawler, and Miss Raye, she of the cavernous mouth and bewitching swing, made their film debut. Both have since soared to the top rung of popularity, both on the air and on the screen.

Burns' career is an interesting one. He had been an entertainer since 1911, playing in minstrel shows, vaudeville, carnivals and the radio with only passing success. His "stuff" was always the same—the drawing Arkansas philosopher with plenty of stories about the folks down home, but for some reason it didn't take.

Success burst upon him suddenly. He was given a chance on the Rudy Vallee hour and immediately a deluge of letters descended upon the studio asking for more. He was then signed up by Bing Crosby for the Music Hall hour, and he was "made."

When the script for "Rhythm on the Range" was being prepared Crosby had a part written into it expressly for Burns. He next appeared in "The Big Broadcast of 1937" and as a result of his comely work in that film went to the top.

"Love Is News" at Fox
With Three-Star Cast

The romance of a thrilling threesome whose kisses crash the headlines and whose escapades sell extras, with handsome Tyrone Power, lovely Loretta Young, and Don Ameche, provide hilarious excitement in the Twentieth Century-Fox streamline hit, "Love Is News," opening today at the Fox theater.

With Loretta in the role of a beautiful heiress, the enjoyable pace is set at once when she vows vengeance against Tyrone Power, newshawk who has just tricked her again into the headlines, without, however, reckoning with his dynamic, hard-driving managing editor, Don Ameche. To give newsmen Tyrone a dose of his own medicine, Loretta determines to make him a public figure, and not only announces her engagement to him, but also states she has presented him with a million dollars.

Besieged on every hand, Tyrone strives to expose the hoax, but his efforts only increase his notoriety, as well as his unpopularity with the managing editor. On a wild chase into the country, both the newspaperman and his quarry are arrested for speeding and jailed by Country Judge Slim Summerville. Dudley Digges, Walter Catlett, George Sanders, Jane Darwell, Stepin Fetchit and Pauline Moore are featured in the cast, while Tay Garnett directed.

Famed Lutes Brothers
Coming in Capitol Unit

Sharpshooting, wood-chopping, batting out a tune on any number of instruments, doing a bit of juggling on the side, these are all the same to the famous Lutes Brothers, one of them born without arms, who will be featured in the new stage revue, "Talk of the Town," which comes to the Capitol Sunday.

The Lutes are full of tricks, almost every conceivable one known to the stage world, and novelty is added when the armless one does everything equally as well as his normal brother.

Their act, a unique presentation which attracted the attention of Robert Ripley, famous Believe-It-or-Not figure, is really a headline attraction in a show crammed to the brim with sensational vaudeville acts.

The screen offering selected to go with this stage show is "Conflict," a Jack London story which will star John Wayne, Jean Rogers and a host of others. It is an action story of the lumber camps. Today and tomorrow, the theater offers "We Have Our Moments" starring James Dunn, Sally Eilers and Mischa Auer, with the vaudeville unit, "Top Hat Revue," on the stage.

"Maytime" Is Held Over
Second Week at Grand

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first lavish musical offering of 1937, "Maytime," goes into its second week at Loew's Grand theater today, with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in the starring roles. The songs were written by Sigmund Romberg, composer of the original score, and by Herbert Stothart, who composed the first film operetta, "Czaritzza," which provides a lovely sequence in the picture. In the supporting cast, John Barrymore plays a picture role as the temperamental impresario, Lynne Carver as Tom Brown provides the juvenescence and Herman Bing ad the comedy.

In love with Eddy, a young singer, Miss MacDonald, an opera actress, is actuated by a mistaken sense of duty, marries Barrymore, to whom she owes her career. When circumstances bring her and the singer together again, they realize their love is stronger than before. Mad with insane jealousy, the husband kills the singer. The tragedy answers the problems of the younger girl, who is torn between a choice of love and a career, as the story ends with a "Smile Through" finish.

Miss MacDonald and Eddy also complete operatic arias in portions of others. Eddy has three novelty songs, "Students' Drinkin' Song," "Vive L'Opera" and "Virginia Ham and Eggs." In a touching duet the stars sing "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

OUT IN RELIEF FUND IN LIEU OF NEW TAX LOOMS IN CAPITAL

Robinson Says Plan To Finance New Activities 'Is Possible.'

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(P)—A possibility that proposed new government activities might be financed by cutting next year's relief fund, instead of raising taxes, came to light today at the press conference of Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader.

Robinson said such an idea "hasn't crystallized yet" but "is possible."

Despite demands from several quarters for a bigger relief fund, the administration leader asserted next year's appropriation was "more likely to be reduced than increased."

"At this juncture, I don't see any new taxes," Robinson said.

Only a few days ago, Mr. Roosevelt reiterated the hope there

Wally's Dog Is Dead, Victim of a Snakebite

LONDON, April 8.—(P)—Slippers, Mrs. Wallis Simpson's favorite Cairn terrier and a personal gift from the Duke of Windsor, is dead, the victim of a snake.

Mrs. Simpson informed friends here the dog was bitten by a snake while rabbit hunting near Mrs. Simpson's chateau near Tours, France. A special serum failed to save its life.

Mrs. Simpson, said to have been deeply affected by the loss, was understood to have personally telephoned the news to Windsor.

would be no new taxes at this session.

Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee, repeatedly has spoken in a similar vein. He favored curtailed expenditures rather than increased tax levies.

Robinson did not make clear what relief he thought might be cut, whether it would be the $1,500,000,000 which the President mentioned tentatively for relief in his budget, or the present relief spending rate of about $2,000,000,000 a year.

Discussion of the budget has intensified since the March 15 income tax returns failed to come up to informal treasury estimates.

3 KILLERS ESCAPE FROM FLORIDA JAIL

Two-by-Four Used as Bridge From Sawed Window to Prison Wall.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 8.—(P)—In swamplands and dingy city alleys officers tonight sought 14 negroes, three of them killers, who escaped this morning from Duval county jail.

Seventeen climbed out through a sawed dormitory window but five were soon back. Alvin Baker, who with James Tyler admitted the slaying in an attempted hold-up last November of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Surrency, was recaptured. Two others surrendered after a few hours' freedom.

Tyler was among the fugitives and officers took bloodhounds to a swamp where they believed the slayer was hiding.

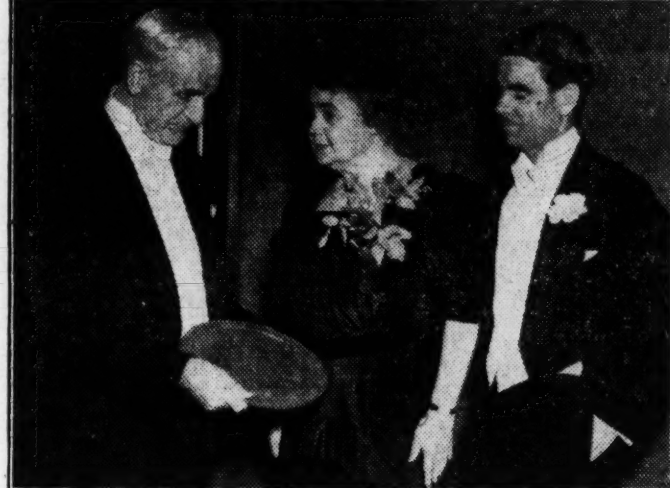

An iron bar across a window was sawed away, officials said, and a two-by-four was placed from the window to the 25-foot wall surrounding the prison. Using this as a bridge, the men, all negroes, dropped to the ground outside the wall.

Chief Deputy Bohon said the escape was engineered by Joe Sims and Preston McDonald, awaiting mandatory death sentences for the holdup-slaying of a negro taxicab driver. Both are still at large.

The congress entered the national elections recently with the object of combatting the new constitution, instituted by the British government.

INDIAN CONVENTION—The delegates of the All-India convention of the congress, as they assembled at New Delhi recently to pass on the proposal to participate in the new constitutional government provided by the British parliament. The refusal of the Congress party, the majority group, to accept office in six of the provinces, revived the fear of unrest among the 350,000,000 people of England's empire in the east.

Clerk's Records Show 3 Girl Brides in Year

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., April 8.—(P)—Records of City Clerk Henry W. Little today showed that girl brides were no novelty here last year.

Three 14-year-old girls became the brides of 18 and 19-year-old youths, one of them the son of a minister who married the two of the couples.

FLORIDA BOY KILLED AS CAR CRASHES TREE

ORLANDO, Fla., April 8.—(P)—Billy Yates was killed and Arthur Nourse critically injured here today when a car in which they were riding crashed into a tree.

Police said a faulty steering gear in their old model car was responsible for the accident. Both boys were 19 and residents of Pinecastle, south of Orlando.

LOWER TVA DAM CONSTRUCTION SEEN

Senator McKellar, After Conference With Dr. Morgan, Forecasts Start.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(P)—Senator Kenneth McKellar, of Tennessee, said tonight he believed construction of the lower Tennessee dam would begin next year.

"After talking with Dr. A. E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority," McKellar said, "I believe construction of the dam on the Tennessee river at or near Gilbertsville will be begun next year."

The dam has been approved as part of the TVA program, but current budget allotments are only for continued investigations.

CONVICTS' LEASING IN TENNESSEE TOLD

Hosiery Manufacturer Gets 5 Cents, State 12 Cents Per Dozen Stockings.

NASHVILLE, April 8.—(P)—Lewis S. Pope, special investigator, heard testimony today that a former Tennessee official leased out convict labor under an agreement whereby the state would receive 12 cents and a private citizen 5 cents for every dozen pairs of stockings produced by the prisoners.

The testimony was given by R. S. Strickland an operator of the prison hosiery plant. He said he paid the 5 cents to R. L. Stockard, Nashville businessman, under an agreement between Stockard, former institutions commission, E. L. Pardue and himself.

Strickland said the agreement was made in 1934 and that between then and December, 1936, Stockard received between $15,000 and $16,000. The contract has until January, 1939, to run, and Pope said he was instructing the prison to bill Strickland for 17 cents for all hosiery produced hence.

Pope said this would be agreeable to the hosiery manufacturer.

Relief Money Spent On Rum, Signs Say

CLIFTON FORGE, Va., April 8.—(P)—"My money went for whisky, not for food," printed on placards prepared by Mayor Frank Wheeler, will swing from the backs of two relief workers here tomorrow as they start sentences prescribed in police court for drunkenness.

Lloyd Montgomery and Len Lyle, given their choice of "serving out" their fines in jail or working with the signs on their backs, chose the signs.

Montgomery was instructed to wear the placard for 12 days and Lyle for six, beginning tomorrow.

TOUHY IS CARRIED FROM TRAIN TO PEN

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., April 8.—(P)—Unable to walk after a long illness, "Terrible Tommy" Touhy was lifted from a train by officers today when he arrived here from Minneapolis to start serving a 23-year federal prison term for mail robbery.

Four United States marshal's deputies assisted the former leader of a powerful Chicago gang as he left the train.

Touhy was convicted of participation in a $78,000 mail robbery in Minneapolis in January, 1933.

GIRL SLAYER GETS 16-YEAR SENTENCE

'Weak-Willed' Dentist To Begin Chloroform Term for

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 8.—(P)—Dr. R. G. Miller, a man called too "weak-willed" to resist the advances of women, awaited transfer to the state penitentiary tonight to begin serving a 16-year sentence for the chloroform slaying of an 18-year-old expectant mother.

The 53-year-old Charlottesville dentist was sentenced today by Circuit Judge Lemuel F. Smith at the conclusion of a compromise trial in which Miller pleaded guilty to the second-degree murder of Cleo Sprouse, whose body was found on the University of Virginia campus on March 2, a towel covering a can of chloroform on her face.

Both prosecution and defense attorneys said the high school girl died after Miller had administered chloroform preparatory to an attempted abortion. Miller denied prior to the trial that he was responsible for the girl's condition.

HEADQUARTERS FOR HANES UNDERWEAR

HANES SHIRTS ARE GLUTTONS FOR PUNISHMENT!

GENTLEMEN, it seems as though HANES Undershirts take all the washing and wear you can give them. They're bound to go, some day, of course. You can't expect anything else. But when that day finally comes, you'll say "these shirts don't owe me a cent—they've worked overtime!"

From the first time on, straight through to the last, HANES fits snug and trim . . . clasp close and neat below the armpits . . . stretching smoothly across your chest . . . lying cool and light on your back. And look at the length of a HANES! You've got enough tail to go way into your shorts. It can't creep and wad at your waist!

Every HANES Shirt needs HANES Shorts. No matter how big you are around the hams, you'll have room to sit, stoop and walk without pinching or pulling. Genuine Lastex in the belt. Colors guaranteed fast.

HANES SAMSONBAK UNION-SUIT

Here's the greatest union-suit you ever climbed into! Cut from fine, rich cloth—and generously cut too. But most important of all, this cloth is Sanforized pre-shrunk. The patented Tug-o-War Belt is put in to stay in. Won't rip or pull out . . . ever! When you see SAMSONBAK, you'll wonder how we can make underwear as durable and comfortable as this for a dollar!

Iowa Is Leading State in Live Stock Value

Aggregate Value of Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, Horses and Mules, January, 1937. All Figures Are in Millions and Tenths of Millions of Dollars.

U. S. Market Letter

The strong cotton market of late March and early April was supported by continued good demand from the mills and a shortage of the top grades. Selling at 15 cents in some spot markets, cotton was nearly 31-2 cents higher than a year ago. Extension of loan cotton selling into April checked the upward trend, but trade sentiment still seemed rather confident, although the sharp price fluctuations suggested market unsettlement, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Sales of cotton cloth increased and prices held firm. Weather continued unfavorable in many parts of the cotton belt, and field work made slow progress. The early part of the month.

Wholesale feed prices continued the recent upward trend in early April under light supplies, firm or rising grain prices, and good demand for meat feeds in the Memphis territory were moving in small lots as consumers bought only for current needs. Trading was light in the southeast, rice bran and brewers' and distillers' dried grains being substituted. Imported grain shorts were quoted at $6.50 per ton, below domestic prices.

Cottonseed meal advanced at consuming and producing markets under good demand and light supplies. Forty-one per cent meal ranged $37 to $38.50 in the south and $42.50 to $46 in northern cities. Lined meal made only slight gains and soybean meal rose 50 cents to $3 per ton. Corn feeds were up $1 or more.

PRODUCE DECLINING. Prices of many lines of southern produce showed declining trends near the beginning of

Miss Ruth Gayle Honored at Parties Prior to Marriage

Many parties will honor Miss Ruth Gayle, popular bride-elect, whose marriage to Boyce L. Graham takes place April 15. Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones entertained at their home in College Park for Miss Gayle and Mr. Graham.

Misses Sara Campbell, Katherine McGowan and Dorothy Pennington entertained Saturday at a luncheon honoring the bride-elect, and in the afternoon, Mrs. Boyce Graham, mother of the bridegroom-elect, gives a bridal shower honoring Miss Gayle, this affair to be held at the hostess' home on Orme circle.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Boylston give a dinner party at their home on Seminole avenue, with Miss Gayle and Mr. Graham as central figures.

Mr. and Mrs. John Poole have selected April 11 as the date of their open house in compliment to Miss Gayle and her fiancé, this affair to be held at the hosts' home on Oakdale road.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pearce entertain April 13, at a buffet supper at their home on Roxboro place as another complimentary gesture to Miss Gayle and her fiancé, and Wednesday evening, following the wedding rehearsal, Mrs. Edward McDonald gives a buffet supper at her home on Piedmont avenue, honoring the young couple, the guests to include only the members of the bridal party and families of the honorees.

Miss Gayle and Mr. Graham were central figures Sunday at the informal aperitif party at which Mr. and Mrs. Everard Richardson Jr. were hosts at their home on Manor Ridge drive, this occasion having assembled a group of friends of the honorees.

The marriage of Miss Gayle and Mr. Graham will be an event of April 15 at 5:30 o'clock in the Emory University Theological chapel, with Dr. Ryland Knight, pastor of the Second-Ponce Leon Baptist church, officiating.

Miss Gayle will be given in marriage by her older brother, Sidney Gayle, of High Point, N. C., and the bridegroom-elect's best man will be his brother, Gerald Graham.

A program of nuptial music will be presented prior to and during the ceremony by Mrs. Helen Schide, pianist, and Miss Elizabeth Jackson, violinist.

Acting as ushers will be John Poole, Grady Lee, Harry Alexander, Walter Cooper, William Gayle, brother of the bride-elect, and John Vogel. There will be no reception and the couple will leave immediately on their wedding trip.

Distinguished Visitor in City Proves Interesting Personality

By Sally Forth.

PICTURED in today's society section is a charming likeness of Mrs. Robert E. Fitzgerald, of Wauwatosa, Wis., president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association, who arrived yesterday to visit Mrs. J. Bonar White at her home here. A woman of unusual personality and graciousness, Mrs. Fitzgerald is proving to be one of the most interesting visitors of the early spring in Atlanta and her stay here is the occasion of a number of social affairs.

Mrs. Fitzgerald's appearance is very youthful, in spite of the strain of gray that shows in her dark hair and also in spite of the many things which she has accomplished in her years, achievements which usually are those of a much older woman.

She attended Wellesley College and then went to the University of Michigan, where she received an A. B. degree in 1917 and an M. A. in 1918. She is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority; the Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, and the Mortar Board. Since her graduation she has continued her interest in her sorority and for a number of years was international scholarship chairman for the group and now is province director of Province Four. One object of her visit here is to organize an Atlanta Alumnae Club this evening at a banquet at the Piedmont Driving Club.

An interested member of the American Association of University Women, Mrs. Fitzgerald has been for several years a member of the board of a home for working girls sponsored by the A. A. U. W. in Wauwatosa. She is also a member of the Wauwatosa Woman's Club. Before being elevated to the presidency of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association, Mrs. Fitzgerald served for two years as national publicity chairman.

A delightful affair of today will be the tea at which the Woman's Auxiliary of the Fulton County Medical Society will entertain at 3:30 o'clock at the home of its president, Mrs. Charles Boynton, honoring Mrs. Fitzgerald. She will share honors at the luncheon to be given today by Mrs. Marion L. Benson with the hostesses, Mrs. William R. Dancy, of Savannah, president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Medical Association of Georgia, and Mrs. W. L. Myers, also of Savannah, and a past president.

THIS is the story of one of Sally's favorite gentlemen and his drinking habits. There is no malicious intent in the statement about his drinking, for this story concerns coffee.

It seems that Sally's friend likes two cups of coffee for breakfast, and like so many others finds difficulty in getting the second cup "just right." There's some uncanny and indescribable mystery about getting just the right amount of sugar and cream in the second cup as an encore for the first cup.

This man, however, has solved the problem. His coffee is served, and two cups at that, in a beer mug and when he sweats and creams it to taste, he drinks it to his heart's content and begins the day in a buoyant state.

THE lovely picture in the accompanying society pages of Katherine Newman and her handsome escort is only one scene from the perfectly thrilling social whirl the Atlanta debbie is enjoying in New York. She is visiting in the metropolis with her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Ellis, and is constantly on the go—dining and dancing atop Gotham's finest hotels, at swanky night clubs, and taking in the glamorous spots along the Avenue.

The Frederick Bonhams, prominent New York socialites, who often visit here as guests of former Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton, entertained at a dinner party the other evening, and included Katherine in their guest list. The picture of the young belle was taken at the party at a fashionable hotel.

Last evening the gala Butterfly Ball took place and assembled a throng of Gotham's "four hundred." Katherine was among those attending, and no doubt she will take in many more elegant affairs before leaving New York.

Brilliant Assemblage For Mrs. Ethridge

A brilliant assemblage of Georgia authors, newspaper editors and writers, society leaders and Wesleyan College officials, faculty, trustees and alumnae will honor Georgia's new star in the literary firmament, Willie Snow Ethridge, whose book, "As I Live and Breathe," is just off the press, at a reception given this afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock in Rich's tea room by the Wesleyan Alumnae Association.

In the receiving line will be Mrs. Augustus M. Roan, president of the Atlanta Association; Mrs. Ethridge, Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the National Wesleyan Alumnae Association; Dr. Dice R. Anderson, president of Wesleyan College; Mrs. Frampton Farmer, president of Macon alumnae; W. T. Anderson, publisher of the Macon Telegraph; Miss Anabel Horn, alumnae trustee; Miss Jennie Loyall, alumnae secretary; Mrs. Francis Parkinson Keyes, Mrs. Minnie Hite Moody, authors; Mrs. Pauline Branyon, president of Woman's Press Club; Mrs. Robert Hunt, Mrs. Rix Stafford, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Atlanta society editors; Mrs. Warren Thorne, president Macon Junior League; Dr. W. F. Melton, Atlanta Writers' Club; Miss Ruth Blair, secretary Georgia Historical Society; Mrs. Fritz Jones, president Atlanta Pen Women.

In addition to Atlanta alumnae, members of the following groups are invited: Atlanta Junior League, Writers' Club, New Era Study Club, Nineteenth Century Club, Shakespearian Class of 1896, A. A. U. W., Atlanta Pen Women, Women's Press Club, president's council of Wesleyan College, The Scribes, which is Wesleyan's Writers' Club; Macon Writers' Club, Wesleyan officers, faculty and trustees, staff of Macon Telegraph and Macon News.

Mrs. Ethridge, who is an inimitable speaker, as well as a gifted author, will talk, explaining why she selected Macon as the background for her essays and describing some of the most humorous experiences in her recent travels. Added to her many laurels was the honor of having been chosen toastmistress at the centennial banquet last May when over 250 alumnae gathered to celebrate Wesleyan's 100th birthday.

Mrs. Ethridge, who specialized in journalism under Miss Virginia Garner, is at present engaged in writing a novel.

Peachtree Hills Club Installs Officers.

The Peachtree Hills Woman's Club met Wednesday with Mrs. Frank Connell on Fairhaven circle.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Ed L. Almond, a past president of Grant Park Woman's Club and are as follows: Mrs. Robert Flournoy, president; Mrs. Harvey Harrison, vice president; Mrs. John T. Patton, second vice president; Mrs. C. Stegall, recording secretary; Mrs. W. C. Fleurnoy, treasurer; and Mrs. H. A. Milliken, corresponding secretary.

A gift of silver was presented Mrs. Robert Flournoy, president, in recognition of services rendered the club the past year.

Mrs. Joseph Valdesse was welcomed as a new member.

During the social hour a handkerchief shower was tendered Mrs. J. V. Spainhower, one of the members, who is leaving soon to reside in Knoxville, Tenn.

College Park Garden Division Sponsors Opera.

On April 16 at 8 o'clock at the S. R. Young school auditorium the garden division of the College Park Woman's Club will sponsor the Alberta Summer Opera Company in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, entitled "The Gondoliers."

This opera was given recently at the Atlanta Woman's Club with much success.

About 50 experienced singers and actors take part in this colorful play. Tickets can be purchased from Mrs. Hoyt Trimble or her committee.

Beta Sigma Phi.

The Epsilon and Zeta Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority gave a skating party for the rushers and pledges Wednesday at Lakewood.

The Zeta Chapter will give a breakfast at Peacock Alley Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

There's no telling when Atlanta will claim the pretty deb again, because she plans to visit her cousin, Betty Patterson, in Richmond before returning home.

Mrs. Robert E. Fitzgerald, of Wauwatosa, Wis., president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Medical Association and director of Province IV of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, who is the distinguished guest of Mrs. J. Bonar White at her home on Penn avenue.

Mrs. Alexander Named President Of Colonial Dames at Macon Meet

MACON, Ga., April 8.—(P)—Electing Mrs. A. L. Alexander, of Savannah, as president, members of the Georgia Society of the Colonial Dames of America closed their annual convention here today. Following the business session the delegates attended luncheon at the home of Mrs. S. T. Coleman.

Lively discussions took place on an amendment which was passed to allow the local town committees to select their quota of new members each year. After an hour's debate on the resolution submitted by the Atlanta town committee, the resolution was passed.

Other officers elected included Mrs. John Kirk Train, Savannah; Mrs. George Winship, Atlanta; Mrs. John B. Whitney, Augusta, and Mrs. Merrill Ross, Macon, vice presidents. Mrs. Alexander succeeds Mrs. Thomas Pinckney Waring, of Savannah, as president.

Tea and Luncheon Honor Miss Dallis.

A series of social affairs continue to honor Miss Epsie Dallis, popular bride-elect. Mrs. Joseph W. Cooper Jr. entertained at a tea at her home on Chatham road in her honor yesterday. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. G. Arthur Howell, mother of the bride, and her sister, Mrs. Francis My Bird. Guests included the members of Miss Dallis' wedding party and out-of-town guests here for the wedding.

Mrs. Ben T. Smith was hostess yesterday at a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving Club in company to Miss Dallis. The exquisitely appointed table held an arrangement of white calla lilies and covers were laid for the members of the honor guest's wedding party and Mesdames Ulric Atkinson, J. W. Goldsmith, E. E. Dallis, Denny P. Smith, Frank Terrell, and Miss Judy King, sister of the hostess.

Hard of Hearing League To Meet.

Atlanta League for Hard of Hearing meets Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock in the league room of the Y. W. C. A. on Auburn avenue, with Mrs. J. Harold Nicholson, president, presiding. All members are urged to attend as reports will be made by officers and chairmen of work accomplished during the past year. New officers will be elected.

Atlanta League is a member of the American Society for the Hard of Hearing with headquarters in Washington, D. C., and is active in the rehabilitation work of the hard of hearing. Atlanta League fosters the study of lip reading, advises about the use of hearing aids and is always ready to help the hard of hearing with adjustment problems due to this handicap.

Smillie School P. T. A. Will Sponsor Play.

The Smillie School P. T. A. will sponsor a play, "Smillie Symphonies," to be presented by the students of the school on this evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. A Japanese play, "The Sun Goddess," will be a special feature and song and dance numbers will be offered. Charlotte Bishman and Catherine Ditting, who have Hollywood contracts, will appear on the program.

Mrs. Edwin G. Gilbert is directing the play and Miss Doris Johnson will act as accompanist. Proceeds from the play will be used for the benefit of the school. Tickets may be secured from the committee in charge: Mesdames J. W. Warwick, A. Sherman, S. A. Fraser and Miss Mary Standard.

Miss Swartz Honored By Hadassah Group

A luncheon in honor of Miss Shulamith Swartz was given by the Business and Professional Women's division of the Atlanta Chapter of Hadassah yesterday.

Miss Swartz was presented by the division with a certificate showing that a tree had been planted in her name in Hadassah forest in Palestine. Miss Helen Seft, chairman of the luncheon, presented the certificate to Miss Swartz with an expression of appreciation of the division for her courtesy in addressing the division.

Miss Ann Balser was co-chairman with Miss Seft and Miss Lillian Singer, telephone chairman.

Miss Swartz is on a lecture tour of the southeast and is now on her way to attend the regional convention of Junior Hadassah in Memphis on April 10. Her informal talk at the luncheon presented the aims and purposes of the Business and Professional Women's Divisions of Hadassah throughout the country and Hadassah's projects in Palestine.

Over 45 women attended the luncheon, all being members and friends of Senior, Junior and Business and Professional Divisions. Mrs. R. M. Travis, president of the senior chapter, and Miss Lottie Goncher, vice president of the junior chapter, were guests of the division.

A miniature Palestine landscape decorated the speakers' table, with spring flowers adding color to the scene. A mirrored lake in the center with flowering fruit trees bordering the sanded shore heightened the attractiveness of the grassy sward upon which the scene was presented. At each end of the landscape was an orange orchard and a lemon orchard in miniature, the trees being made of candies, and signifying the citrus industry of Palestine.

The membership drive of the division is being successful expedited and the slogan "Every Member Bring a Member" is helping achieve the goal set by the membership committee, of which Miss Gershon is chairman, when of the members of which are: Misses Rose Goldstein, Pearl Goldstein, Anne Goldstein, Jennie Goldstein, Lillian Singer, Lena Katz, Ann Balser, Sarah Taylor, Mrs. Sarah Zaban.

T. E. L. Class Names Mrs. Buckner President

The T. E. L. Class of the Lakewood Heights Baptist church spent the day Wednesday at the church, studying the Gospel of John in the forenoon and holding the business meeting in the afternoon. The members of the class who conducted the study were: Mesdames W. H. Stackhouse, J. A. Cawthon, U. G. Buckner, J. C. Roquemore, T. L. Brown, L. E. Redmond, Vassar Edwards, A. B. Ervay, H. A. Leftwich, and the teacher, Mrs. Charles L. Whaley.

Because of ill health, the president, Mrs. P. M. Cannon, tendered her resignation. Mrs. U. G. Buckner was elected to fill her unexpired term of office. Since Mrs. Buckner was third vice president of the class, Mrs. W. H. Stackhouse was elected to fill her unexpired term.

Mrs. Fred Jones, a past president of the class, was presented with a beautiful hand bag as a going-away gift from the class. Mrs. Jones is leaving the city to make her home in New York.

The hostesses were Mesdames M. F. Chandler, C. L. Mote and W. H. Stackhouse. Members of the class present were Mesdames U. G. Buckner, H. A. Leftwich, H. E. Lott, B. L. Nelms, J. A. Cawthon, G. G. Watkins, F. V. Chastain, J. T. Shaw, J. C. Roquemore, W. C. Tumlum, W. F. Alewine, M. L. Coggins, Fred Jones, T. L. Brown, G. W. Willoughby, W. B. De Fosse, M. F. Chandler, J. A. Varbrough, W. H. Stackhouse, M. S. Perry, P. M. Cannon, A. B. Ervay, C. L. Whaley, C. L. Mote, Vassar Edwards, S. E. Andrews, L. E. Redmond, Warren Flury, A. L. Flury and Miss Doris Buckner.

For Mr., Mrs. Strauss.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strauss, of New York, are being honored at a series of informal social affairs during their visit here and among events of this afternoon will be the aperitif party at 6 o'clock at which Randolph Hearst will be host at his apartment at the Biltmore hotel in their honor.

Mrs. Price and Mrs. Coxon Assist Mrs. Rollison in Conference Plans

Among prominent Georgia women lending their support in assisting Mrs. J. A. Rollison, president of the Georgia Affiliated Democratic Women's Clubs, in making plans for the meeting of the Southern Regional Conference of Democratic Women, which convenes in Atlanta at the Henry Grady hotel on April 28 and 29, are Mrs. Virginia Polhill Price, national Democratic committee woman for Georgia, and Mrs. Helen Williams Coxon, vice chairman state Democratic executive committee.

Georgia is fortunate in having the Southern Regional Conference convene here this year as these annual meetings rotate among the six southern states and it will be several years before Georgia will have this privilege again.

Upon a recent visit to Washington, D. C., Mrs. Rollison, on behalf of the Georgia Affiliated Democratic Women's Clubs, extended the invitation for the conference to convene in Georgia, realizing, as Mrs. Rollison said, that "It would bring to the Democratic women of Georgia a clearer knowledge of the work of the Democratic party and because of the educational programs and the opportunity they offer us in formulating our plans throughout the clubs of our state."

Five hundred invitations have been issued to leaders among the Democratic women of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama by Mrs. Rollison and the Georgia Affiliated Democratic Women's Clubs to attend the conference, and a large number from each state is expected. Motorcades from all parts of Georgia are being planned by the Democratic women of the various counties.

While this is a conference sponsored by the women's division of the Democratic national committee, several of Georgia's outstanding statesmen have been invited to attend, among whom are Governor E. D. Rivers, United States Senators Walter F. George and Richard B. Russell Jr. and Congressman Robert Ramspeck.

Miss Mary Dawson, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Mrs. Charles Tillet, regional adviser for this area, are arranging the program for the conference, plans for which will be published at an early date.

Pilot Club Board and Dinner Meetings Take Place April 12-13

The executive board of the Atlanta Pilot Club meets Monday at 5:45 o'clock at the Ansley hotel, and the monthly dinner and business meeting will take place at 6 o'clock on Tuesday at the Ansley hotel civic room. The Tuesday meeting will be marked by the election of three delegates to the convention of District No. 2, which will be held in Augusta April 24 and 25, and over which District Governor Ethel Cooper, of the Atlanta Club, will preside.

The president, Mrs. Carolyn Selvers, will appoint a nominating committee which will report at the April 27 meeting, when officers for the coming year will be elected.

Sixteen members received into the club during the past year were initiated at impressive ceremonies Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Grace Turner, on North avenue. The committee in charge of the initiation was composed of Miss Julia Parker, chairman; Miss Juliette Dowling, Mesdames Annie Louise Brigham and Lucie Brantley. Members initiated were Misses Ena Wrenn, Martha Randall, Kate Wheeler, Martha Sheppard, Ocie Matthews, Elizabeth Goodwin, Sara Means, Bertie Hale, Tullie Fishback, Gladys Cory, Merry Tillman, Mesdames Marjorie Jennings, Sue Landers, Winnie Hilton, Marion Rice and Opal Lacy. The immediate past president of Pilot International, Miss Mable Clair Speth, of Savannah, was a visitor.

Catholic Club Holds Election of Officers.

At the recent federation meeting of the Young People's Catholic Club of the Immaculate Conception church, Alton Baumgartner was elected president of the Georgia Federation of Junior Catholic Clubs, and Rosa Johann was voted secretary. The next convention of the federation will be in Atlanta during the month of May at the St. Anthony's church, and the new officers will be installed at that time.

Succeeding Mr. Baumgartner on the executive committee will be Rose Riordan, and Robert Johann will act as chairman.

An interesting debate has been planned for the meeting on Sunday, on the subject: Resolved: That the Plan for Remodeling the Supreme Court Should be Adopted. The affirmative side will be upheld by Barney Keeney, Sarah Dunlap and Aldo Garoni. The negative side will be discussed by Alton Baumgartner, Thomas Clark and Ines Fornara. The judges will be Bill Bruckner, president of the Blessed Chanel Club; Thomas Kehoe, president of the St. Anthony's Club, and Stephen Germanian, president of the Young People's Catholic Club.

Parties Are Given For Miss Moseley.

Miss Moseley was central figure last evening at the bridge party and linen shower given by Miss Dorothy Merryman and Mrs. Burtz Boulware at their home on Pelham road.

The decoration in the home and on the buffet supper table were in green and white. The center of the table was graced with a silver bowl filled with roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. C. A. Merryman assisted her daughters in entertaining.

Present were Misses Moseley, Frances Norman, Mary Armistead, Jane Massey, Gladys Valabona, Elizabeth Swinford, Evelyn Burns, Margaret Newberne, Katherine Hester and Mesdames C. W. Swinford, L. A. Moseley, DeLos Spring Jr. and S. T. Bailey.

Mrs. Leonard A. Moseley was hostess yesterday at a trousseau tea her home on Boulevard, N. E., honoring her daughter, Teal, was poured by Mrs. Carl Minor and Mrs. C. W. Swinford, the service gracing one end of the lace-covered tea table in the dining room. A silver bowl filled with spring flowers centered the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacey Bailey, of Orlando, Fla., parents of the bridegroom-elect, who have arrived for the wedding and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moseley, were among the guests at the tea.

Dogwood Garden Club.

The recent monthly meeting of the Dogwood Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Bryan with Mrs. J. B. Pendergrass as co-hostess. Mrs. Forrest Smith was made chairman of the flower show to be held in May. Members are proud of the fact that they won the highest score of any garden club in Atlanta with 478 points for the first five months of judging of flower arrangement at the Garden Center, due entirely to Mrs. Moye's efforts.

Mrs. C. J. Calhoun and Mrs. Charles Moye were appointed delegates to the garden convention in Rome, with Mrs. W. D. Alexander and Mrs. Warren Sewell as alternates. Mrs. Hughlett read an interesting paper on the history of the club. Mrs. Moye, with the aid of blackboard and pictures, gave an instructive talk on "Flower arrangement."

My Day

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, Wednesday.—Mrs. Grenville Emmet, wife of our minister to the Netherlands, who has come over here just for a few weeks, and our old friends, Helen and Lucius Wilmerding and Mr. and Mrs. John Regis, all come down for the last formal dinner of the year. Just before they arrived, my husband telephoned that the doctors had decided that James and Betsy's little girl, Sara, must be operated on for appendicitis.

She awoke in the morning feeling miserable and complaining of a tummy ache, and while one hates to have an operation, still it is probably as well to have her appendix out at an early age if it is going to bother her at all. She is apparently fairly comfortable, though she doesn't quite understand what happened to her.

I was late in going over to the Women's University Club for tea, and felt very guilty when I saw how many people were crowded down stairs waiting to come up and greet the receiving committee and myself. After dinner, Admiral Byrd and I had to go down to the diplomatic reception room, as he and I spoke at the beginning of the "No Foreign War" program which Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick closed from New York City. After the radio speech was over the movie men concentrated on us.

I have never talked successfully or naturally for the newsreels, so for some time I have insisted that I should be seen and not heard. They made such a point, however, of my welcoming Admiral Byrd into this place of peace work that I finally spoke one brief sentence. I only pray that I shall not regret this lapse from my usual procedure. It would not matter so much, only I think it hurts any cause to have someone take part in it and do it extremely badly.

I got back to the east room just in time to see one dance and to hear one song by the members of the Pine Mountain Settlement school, of Harlan county, Kentucky. Then I saw one group of tricks by Dr. Sydney Ross, a magician.

When these young Kentuckians were introduced to the President he was very interested to find that one of the boys was named Turner. Years ago, when he was riding through Harlan county with his uncle, Warren Delano, they spent the night with a family named Turner, who were kind to them.

At 10:30 this morning I went out with my brother to look over his new railway and was much interested in this type of bus which runs on tracks and can leave them when necessary. It opens up possibilities for speed and convenience in travel in the future.

PLEASANT HOMES

BY ELIZABETH McRAE BOYKIN

When a lady pops out with tulips of a spring morning, she may as well say good-bye to her manicure till the end of summer. Because all the gardening gloves and lotions can't entirely protect fingers that dig and weed!

But she'll feel her flowers are worth the sacrifice of romantic hands, and so will family and guests if that garden is really used and enjoyed. . . it's all right to oh over the roses and ah over the perennial borders, but living with them is much more fun.

An outdoor living room is the real reason for a garden, according to our way of thinking. A friend of ours has one that we hope to copy, with variations, of course, to conform to our own particular garden and yard.

Greta has a flag-stoned terrace deep in the end of her garden. An outdoor fireplace has been built in at one end, while at the other end there's an antique dipping well. (This had to be explained to us. It seems that in old English gardens covering acres and acres the watering problem was quite serious in the days before piped water and rubber hose, so at strategic places in the garden were placed huge lead dipping wells which were kept filled either by natural rainfall or by hauling tanks of water to them.) While this old dipping well added a lot of interest in this garden, a small fountain, which wouldn't be expensive or difficult to arrange, will be a substitute in our garden "room."

Furniture Should Be Comfortable.

The plants around the flag-stoned terrace were luxuriantly leafy green shrubs, not so many flowers here as on the path leading here from the house. Then the furniture was white metal, the very comfortable springy kind that moves with your body as you sit in it. Besides chairs, there was a large table with a green and white umbrella and several small glass top tables. (Because our house is stone, we think maybe natural wood or rattan garden furniture would suit our needs best though, much as we like white.)

But we hope to achieve the same charm that Greta has in her outdoor living room. Here is a cool sanctum on a summer day, and a popular gathering place for family and friends all summer.

HEALTH TALKS

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

IMMUNITY AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.

The other day the findings of a survey in England were summarized here, one of them being that student nurses in hospitals where tuberculosis patients are cared for, almost invariably (58 to nearly 100 per cent) became infected before the end of their senior year in the training school. Only a few of these infected nurses ever develop active tuberculosis, however. The infection, if small or of low virulence, does no apparent harm, but on the contrary, in the course of several months, increases the individual's natural immunity, so that thereafter she is capable of withstanding a much larger or more virulent infection. Indeed, the survey led to the conclusion that only young women who are tuberculin-positive, that is react to the skin-intracutaneous tuberculin test, should be admitted to nurse training schools in institutions caring for tuberculosis patients.

From early times cod liver oil has been employed as a remedy for tuberculosis (formerly called scrofula and phthisis and consumption) and for chronic arthritis (rheumatism, gout) and for "almost all cases in which there is impaired assimilation and nutrition" (to quote from the 1899 United States Dispensary). At various times the remedial virtues of fish liver oil have been attributed to the nutritive value of the oil, to the iodine in the oil and to other factors. Today it is generally agreed that the vitamins in fish liver oils explain whatever superiority such oils may have over the fats or oils, from animal or vegetable source, commonly used as food.

Fish liver oil contains a far greater amount of vitamin D than does any natural food of man. It contains also a considerable amount of vitamin A, though not a great deal more than various natural foods of man. Here it is fair to say that I don't savor vitamin A. I doubt whether anyone in this country ever suffers from lack of vitamin A (unless his food is unnaturally restricted). In fact, I doubt the existence of a factor in food, entirely distinct from vitamin D, which is designated vitamin A. Anyway, I think it is of no practical importance whether there is such a vitamin as A or not. Who cares?

An enormous number of people do suffer in health, I believe, from lack of sufficient vitamin D. I believe deficiency in the daily intake of vitamin D, and not deficiency of vitamin A, is one cause of low immunity against respiratory infection—any and every kind of infection (cri) from simple coryza to pulmonary tuberculosis.

Vitamin D, not vitamin A, is produced in the skin by the action of ultra-violet light in direct sunshine. If it were not for superfluous clothes and dark houses perhaps everyone would manufacture all the vitamin D his body requires. But civilized people are as childish as primitive savages in their subjection to tabus and tribal customs and so most of us suffer in health and development from constant deficiency of vitamin D throughout infancy, childhood and early adult life. Unfortunately, no natural food, in reasonable or proper quantity, provides enough vitamin D to insure normal health and development of infant, child or young adult.

Miss Marjory Edwards Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. J. S. Wing and Miss Marjorie Edwards were hostesses Wednesday evening at a lingerie shower complimenting Miss Marjorie Edwards, whose engagement to Eugene Farris, of Wilmington, N. C., has been announced. They were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Wing's mother, Mrs. H. K. Chapman.

The party was given at the home of Mrs. Chapman on Clair drive, the house being elegantly decorated with spring flowers.

The table was decorated with small silver vases filled with pink and white flowers, having as a centerpiece a miniature wedding party. Pink and white color scheme was carried out in the party motif.

Present were Misses Doris Turner, Billie McCormick, Augusta Redwood, Mesdames A. S. Florence, Sam Orr, Robert Carter, Raymond Resington, John Phillips and Azah McPherson.

St. Anne's Circle.

The ladies of St. Anne's Circle, of Sacred Heart church, will serve a benefit lunch on April 13, from 12 to 2 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Sacred Heart school. The following committee is in charge: Mesdames A. C. Crawley, R. T. Hanlon, George White and E. J. Hayes.

Brenau Events.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 8.—The Brenau Choral Club, with Miss Regina V. Carlin, director, will give a voice concert April 19 at 8:30 o'clock in the Brenau auditorium. In addition to the choral numbers Misses Athalia Hough, Mary Virginia McBrien, Mimi Guyer and Martha Bell will appear at Emory University April 22 when the concert will be sponsored by the Emory Glee Club.

The Brenau debate team, composed of Misses Arminia Lewis and Frances Shaffer, visited Piedmont College Tuesday evening to uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved: That Social Fraternities Should Be Barred from Colleges and Universities." The discussion was extremely interesting.

The Alpha Chi Omega sorority held its annual state luncheon in Atlanta April 3. Attending were Misses Polly Mitchell, Mary Blackburn, Lucile Jones, Adele Jensen, Ruth Carlton, Elizabeth Gleson, Martha Tallant, Leilah Mosely, Junda Peterson, Sara Parker and Eleanor Dickerson.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

My wife is allergic to cigarette smoke. The vocalizing in which I sometimes indulge renders her highly nervous and my whistling annoys her pet dog. I eat too much and sleep too little. She requires small quantities of food and at least 12 hours of sleep. It is impossible for me to do the Rip Van Winkle for such long periods unless under the influence of a popular soporific which makes my breath offensive and my presence undesirable. My income is unsatisfactory to her and she wishes to augment it by winning several thousand dollars, and a motor car, in answering alluring ads. She totally disregards her proficiency as a typist and bookkeeper and the possibility of securing a remunerative position in an office. My hearty demonstrations of affection for her are not welcomed as she dislikes to be pawed over so much. Kissing is a germ carrying disease and childbirth a hazard to health. My meals are ready and my clothes mended when I have taken a hand. She isn't jealous of me as she is definitely convinced that no other woman could make the fatal mistake she made in choosing me for a mate. She occasionally thrills me and inspires me by calling me sweet names, the same ones she bestows on her beloved dog. I love her sincerely, adore our baby and although I am regarded as a complete flop as a husband, I don't want a divorce. Would you consider her a cheated wife? THEODORE.

ANSWER:

Friend, I don't know what you do for a living, but you might be able to augment your income by doing satirical pieces and marketing them. It's a gift. Answering your question categorically: I would consider any wife cheated whose husband stung her with sarcasm and riddled her with ridicule. None of which is to say that you also are not cheated; for any man with a large, neurotic wife sees a hard time in matrimony. Maybe you don't know it, but it frequently happens that a husband can cure a wife's neurosis more quickly and effectively than the best specialist. In fact, the husband can cure her without the specialist's aid but the specialist can't cure her without the husband's aid. As for her laziness, it is an incurable disease. So we will say no more about that. Here is some advice which you haven't asked but advice that you may use to good advantage.

Control yourself; refuse occasionally to admit to her the sweet and endearing "dog" terms thrill you and inspire you. She will redouble her efforts to ingratiate herself. Attend a movie while she sleeps and it won't be long until she gets up, puts on her clothes and calls for a ticket to go with you. Eat some meals at restaurants in protest against her criticism of your appetite. She will quit counting your calories for you. Withdraw from her a bit and she will edge up to you. Even though she isn't jealous, she won't relish having the other gals make over you. Attend a few parties with her and let her see how well you hold your own with others. This will run your stock up. Don't let her take you for a sure thing.

Summed up: Quit wasting your keen wit in cynical comment on your wife's deficiencies and her neuroticisms. Give her the love she craves and expect her to snap out of it and show her the way.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Program at Hospital.

Thomas Jones, commander of Greater Atlanta Post No. 390, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Mrs. W. P. Irvine, president of Ladies' Auxiliary, entertained at Veterans' hospital on Peachtree road Tuesday.

Program was under the leadership of Ladies' Auxiliary hospital chairman, Mrs. Bertha Gossett, with A. E. Cutler as master of ceremonies. Dances were given by Betty Abernathy, Georgia Richardson, Frances Tyler, Marjorie Ann Peoples, Laure Swindel, Dewey Redfield, Frances Knighton, Evergreen Wright, Dorothy Raylins, Steve Jenkins, Georgia Bell, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. W. H. Hanna and Miss Margaret Boyd. William Chambers gave a solo, and Nell Goodwin, noted child pianist, rendered selections. R. L. Carroll, Johnny Jones, A. E. St. John and Erby Dorcy, the Dixie Hot Shot String Band, played selections. Vocal and guitar solos were given by Miss Lucile Dorcy.

Sam Gossett presented comedy sketches and Mrs. R. Badgett sang songs appropriate to Army Day. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. V. Dake.

Garden Club.

Mount Vernon Garden Club met recently with Mrs. S. P. Brewer, on Carroll avenue, in Hills Park. Mrs. H. F. Johnson gave an interesting reading on "Evergreens."

In contests first prizes were won by Mrs. J. C. McElreath and Mrs. R. J. Walters, the booby prizes being won by Mrs. R. J. Brewer and Mrs. J. L. Nolen, and Mrs. R. J. Duncan won the mystery package.

The first anniversary of the Mount Vernon Club will be celebrated on May 18 with a "spend-the-day" party at the home of Mrs. D. J. Brewer, on Ellen street in Hills Park.

For Miss Proctor.

Miss Catherine Tift will be hostess Sunday at a luncheon at the Capital City Club complimenting Miss Mary Lucile Proctor, who leaves next week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Proctor, for New York, from where they will sail for Europe.

Following luncheon the guests, who will include Misses Proctor, Eloise Ellis, Elsie Junnick, Lillian Roberts and Mrs. E. B. Proctor and Mrs. T. W. Tift, will attend a matinee.

Beauty According to YOU!!

A Bath Powder in a Fragrance That's Entirely Different

By LILLIAN MAE.

Seasons may come and seasons may go, but bath powders we insist upon having with us through all of them.

Be the bath a warm tub or a cold shower, there is nothing else that adds just the finish achieved by a large, soft puff and a lovely box of body powder in your favorite fragrance.

There are hundreds of such powders on the market, and it's just a matter of individual taste, which you select. But if you prefer to feel very regal—and who doesn't now that everyone is talking and thinking "coronation"—I have for you a dusting powder the very name of which suggests a crown and a throne. It's said this particular line dates back to the days of Catherine the Great of Russia—that she had it made for her exclusive use in those days long ago. Whether or not that is true, it is a pretty story, and if it makes us feel more grand to think we are using a product first used by a queen, then let's get a box of it today.

Incidentally, the box is very attractive, and will add beauty to your bathroom shelf. And if you like your complete line of perfumes in the same odor, both extract and "essence," the latter being more like a toilet water, are obtainable in this product.

If you wish further information on the products mentioned above, phone Lillian Mae at The Constitution. If you do not live in Atlanta, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your query.

East Atlanta Social News.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strickland will entertain the Triple M Club Friday evening at their home on Cleveland avenue, in East Atlanta.

Mrs. Cliff Wright entertained her bridge club Monday afternoon at her home on Glenwood avenue.

S. Williams, Mrs. W. E. Thompson and Misses Mary Louise Burton, Elizabeth Gilbert and Mary Turkington.

The following students were presented in student recital Monday: Eloise Corbett, Ida Felt, Frances Collins, Sara Frances Gibson, Guslie Taylor, Faye Dunlap, Mary Ann McCalla and Merrell Callaway.

The annual glee club concert will be presented Monday evening under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Gilbert.

The Oakdale Guard Club in Smyrna met Thursday with Mrs. Charles Leffew. Mrs. G. W. Anderson and Mrs. J. R. Monroe gave reports of work done at car shops.

Two old members, Mrs. Norman Ross, Maner and Mrs. Norman Ross, were welcomed back to the club, also two new members, Mrs. Homer Williams and Miss Georgia Landers.

Mrs. Hoyle Dobbins talked on her visit to the garden school of Georgia. Mrs. R. W. Maner and Miss Jennie Brown were made honorary members.

A flower naming contest was held and first prize was won by Mrs. J. R. Monroe. Consolation went to Mrs. Henry Jackson.

Contract Bridge

World's By ELY CULBERTSON, Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily installments.

THE DEFENDERS' BIDDING. A player who enters the bidding after one of his opponents has made an opening bid is called a defender. The defender enters the bidding for one of two reasons:

1. For defensive purposes: To conduct by judicious overbidding a kind of guerrilla tactics with the object of intimidating the enemy; or, to point out to partner a possible opening lead against opponents' suit or no-trump contract; or, to suggest a suit in which a possible paying sacrifice may be taken.

2. For aggressive purposes: To coax or trap the enemy into a penalty or to secure the contract for his side. It may be stated as a general principle that, when a player has a fairly strong hand he should, whenever safely possible, enter the bidding for one of these two purposes. To pass for a trap, except with certain types of hands and in a few rare strategic circumstances, is a losing game.

TODAY'S HAND.

Today's hand brings out a little appreciated, but often valuable, point of discarding.

YOUR FIGURE, SIR!

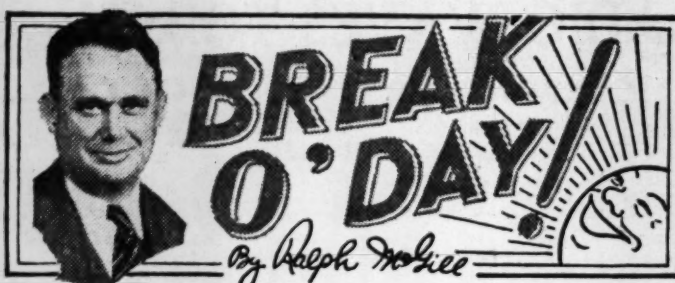

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

BELTLINE INDEX TO FITNESS. How many inches has your beltline expanded since your football days? If it has increased more than three inches, you had better look to your weight.

According to a leading Fifth avenue tailor, a man's normal waistline measures from five to six inches less than his chest. In the athletic figure there is often an eight-inch drop, forming a perfect triangle, but for the perfectly built Size 38 the standard measurements are: Chest, 38 inches, and waist, 32 inches. Sir Anthony Eden, England's best-dressed diplomat, also conforms to the tailor's notions of the well-built man.

As sizes go up the waistline goes up, too, and a five-inch difference between these two salient measurements is quite all right for the larger man. Among the stylish

Bobby Durham To Pitch Against Oglethorpe Nine Today

I'll never forget Jay See See, the turf writer, gone to the eternal fields, God rest him, and his insistence on horse facts. If ever a story came about a sire feeling proud of some colt that had won; or a dam feeling very set up and a bit snooty because some son or daughter had won a great race—well, Jay See See could come around.

"A horse," he would say, his face pained, "has no pride of progeny."

But, still, it makes one of those stories. Especially since the Kentucky Derby this next May has six sons of former victors in the Kentucky Derby eligible to gallop just before dusk on the evening of May 8 at Churchill Downs.

The sixth race at Churchill Downs—that's the time when the crowd, most of which has waited since morning, begins to strain at the fences and to pack densely about the points of vantage.

That's the time when the tinny sound of the bugle breaks out across the crowd and the infield with the fluttering flags—and silence comes—and the notes of "My Old Kentucky Home" are heard.

Hard-face women soften—gamblers have been seen to cry—tough-looking lads listen intently as the notes of the old, old song come out of the loud speakers—"Weep no more, My lady."

And then it's done and the noise breaks. Well, that's a part of the scene.

And it would be quite a story if one of the six sons of former Derby winners should come banging down to the finish post first on the afternoon of May the eighth.

FATHER AND SON.

The father-and-son combination has won only three times in the long history of the race, 62 renewals of the Kentucky Derby. Twice since 1932 the son of a Derby winner has come home first.

Allan-A-Dale, which won the Derby in 1902, was the first to honor his pappy with a Derby victory.

He was the son of Halma, which won the race in 1895.

From that day on down to 1932 there was no sire could produce a colt good enough to win. But in 1932 Burgoon King came galloping in to win. His sire was Bubbling Over, winner in 1926, the year Colonel E. R. Bradley had his horses one, two in the Derby.

Three years later big Omaha raced to victory and the sports writers began hammering their typewriters telling of how the blood of Gallant Fox, one of the greatest horses of all time, had again appeared on the track in victory.

Gallant Fox had won the Derby in 1930.

AND NOW, IN 1937.

And now, in 1937, Gallant Fox, Bubbling Over, Reigh Count, which won in 1928, and Omar Khayyam, the only imported colt ever to win the Derby, all have sons entered in the race.

No one knows how many will go to the post. There will be many a Derby eligible scratched between now and May 8. But, surely, one or two of the six, and perhaps all six, will be in there at the starting post that afternoon.

Gallant Fox, known to those who follow the hoeses as "The Fox," has two sons eligible. They are Galsun and Gurkha.

And Galsun is one of the dark hoeses. A lot of money quietly is being placed on Galsun to win. The blood of "The Fox" is something to consider.

Royal Reigh and Ivory Tip are sired by Reigh Count.

BIG DOG SHOW OPENS TODAY; 400 ENTERED

Toy Judging First on Card at 20 Fifth Street.

More than 400 thoroughbred dogs will be exhibited at the Atlanta Kennel Club's Silver Jubilee Dog Show which opens this afternoon in spacious quarters at 20 Fifth street between Spring and West Peachtree. Club officials declare that it is to be the greatest dog show to be presented in Atlanta.

Additional interest in the show has been aroused this year through the enthusiastic support of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Junior Guild. Both of these organizations are co-operating with the Kennel Club in the presentation of the event.

A special feature of the show will be the spring fashion parade to be staged by the young ladies of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Junior Guild. This event is scheduled for Friday night and all of the newest creations of the current season will be displayed.

Great Variety.

Visitors to the show are certain to see the greatest variety of breeds and classes ever exhibited in this section. The reason for this is that not only has the number of local entries increased but a great many out-of-town dog fanciers are exhibiting here this year because the Atlanta show is part of the American Kennel Club's southeastern circuit of shows.

The circuit began on March 23 in Bristol, Tenn., and progressed to Knoxville, Memphis, Chattanooga, Birmingham and Montgomery. From Atlanta some exhibitors will move on to the show at Savannah on the 12th and 13th and then on to Charleston, Charlotte, Asheville and Durham.

The huge entry list has been divided into six general classifications. The first of these—Group 1 is for sporting dogs and includes retrievers, pointers, setters and spaniels. Group 2 is also for sporting dogs but only hounds of various breeds are entered in this group. The third group is entitled "working dogs" and here you will find Eskimo dogs, St. Bernards, Shetland sheepdogs and the like.

Terrier Groups.

The fourth group embraces terriers of all sizes and breeds. Group 5 is for toys while Group 6, the final one, includes non-sporting dogs such as poodles, chows, bulldogs and so on.

With such a large and varied group of entries there is bound to be keen competition for every one of the many prizes offered and it is sure to be a top-notch dog show which carries away the blue ribbon indicating first prize. Many Atlanta business houses and individual citizens are offering special awards and medals to the winning dog in various classifications.

Following is the schedule of judging which will be followed tomorrow and Saturday: Friday Morning, 11 O'clock—Mrs. Paul Hamer judging all toys. Friday Morning, 11 O'clock—Alva Rosenberg judging alderdale terriers, Cairn terriers, Schnauzers (miniature), Boston terriers, Scottish terriers, Welsh terriers, West Highland white terriers.

Friday Afternoon, 2 O'clock—Alva Rosenberg judging fox terriers smooth, fox terriers wire, dalmatians, poodles (stand and ar), Great Danes, French bulldogs, chows.

Friday Evening, 7 O'clock—Fashion show, staged by Rabun Gap-Nacoochee Junior Guild. Alva Rosenberg judging Boston terriers, Scottish terriers.

SATURDAY. Saturday Morning, 11 O'clock—Alva Rosenberg judging English setters, Irish setters, cocker spaniels, English springer spaniels, Irish water spaniels, beagles, dachshunds, fox hounds American.

Saturday Afternoon, 2 O'clock—Alva Rosenberg judging collies, Shetland sheep dogs, bulldogs, German shepherds, Doberman pinschers, Great Danes and any breeds not provided for in this schedule.

Saturday Evening, 8:30 O'clock—Introduction of newly completed champions and parade of champions. H. H. Sachers judging children's handling classes. Paul Hamer judging variety groups and best in show.

Mrs. Joe Cronin Is Reported Better

SARASOTA, Fla., April 8.—(P) Dr. David Kennedy, superintendent of Sarasota hospital, today announced that barring complications Mrs. Joseph Cronin, wife of the manager of the Boston Red Sox, would leave Sunday for her Washington, D. C., home.

Boy and girl twins, born prematurely to Mrs. Cronin, died yesterday.

Saddened by the death of the children and worried about his wife, Joe Cronin will stay behind when the rest of the team leaves tonight for Atlanta, Ga., the first stop on its homeward journey. Coach Herb Pennock will be in charge of the club.

The team was also without the services of two other players, Oscar Melillo, second baseman, left for Chicago today following receipt of word that his wife's condition had taken a turn for the worse. She had been convalescing after the birth of a son about a week ago.

Shortstop Eric McNair is visiting his motherless baby at Meridian, Miss. Mrs. McNair recently died in childbirth.

G. M. A. Trackmen Meet Poets Today

MACON, Ga., April 8.—(P)—The Georgia Military Academy track team, last year's G. I. A. A. champions, will be Lanier High school's first opponents in a meet here tomorrow.

NEW RING GROUP DECLINES ENTRY IN REVENUE ROW

City Commission Suspends Its Permits Effective April 10.

Moving ahead to perfect its organization, the Georgia Athletic Commission declined yesterday to enter a controversy regarding taxes, raised by the municipal boxing and wrestling commission of Atlanta.

John A. White, chairman of the city commission, said he had revoked city permits. The state has the power to grant them. White's letter said, in part:

"We stand ready and willing to co-operate with the state commission in every way, in order that sports may be conducted in the very best of manner," he said, "but we do not intend to stand by and let the state commission take the receipts from the city treasury, at the expense of the taxpayers, to pay their own salaries, and the city furnish all police and fire protection free. This condition must be remedied, as it is unfair and not just."

Wellborn Ellis, secretary of the commission, when informed of the city commission's action, said: "That does not affect the holding of any wrestling matches licensed by the state board. The act repeals any city ordinances in conflict with ours. Matches may be held whether the city furnishes police and fire protection or not, or whether the city withdraws and cancels licenses and permits."

The state commission has reduced the city's percentage, according to the act, from five per cent to one per cent. It was this act which caused the action of the city commission. Unless an agreement is reached the matter may be taken to the courts.

The new state body continued work on rules and regulations with the hope of finishing business this morning. The first matches under its jurisdiction are scheduled here tonight.

Ralph McGill, chairman of the state commission, received word of the action taken by the city commission at the capitol.

He said: "The legislature created the commission, the Governor appointed us, and we are just organizing. Until organization is completed, I have no further comment."

Members of the commission were formally sworn in yesterday by Governor E. D. Rivers. Besides McGill, the other members are L. C. Burns, of Savannah; Bobby Norrie, of Macon; Dr. J. D. Mahaney, of Columbus, and Lester F. Elliott, of Augusta.

Governor Rivers expressed an interest in furthering the amateur sports in high schools and asked that the state commission work to this aim. His hopes are to create statewide sports progress. Yesterday's session of the state commission was devoted to conferences with promoters, issuing licenses and adoption of all rules and regulations on wrestling. Rules and regulations on boxing remain on the calendar.

A'S SWAP FOUR FOR LYNN NELSON

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8.—(P) Tom Watkins, president of the Memphis baseball club, announced tonight that Pitcher Lynn Nelson was traded today to the Philadelphia Athletics for four players.

In return for Nelson, regarded as the Athletics' leading pitcher, the club will receive Alton Benton, right-hand pitcher who won six and lost six for Chattanooga last year; Carl Doyle, right-hand pitcher; Jack Pearson, shortstop with Albany in the International league last year, and Oliver Blakeney, shortstop with Sioux City, of the Western league, in 1936.

Nelson came here from Atlanta at the tag-end of the 1935 season and last year won 14 and lost 16 for the tail-end Chicks.

MUNGER LOSES AT PINEHURST

PINEHURST, N. C., April 8.—(P)—Seventeen-year-old Bobby Dunkelberger again played the role of "giant killer" today when he ousted the favored Texas star, Jack Munger, from the north and south amateur tourney by a two-up victory in their second round match, recalling his upset victory a year ago over the veteran Francis Quimby in the same event.

Except for Dunkelberger's triumph and the defeat of Durham's hardhitting Henry Clay Poe by Tom Jamison, of Pittsburgh, the day's play went according to form, with the defending champion, the medalist and other favorites advancing without difficulty.

Two rounds were played tomorrow to make up for the loss of the first scheduled day when a heavy rain caused postponement of qualifying play.

Privileged Is Out Of Kentucky Derby

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 8.—(P) Trainer Frank Kearns, in charge of Warren Wright's Calumet Farms stable, said today Privileged would not be pointed for the Kentucky Derby May 8.

Kearns said the Calumet colors would be carried in the derby by Galsun and Goshum. Both, he said, have trained well this spring.

Eddie's Form in Utility Role Cheers Fans

Eddie Moore, whose record is two pennants in two full years of managing, will be in there to help the Crackers when he's needed this summer. Moore appears to be in 1935 form when his valuable utility playing was largely responsible for the club winning its first pennant in 10 years. In exhibition games this week Moore looked as good as ever to the bleacherites, who are counting on him to help Atlanta win three flags in a row. Eddie's ability to step into any spot where he's needed will help no little.

Eddie Appears Ready As Ace Utility Man

Cracker Pilot Is in '35 Form When His Versatility Virtually Decided Pennant.

By Jack Troy.

The ace utility man of the Crackers looks like he is ready for a great year.

Irish Eddie Moore rapped a single, swung around first and darted for second when the Macon left fielder juggled the ball instantly in Wednesday's game. Bleacherites shouted, "You're as good as ever, Eddie!"

The day before, Moore had relieved Johnny Hill at third. There were men on first and second when a sharp grounder came his way. He scooped it up, kicked the bag and then rifled the ball across the diamond to Andy Johnson at first base, completing a double play to end the contest.

It was a smartly executed play and gave all the indications necessary that Eddie Moore is ready.

Moore insists, of course, that on every ball hit out of the infield, runners take a quick turn around first base and forget the throw.

The Crackers were taking extra bases on the slightest provocation in the final game with Macon. The idea, of course, in rounding the bag and running up the line is that any slight fumble on a single may give the runner a chance to beat the throw to second.

On the other hand, he can get back to the bag before any throw can be made to first.

You may look for sound but colorful base running on the part of the champion Crackers this summer.

With such base runners as Malho, Mauldin, Luby, Chatham and others on the nine, Eddie Moore will have plenty of opportunity to use the hit-and-run.

Three Champions Retain Tank Titles

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 8.—(P)—Three champions repeated and one new titleholder was crowned tonight in the opening night's program of the national A. U. senior's men swimming championships in the Yale pool in Payne Whitney gymnasium.

Peter Fick, of the New York A. C.; Adolph Kiefer, of the Lake Shore A. C., Chicago, and Johnny Higgins, Ohio State freshman representing the Olneyville Boys' Club of Providence, R. I., retained the titles they won last year at Chicago. Accepting a first prize medal with them was 19-year-old Al Patnik, an unattached and unheralded youngster from Pittsburgh, who also is a yearling at Ohio State.

Patnik provided the only major upset of the evening by taking the one-meter springboard diving title from Al Greene, of the Detroit A. C., winner in 1936.

Paul Waner Confers With Pirates Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8.—(P) Paul Waner, National league batting champion, is on his way to Dallas, Texas, to find out whether or not he's going to play ball with Pittsburgh this year.

He passed through here tonight en route to Dallas from Bradenton, Fla., and said he would confer with President Bill Benswanger, of the Pirates, on the terms of his contract.

CRACKERS SEND THREE ROOKIES TO MACON CLUB

Pittman, Williams, Johnson Depart; Squad Now Within Six of Limit.

By Jack Troy.

Rain, a great stage play but the bugaboo of the Crackers' exhibition schedule this spring, yesterday washed out the game with Bill White's One-Armed Wonders.

However, in the comfort of the front office, considerable business was transacted.

Red Pittman, former Tech High star; Dewey Williams, the young catcher with the shotgun arm, and Andy Johnson, former Oglethorpe ace first baseman, were farmed to the Macon Peaches.

Ed Adams, another catcher turned back by Macon, was sent to Charlotte, and Harry Laval, infielder son of Billy, Emory and Henry coach, was scheduled to report to Jim Crawford at LaGrange.

McQuaig, Deweese.

This rather wholesale trimming of the squad left Gerald McQuaig and Norman Deweese to fight it out for the extra outfielder's berth and brought the squad down to within six players of the regular list of 19 for the first 30 days.

Manager Eddie Moore now is faced with the disposal of only four rookie pitchers and one of the two rookie outfielders.

Infielders—Johnny Hill, Buster Chatham, Hugh Luby and Alex Hooks.

Pitchers—Dutch Leonard, Bobby Durham, Bill Beckman, Jim Lindsey, Lou Garland (A men), and Rookies Jim Trexler, Ralph West, Gordon Maltberger, Luman Harris, George Simons, Art Bloom, Lawrence Miller and O. C. Spikes.

Catchers—Paul Richards and Jim Galvin.

There is one place open on the pitching staff. The five A men, West and Trexler, are set. So six rookies will have it out the remainder of the week for the one remaining place.

DURHAM WORKS TODAY.

PICARD LEADS GARDENS MEET AT CHARLESTON

Leader Cards Sub-Par 67 in Driving Rain; Cooper Second.

By KENNETH GREGORY.
CHARLESTON, S. C., April 8. (AP)—Henry Gilbert Picard, the "Hershey Hurricane," overhauled golf's professional brigade today to assume command at the half-way stage in the $5,000 tournament of gardens.

Cracking par wide open in the face of adverse weather conditions, the elongated shotmaker, who started his professional career on the course here, moved out in front at the 36-hole recent capitulation with a total of 135.

Picard, now a playing pro at Hershey, Pa., was three blows ahead of Lighthouse Harry Cooper, of Chicago, in his attempt to make it three successive triumphs over the Sappoo course and its mid-way tally represented a card of seven strokes under par. Sam Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., dropped to third position.

Time Out!

By Chet Smith

He lost five strokes to Picard and two to Cooper today.

Only one other player was better than par, Johnny Revolta, of Chicago, clinging to fourth place after adding a 72 to his first round 69, which was good enough for a third place tie, Ray Mangrum, the lanky pro from Oakmont, Pa., was even with standard figures, clipping a stroke from par to reach the halfway stage with 142.

Eight blows back of Picard in sixth place was Jimmy Thomson, of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., with 143. Thomson, the game's longest knocker, went out in a great 38, three under, but slipped to a 38, 3-over, coming in.

Lawson W. Little, of San Francisco, Cal., the former world's amateur champion, stood in seventh position and within striking distance, for the next two rounds. He was 144 with one-over par rounds of 72-72.

Frank Foud, veteran amateur from Charleston, paced the Simon pures with a 36-hole card of 149. Morton McCarthy, of Norfolk, Va., and Harold Butler, of Garden City, L. I., were second with 155.

Coast Fish Guide

Passes in Carolina

OCRAOKE, N. C., April 8.—(AP)—Simile O'Neal, one of the most well known fishing guides on the coast, died today.

The veteran fisherman, ill for some time, was well known to some of the nation's most prominent men, including Senator Joe Robinson, of Arkansas, Josiah Bailey, Representative Lindsay Warren and other state and national officials whose fishing parties he had conducted.

Recently he had been in charge of a beach erosion transient camp.

POMPOON TOPS PREAKNESS LIST OF 85 ELIGIBLES

Case Ace, Privileged Are Missing; Matey Is 'Dark Horse.'

By Paul Simmons.

BALTIMORE, April 8.—(AP)—The pick of the three-year-old crop from Heelfly, the Texas flash, to Pompoon, the big eastern bay, appeared today among the 85 nominations the Maryland Jockey Club announced for the forty-seventh renewal of the Preakness.

On the eight top racers as two-year-olds, only two—Case Ace and Privileged—were missing from the list released by Matt L. Daigler, Jockey Club secretary.

At the top was Pompoon, which took down $2,250 in prize money last year for J. H. Louchheim, of Philadelphia, his owner. The strapping offspring of Pompey-Onagh failed to win only two of his eight starts and a two-year-old was second in both of them.

His biggest stake was the Belmont Futurity and eligible to challenge him in the mile and three-sixteenth Preakness carrying $50,000 added money at Pimlico, May 15, will be three other Futurity winners. They are:

Milky Way Farms' Reaping Reward, a Sickle-Dustwhirl colt that conquered Pompoon in the New England Futurity and accounted for $56,965 in two-year-old prize money.

WINNER OF PIMLICO.

Matey, Walter M. Jeffords' chestnut Man O' War colt, winner of the Pimlico Futurity and $26,950.

J. W. Y. Martin's Triple Action, victor in the Maryland Futurity at Laurel.

Colonel E. R. Bradley named his highly rated Kentucky bred prospect, a blue larkspur colt, and Billionnaire, by Black Toney with Biologist, by Bubbling Over, in reserve. Glen Riddle Farms' War Admiral, another Man O' War colt; Mary Hirsch's No Sir, the second horse to whip Pompoon last year; Foxcatcher Farm's Fairy Hill, winner of the rich Santa Anita Derby, and Elizabeth C. Bosley's Betty's Buddy, talked of strongly as a dark horse, also are eligible.

Of 46 Derby eligibles not named for the Preakness, only Case Ace and Privileged appeared outstanding as two-year-olds. Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of the Milky Way Farms, owner of the former, has two other Preakness eligibles in addition to Reaping Reward—Military and Mars Shield.

TOUGH BREAK.

Privileged has a tough break at Pimlico last fall, finishing ahead of Matey in the Futurity only to be disqualified because of rough riding by his jockey. Neither he nor any other of Warren Wright's Calumet Farm thoroughbreds appears on the Preakness list although three were named for the Derby.

On non-Derby eligibles, Matey appears the best Preakness prospect. Although he won only three out of nine two-year-old starts, he rounded into fall form that promised well for his campaigning as a three-year-old.

CRACKERS

Oglethorpe Petrels at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Durham, who pitched five great innings against Panama City, was making his second start this spring. He is scheduled to work seven innings.

Durham, in perhaps the best shape of his career, looks like a good prospect to win 20 games this summer.

Lou Garland and Jim Lindsey are due to work today, the Sox against the Boston Red Sox Saturday and Sunday. The gold-plated Sox will reach here this morning. They will hold a work-out at the park between the hours of 1 and 1.

Manager Joe Cronin is not expected here before Saturday. He is staying in Sarasota until Mrs. Cronin is able to travel. Twin babies were born dead Wednesday. Mrs. Cronin's condition is reported as much improved.

The Crackers seemingly "set" the Macon club yesterday. In Pittman, Johnson and Williams, the Peaches got three first-class rookies.

PITTMAN PROMISING.

Pittman really hustled for the Crackers in the spring and his only drawback was lack of experience. He ought to go great in Class B ball this summer. His looks like a bright future.

Johnson should be the class of Sally league first sacker. And Williams—well, the boys who have a tendency to wander on the bases, will find themselves back on the bench if they take any liberty with his throwing arm.

Williams, who has something of a Dizzy Dean complex, reported at the spring camp with a finger glove. It was three days before Manager Eddie Moore discovered he was catcher.

When he asked Williams what he played, Dewey said: "Don't be fooled by this finger glove. Mister Dewey Williams is a catcher. He just doesn't have a mitt."

Dewey Williams, indeed, turned out to be just that—a great catching prospect. He was recommended to the Crackers by Napoleon Rucker, who doesn't make many mistakes in judgment. "Shotgun" Williams is only 19 years old and his throwing arm is all that the nick-name implies.

SMITHIES FACE COLUMBUS HIGH THIS AFTERNOON

Purples Meet G. M. A., Three Games Feature N. G. I. C. Slate.

By Roy White.

Tech High, the defending champion, and Columbus High, one of the challengers for the 1937 crown, will play the feature game of the third round of the Big Eight baseball schedule at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Piedmont Park. Both are undefeated in their only game of the new race.

Boys' High, beaten twice in as many starts, and G. M. A., who lost its opening game, will play at 8 o'clock at College Park in another of the series to determine the city championship.

Other games in the Big Eight include Lanier High at Columbus Industrial and Commercial High and Monroe Aggies at Monroe, Ga.

IN N. G. I. C.

Members of the North Georgia Interscholastic conference will play three games in the second round, with the Fulton High-Southwest DeKalb game at Decatur outstanding. Both are undefeated and appear to have the strongest clubs in the conference.

Other games in the N. G. I. C. include Marietta and Decatur at Decatur and Norcross and North Fulton at Buckhead.

That Tech High-Columbus High game should be well worth the while, since the winner will be on the inside track for the first half championship.

Columbus High looked unusually strong with Dan Kirkland, all-state basketball center for two years, leading the attack. Not only did Columbus hit well, but its pitching was above the average.

Tech High had to come from behind in a fine rally to beat Commercial's ace pitcher, Harold Guley, last week at Piedmont Park. The Tuesday game with G. M. A. was rained out.

SOUTHERN VARSITY SHOW

Pee Gee Souter, who struck out 15 Commercial batters last Friday, will face Columbus High this afternoon, with LeRoy Melvin as his batterymate.

Boys' High and G. M. A. will battle for third place in the standings, with Coaches Doyal and Burbage still undecided as to their starting pitchers. Captain Bob Smith worked a good game for the Purples Tuesday but is not expected to go today, unless in relief duty.

THE SCHEDULES.

Boys' High at G. M. A., Columbus High at Tech High, Lanier at Columbus Industrial.

N. G. I. C. Marietta at Decatur, G. M. A. at S. W. DeKalb, Norcross at North Fulton.

Savannah Releases Five Baseball Stars

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 8.—(AP) R. E. Lamotte, general manager of the Savannah Indians, South Atlantic league member, announced the release of five players from the training camp here: Joe Yenokis and W. C. Smith, pitchers; Dan Curtis, an outfielder; and Maury Jungman and W. C. Killian, infielders.

R.L. Hope To Receive Basketball Trophy

Out of a schedule of 12 basketball games this season the R. L. Hope team won 10 games. The Hope team will be awarded the Fulton county basketball trophy, which is offered annually by Knox Walker, supervisor of county schools to the winning county elementary school basketball team. Tournament games were played against teams from Center Hill, E. Rivers and Bolton.

Members of the squad are O. W. Whillaw, captain; Thomas McIlwain, business manager; Grady Black, transportation manager; Mark Pope, Frank Camp, Lee Potter, Thomas Hendrix, Gray Lindsey, Jim Barfield, Clyde Wilkins, Leo Stovall, Willis Van Frank, Jim Lowry, Joe Estes, Charles Brooks and Edward McKinney.

Athens Is Favored In District Meet

ATHENS, Ga., April 8.—Four schools, Athens, Greensboro, Washington and Madison, will compete in a track and field meet here Saturday afternoon. All are Tenth district teams.

Athens High, for the last two years conference holder, is highly favored to register the highest number of points.

Thomasville Nine Splits Two Games

THOMASVILLE, Ga., April 8. Thomasville's Orioles, of the Georgia-Florida league, emerged with an equal share of honors from a two-game exhibition series with the Gainesville G-Men, of the Florida State league.

292-POUND MARLIN.

STUART, Fla., April 8.—(AP)—A 292-pound marlin, measuring 10 feet, was landed here today by P. J. McIntosh, of New York, in a two-hour battle in the Gulf stream. It was one of the largest marlin ever caught on this section of the Florida east coast. McIntosh was recently awarded a silver trophy by the Stuart Sailfish Club for a seven-foot marlin which he landed on March 15.

Earl Mann Named to National Baseball Executive Committee

CRACKER HEAD WILL REPLACE J. AL GARDNER

Will Represent All A and A-1 Leagues on National Body.

By Ralph McGill.

Earl Mann, president of those Atlanta Crackers, last night was named to the executive committee of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, the minor league's organization.

William G. Bramham, president of the national association, appointed the Cracker president to fill out the unexpired term of J. Alvin Gardner, the veteran Texas league baseball man, who resigned recently to take care of private business.

MANN PLEASED.

Mr. Mann was in the condition popularly known as tickled to death. Or almost so.

"I don't know what to say," said Mr. Mann. "It is rather a tough assignment to take the place of a fellow like Alvin Gardner. He was one of the best baseball men in the game and one of the finest fellows. I still can't quite believe it," concluded Mr. Mann.

Mann will represent all the Class A and A-1 leagues in organized baseball.

This is but another step upward in the baseball world by the Cracker president, who is just over the 32-year age limit.

EARLY START.

Mann started in baseball at an early age. He used to hustle the peanuts at the park where he now serves as president.

He served as business manager at Rocky Mount, Macon and Hartford while the Brooklyn club was owner of those baseball firms. For one season he was affiliated with the New York Yankees as business manager at Wheeling.

The late Wilbert Robinson brought Earl Mann back to Atlanta. He succeeded Robinson a year after the death of the famed old Oriole.

Mann is in complete charge of the affairs of the Atlanta club. It is a merited honor for a great fellow.

Basketball Teams Honored at J. P. C.

Members of the Jewish Progressive Club basketball team, Coach Shep Lauter and Manager Meyer Balser were awarded gold rings last night by the club at a banquet given in their honor.

Joe Lazear presided at the banquet.

Members of the team, Coach Lauter, Meyer Balser and Lukie Rosenberg, president of the club, made short talks.

Members of the club squad received gold engraved basketballs.

Recipients of the rings were Steve Browdy, Morris Katz, Hy Katz, Gabby Greenberg, Pony Minsk, Emanuel Kulbersh, Happy Ginsberg, Elliot Rubin, Nate Left and Abe Kaufman.

Members of the club team, who were recipients of basketballs, included Coach I. Friedland, S. Sobelson, Rosy Rosenthal, Dave Alterman, Abe Ronin, Perry Rubin, Seymour Cohen, Scotty Gadin, Sol Levin, trainer, and Joe Moret, manager.

Named on National Board

Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta baseball team, yesterday was named to the executive board of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. He succeeds J. Alvin Gardner, resigned. Mann will represent all the Class A and A-1 clubs.

SPURGEON CHANDLER HURLS.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 8.—(P)—The New York Yankee bats were stilled today, but Walter Brown and Spurgeon Chandler came up with a four-hit shutout of the Oklahoma City team of the Texas league and the Yanks won, 1 to 0.

Brilliant held the Yanks to nine hits, but the New Yorkers scored in the eighth when Red Rolfe doubled, Jake Powell singled him to third and Lou Gehrig drove the third baseman in with a scoring fly to right. Powell returned to the lineup after several days on the bench and celebrated with three singles.

PEBBLES RELEASE BRAZLE.

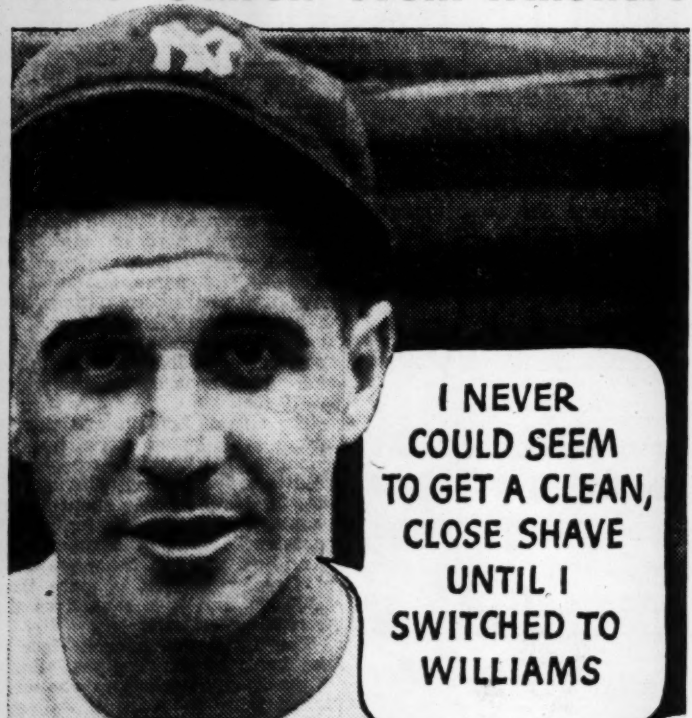

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 8.—(P)—Manager Doc Prothro released Southpaw Alpha Eddie Brazle to Hazelton, of the New York-Pennsylvania league today, reducing his mound staff to 10 members.

The Travelers' performance in holding the Philadelphia Athletics to a 2-1 score yesterday earned them a holiday today.

Lena Blackburne, coach for the Athletics, said the Mackmen were interested in Leo Nonnenkamp, the Traveler fly catcher.

But he discounted reports that

BULLDOGS MEET AUBURN TODAY AND SATURDAY

Coach Smith Picks Wallace Miller To Start Against Tigers.

ATHENS, Ga., April 8.—Opening their conference bid, the University of Georgia baseball team faces a favored Auburn Tiger outfit here Friday and Saturday.

Coach Vernon Smith will send his Bulldogs afield with instructions to "make a good headway on the series by winning these two games this week end." Georgia returns the series at Auburn late in the season. The Bulldogs have not won a series from Auburn since Coach Smith became baseball mentor three years ago. He expects two of the toughest tests of the year.

Wallace Miller, the Bulldogs No. 1 hurler, will serve as starting moundman. He has allowed no runs in 11 innings of play. Only four hits have been given up by him during this time. He has rested since the contest with Clemson last Friday.

The probable lineup besides Miller will find Lee Richards, catcher; George Stallings, first; Albert Collins, second; Alf Anderson, shortstop; John Rucker, third; Hartman, Cavan and Thomas, outfielders.

WARREN PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

The Dixie Mills, of LaGrange, Ga., will bring their strong team into town Saturday afternoon to play Warren's nine on the Warren athletic field at 3 o'clock.

The Dixie club is one of the three strong LaGrange teams that gives promise this year of giving the better teams over Georgia plenty of competition, they have strengthened with several former professional and college players and have a well-balanced team.

The Warren team, who last year played a schedule of 119 games, winning 89 and losing 30, proved with the exception of Buford's Bona Allen team, to be the strongest semi-pro nine in the state and are this year expecting to extend that record and earn a call to the national semi-pro tournament in Wichita, Kan.

GIANTS POUND HARDER.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 8.—(P)—The New York Giants could not hit Cleveland's Bob Feller again today, but they hit his successor on the mound, Mel Harder, enough to whip the Tribe, 9 to 2.

Feller held the Giants hitless for the first three frames and fanned four. Earl Avriel hit a home run.

SENATORS BEAT LOOKOUTS.

ORLANDO, Fla., April 8.—(P)—After taking a four-run lead early, the Washington Senators stemmed a late rally of their Chattanooga farmhands to win a training camp game today, 4 to 3.

Cascarella went the route for the Senators, allowing the minor leaguers only three hits. His team-mates piled up in the first two innings a lead that carried them to victory.

BARONS RAINED OUT.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 8.—(P)—The Birmingham Barons canceled a scheduled exhibition game at Selma, Ala., today because of rain at Selma and held a light practice here instead. An intra-squad game is set for tomorrow.

CHICKS POUND KELLY.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8.—(P)—The Philadelphia Athletics were held to two hits by three pitchers today and shutout by the Southern association Memphis club, 8 to 0, in an exhibition game.

The Memphis team banged Harry Kelly, Fred Archer and Carl Doyle for 12 hits.

The Macks went hitless until Nicholson made a scratch hit in the seventh inning. Lynn Nelson, Mike Martynik and Del Wetherell did the pitching for the victors.

AUKER AND YORK STARS.

LAKELAND, Fla., April 8.—(P)—Eldon Aufer, Detroit's submarine hurler, took a long stride along the come-back trail today by pitching the Tigers to a 5-to-1 victory over the Montreal Royals.

Rudy York, hard-hitting recruit from Atco, Ga., shared honors with Aufer by bagging two doubles.

Tech, Auburn Game Is Halted by Rain

Georgia Tech's baseball game with Auburn, the second of the series, was postponed on account of wet grounds Thursday afternoon.

The Tigers won the opening battle, 3-2, Wednesday.

Auburn moves on to Athens, where the Bulldogs will be played today and Saturday.

Tech will rest until next week, when Florida will be played in a two-game series at Gainesville.

Ali Baba, Dorv Roche Grapple Here Tonight

The heavyweights come roaring back to the Atlanta theater tonight after a week's layoff. And heavyweights are, indeed, the right name for the principals. Matchmaker Frank Speer has corralled this time.

While former Heavyweight Champion Ali Baba and Dorv Roche hold the spotlight in their scheduled 90-minute feature, there also is much interest attached to the other bouts, particularly the 30-minute opener, for in this match appears Chief Sannoke, who stands six feet five and weighs 320 pounds in his sleeping clothes. He sleeps raw. George Hagen opposes the red mountain.

Ali Baba, who, without question, is the greatest showman in the heavyweight ranks, and who tonight makes his debut in Atlanta after a long series of eastern matches that made him a rich man, is certain, from a glance at advance seat sales, to draw a big crowd against the dazzling Roche.

Roche is, incidentally, at his best. Last week he won a one-fall match over Orville Brown and Tuesday night at Indianapolis he walloped Frank Speer, who promotes tonight's show. Speer is convinced Roche is at the top of his game right now. And he'll have to be against the wild Turk.

Ali Baba will introduce a style of grappling never before seen in Atlanta. He is something entirely different and keeps his audiences in an uproar every moment.

The Turk enters the ring in full head-dress and robe of his fellow countrymen and always prays to Allah before each match.

Another new star is on this extraordinary program. The lad is Louie These, of St. Louis, who has won his last 40 matches, and who is ranked as a great prospect by some of the old-timers like Dick Shikat. It will be a battle of youngsters as Frank Brown will be in the opposite corner, and Frank is another rising young star.

Tonight's show will not be affected by the city and state boxing commission's controversy.

Popular prices will be in effect. Starting time is 8:30.

RIGGS IS UPSET BY WALT SENIOR AT RIVER OAKS

Allison Beats Hess; Grant Meets Surface Today; Hendrix Faces Sabin.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 8.—(P)—Bryan (Blitsy) Grant, of Atlanta, and Wayne Sabin, of Hollywood, won the Atlanta (Ga.) tennis tournament doubles championship today by defeating Robert Riggs and Joel Hunt, of Los Angeles, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 12-10.

The match was rained out at Atlanta Sunday and played here because players were unable to return to Georgia.

Grant, Sabin Win Atlanta Doubles

HOUSTON, Texas, April 8.—(P)—Bobby Riggs, of Los Angeles, the nation's fourth ranking tennis player, was eliminated today from the seventh annual River Oaks tournament by the steady-playing Walter Senior, of San Francisco, twelfth ranking player.

The score in the quarter-final match was 7-5, 7-5, 6-4.

Wilmer Allison, for years a strong contender in any tourney, continued his good form in defeating Wilbur Hess, of Houston, 6-4, 6-0, 6-3. Hess staged practically as big an upset as the Senior-Riggs result in eliminating Joel Hunt, of Los Angeles, third seeded player in the meet, in a third-round match yesterday.

The other quarter-final matches—between Bryan Grant, the seeded favorite and defending champion, and Hal Surface, of Kansas City, and Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, Fla., and Wayne Sabin, of Hollywood—will be played tomorrow.

The Senior victory caused more than a little sensation. The lanky player from San Francisco got the jump on Riggs and maintained his advantage all the way. Riggs retired desperately to halt Senior's effective game. He played a good game but was unable to get the advantage of Senior, who was exceptionally steady at the baselines.

Albuckle is the son of Bubbling Over and Khayyam sends Rex Flag to the Derby.

Other Derby eligibles include nine colts whose sires have produced Derby champions. It's a great field, the best in years. And all reserved seats already are sold.

Black Toney, which sired Black Gold and Brokers Tip, both Derby winners, is the sire of Colonel Bradley's Billionaire, one of the Colonel's two entries. Brooklyn is the second entry.

The Colonel has the boys winging again. He has won so often—and this year they like his Brooklyn.

But don't forget Galsun—son of The Fox.

ORIGINS—AND HORSES.

Records show that in 1121, a mere 816 years ago, the English imported some stallions from Morocco and Spain.

The English breed of horses gained so much speed from the new blood that owners fell to racing them across open fields, and the steeplechase style of racing was originated.

Late in the 17th century the English imported three stallions and all thoroughbreds in America and England date their ancestry back to those three.

The first prize was a silver ball. Later on three silver balls, of varying quality, were used. And since that time we have counted the first three horses "in the money."

AND NOW, THE DOG SHOW.

Meanwhile, Atlanta is all set to attend the dog show which begins this afternoon and continues, with time out for sleep, through Saturday evening.

A most pretentious list of entries is reported arrived and arriving for the show.

There is just one friendly tip for the gentlemen who may be interested in attending the show. Be sure and don't go there while in a nervous condition. The dogs, once they turn loose, really make some noise.

There is no agony quite like that of a dog owner. Inevitably his dogs appear ill or sleepy a day or so before the show. Just yesterday Jack Savage, who has some of the best wires in America, was bemoaning the fact his two entries appeared to be nervous. They probably know the show is at hand.

A dog owner is as jittery while a show goes on as a mother at a baby show.

Orenstein To Enter Southwestern in Fall

Icky Orenstein, all-southern halfback with the 1936 Boys' High eleven, will enter Southwestern University in Memphis next September, it was learned here last night.

Orenstein was graduated from Boys' High school in February where he won letters in football and basketball, climaxing his career by being chosen on the all-southern grid squad after the 1936 season.

Southwestern, it will be remembered, staged one of the many football upsets last season when it smacked Vanderbilt, 13 to 0. The

GEORGIA TAKES SECOND PLACE IN S. E. C. GOLF

L. S. U. Wins Team Trophy; Match Play Begins Today.

BATON ROUGE, La., April 8.—(P)—Fred Haas Jr., Louisiana State University's team captain and holder of the Canadian amateur championship, shot a remarkable two-under-par 70 this afternoon for 76-70-146 to capture medal honors in the first annual Southeastern conference golf tournament.

L. S. U. won the team championship with 614 strokes, Georgia was second with 660, Tulane third with 665, Florida fourth with 670 and the University of Mississippi fifth with 682.

Dean Covington, of Georgia, whose 75 this morning led the field after the first 18 holes of qualifying, broke up in the afternoon and carded an 89, for 164.

Pairings for first-round play tomorrow are:

Championship Flight—Haas (L. S. U.) vs. Zachariah (L. S. U.); Dillon (L. S. U.) vs. Covington (Georgia); D'Antonio (Tulane) vs. Little (Georgia); Welby (U. of Miss.) vs. E. Moore (Florida); Leslie (L. S. U.) vs. Kennedy (Georgia); Adams (L. S. U.) vs. Weddington (U. of Miss.); Larcare (L. S. U.) vs. Ramsey (Florida); Williamson (Florida) vs. Janvier (Tulane).

First Flight: Hingle (Tulane) vs. Martin (U. of Miss.); F. Moore (Tulane), Bowder (Georgia), Cortwood (U. of Miss.), Gaskins (L. S. U.), Ware (Miss. State), Sage (Georgia), and Stephenson (Florida) drew byes.

LOOKOUT PROSPECT.

SPRING CITY, Tenn., April 8.—(P)—Jesse Wassom, pitcher at Lincoln Memorial University for the last three seasons, said today he would report to the Chattanooga Lookouts tomorrow in Chattanooga for a tryout.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Heather Aston, now 34, has reared three brothers and three sisters, the youngest of whom, Bobbie, cost their mother her life. Heather started her sacrifices when Bobbie was a year old, telling Bruce Logan, who was leaving England for South Africa, she could not marry him and desert her "children" and Caesar, as they affectionately call their pompous but inefficient father, Vilette, with a theatrical company in South Africa (Poonby is her stage name), writes that she's coming home and has met the man who is coming on the same ship. When Heather meets him she meets Bruce Logan. Although Heather knows she still loves Bruce, she asks if he doesn't know Vilette loves him when he asks her to marry him and return to South Africa. Heather Mathews, a bachelor neighbor, offers Heather's family his seaside cottage at Weymouth. Vilette goes to a dance with Paddy Jepson, an aviator, and drinks too much. Caesar has a stroke and bills from doctor, specialist and nursing home worry Heather. In desperation she decides to ask Mathews for a loan. He signs several blank checks and when Heather says she wishes she could do something in return, he says she can marry him. When she says she doesn't love him he says he'll wait for her. Heather says she will marry Mathews, whose wealth will assure the family's future. That night Vilette tells Heather that Bruce has asked her to marry him. The family goes to the Weymouth cottage. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Heather fidgeted. He had not had too happy a time at The Haven. He was very sincerely in love with Vilette and he had hated the three-cornered position. He had no thought of criticizing Vilette and yet her manner towards Bruce made him feel awkward and ashamed. On the whole he was glad to be going back, even though Vilette had extracted a promise from him to come again as soon as possible.

He genuinely liked and admired Bruce and would very much rather have disliked him.

Vilette went up to her room and banged that door too, turning the key behind her.

What a muddle she had made of everything! . . . she had flirted with Paddy Jepson very much as a gambler who has lost, will fly to drink, and she realized, even as a gambler realizes afterwards, that it had done no good.

She sat down at the dressing table and began to make up her face. It was purely a mechanical action, but it was what she always did when things seemed to have got beyond her control.

She reddened her lips and thought that Jepson was a fool; she powdered her nose and told herself that she hated Bruce and was glad he was going away; then the next moment she had found paper and a pencil and was writing to him—a little heartbroken note of apology for her behavior, and an appeal for forgiveness.

Bruce had found many such notes on his dressing table since they came to The Haven. Vilette would quarrel with him fiercely, and then would humble herself to the dust, and always it was he who felt guilty.

"My darling—" her pencil flew—"Don't go. I shall be miserable without you. I know I haven't been kind but I didn't mean it. I love you so much—I shall never love any one else. I shall die loving you."

The old theatrical tone always crept in and robbed her words of their sincerity.

"Please stay just another day or two, and I will show you that it's not just an empty sentiment when I say that if I lost you, I should not go on living. If only you'd be kind to me, Bruce."

The flying pencil was still, and Vilette's troubled eyes wandered to the window. Wasn't he kind? She knew that he was never unkind! But the knowledge did not help.

She remembered, and hated the memory, that last night when they had been out together, she asked him to kiss her. Bruce had put his arm around her, bending to kiss her cheek, but the kiss hurt her almost as much as if it had been refused. He had put his arm round her! Yes, and he might have put his arm round Effie in just the same kind, brotherly way, or around Heather!

Heather! . . . Vilette moistened her dry lips, and asked herself for the hundredth time if Heather had found him such a half-hearted lover 17 years ago.

She tore up what she had written and started again, covering two whole pages with passionate words of love and remorse and even wetting them with tears, and then as the supper gong boomed, she slipped across the landing to Bruce's room and laid her letter on the dressing table.

He never answered her notes, never wrote to her in reply, never even mentioned them unless she asked, "Did you find my letter?" Then he would say very kindly, "Yes—thank you, and of course it's all right; don't be unhappy."

But it was not all right and she was unhappy all the same. And tomorrow he would be done! . . . It was Caesar who struck the first discordant note at supper. "Tomorrow at this hour," he said, "our party will be considerably smaller. There will be two vacant chairs, two absent friends."

"Bruce may not go after all," Vilette said quickly. She could never really understand when she was beaten, for by her own rule of the game of love, Bruce upped reading her poor little letter should at once have capitulated and seen to it that she lived happily ever after.

He looked at her questioningly. "I am afraid I shall have to go," he said. "I have some rather urgent business to attend to."

"Are you going to see about putting the banners up?" Effie inquired interestedly.

He smiled at her across the table. "Who's banners? My own or Heather's?"

"Both of them," she retorted, and then excitedly. "Why don't you have a double wedding?"

Vilette flared up, all her good resolutions forgotten. "I'm not having any stupid wedding," she said. "I hate fuss and nonsense of that sort. We're going to a registrar's office and I shan't have the entire family there either."

"Then it's the first time in your life you haven't wanted a fuss," Bobbie put in. "And I shall come anyway—just to have a look at Bruce, and to see if he's nervous."

"I shall come too then," Effie cried.

"You won't be asked," Vilette retorted. "Either of you."

The younger girl turned quickly to Bruce. "You'll ask us, won't you?"

"It looks to me as if I shall have to do exactly as I'm told," Bruce said humbly.

Vilette turned on him like a flash. "If you mean you'll do as I tell you—it will be the first time in your life," she said with the hysteria of snapping nerves. "And if there's going to be all this argument, I don't care if I'm never married at all and I don't suppose you do either."

Bruce half shrugged his shoulders, though he had gone a little pale. "Well, don't quarrel about it with me in public," he said goodly. "Have some of these cherries—they're good."

Vilette pushed away the dish he had passed to her. "I'm not a child, to be told to be good and to be given a sweet," she said sharply.

John broke the awkward silence which followed. "The storm really seems to have passed," he said rather unfortunately.

"Just begun, I should say," Bobbie muttered.

Vilette turned on him with flashing eyes. "You mind your own business! You think you can say just what you like. Nobody ever scolds you or tries to keep you in your place. I shall be thankful when you go back to school."

Bruce looked at Heather. "Do you think we might take off our bibs and get down?" he asked flippantly.

There was a scraping back of chairs. Only Vilette remained seated, puffing little angry clouds of smoke into the air from her cigarette and staring before her.

Heather paused in the doorway. "Aren't you coming, dear?" she asked.

"No."

Vilette heard them all depart, but she still sat there at the deserted table, her heart filled with misery. She ground out the end of her cigarette and lit another. Nobody cared what became of her.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

FIVE GREAT RIVERS OF EUROPE.

V—THE THAMES.

Thirty-five miles of docks along its banks! That is one part of the story which may be told about the Thames, the most important river in England. The name is pronounced like "tams," to rhyme with "hems."

a given point downstream in one day. This is far more than the amount in average weather. Now and then, there have been floods, but the Thames has not proved so dangerous as many other rivers. Two thousand years ago, Roman soldiers crossed to Britain and won control over part of the land. Early Roman writers spoke of the "Tamesis," a name supposed to have been used by the natives, and to have meant "Broad river." If that was the meaning, it was a good name, at least for the lower end. At London bridge, the width is 870 feet.

The city of London was started before the Romans came, but for a long period it did not reach any great size. Five centuries ago, it was the home of only about 50,000 people, and two centuries ago it contained less than a quarter of a million. Today the population of Greater London is more than 8,000,000, and it is ranked as the world's largest city.

The tower of London is close to the bank of the Thames. Some of the unhappy prisoners who were led there in olden times were taken there on the Thames bridge. Bosting on the Thames is a pleasure which many London folk enjoy. And the river is used for boat races. When Oxford and Cambridge have their yearly race, it seems that almost all the people in London flock to the water-side.

(For travel section of your scrapbook.)

The leaflet called "Marvels of the Sky" contains a diagram showing sizes of the planets and their distance from the sun. It tells about Donati's comet and other wonders. If you want a copy without charge, send a 3c stamped return envelope to be in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Punting along the Thames.

Sailing toward London, an ocean liner enters what seems like an arm of the North sea, the distance from side to side being 18 miles. Farther on he comes to "the Nore," where the mouth of the Thames is said to be. At this point, the distance from side to side is not quite six miles. After that there is a journey of almost 48 miles before London bridge can be reached. Most vessels go into dock before they get that far up the river, but the channel is fairly deep. If a steamer does not draw more than 20 feet of water, it can pass to "the heart of London."

A small vessel can keep going up the river, passing several famous places, as Eton, Oxford and Windsor. A man in a canoe might make a trip of 209 miles up the river, for that is the total length of the Thames, as commonly given. After heavy rains, as much as 20,000,000 gallons of water have been estimated to flow past

TARZAN'S QUEST No. 95

Brown turned restlessly, and Shorov froze with terror; then the pilot resumed the regular breathing of sleep. Alexis reached out and seized the axe handle. Fixing his mad eyes on the forehead of the sleeping man, he raised the weapon aloft!

Meanwhile, the excited Nikma traveled farther and farther north in pursuit of the fledgling bird, bearing with him the message that would have meant so much to Tarzan. But at length, in the sustained flight, the bird vanished, and Nikma saw it no more.

Then the little monkey noticed the paper in the end of the stick. This recalled Tarzan to his mind, and he determined to return to the ape-man and his Wari; but at that moment was attracted by two figures on the trail below. He dropped down to investigate.

Never had he seen a white man so strangely arrayed, like a black savage. The man filled him with fear, but his companion was of a gentle mould. Curiously, Nikma followed them—the dainty white she, who was Annette, and the fierce Kavuru who was her captor.

STREET CAR FARES PROBE IS PROMISED BY UTILITIES BOARD

State Body Will Conduct Inquiry Following 5-Cent Plea Withdrawal.

The Georgia Public Service Commission is preparing, of its own volition, a rule nisi calling upon the Georgia Power Company to show cause why its Atlanta street car and bus fares should not be reduced, Chairman Jud P. Wilhoit said yesterday.

Wilhoit made the statement that the commission's rule nisi was to be expected "within a short time" as he announced the commission had dismissed at the request of the petitioners a plea filed by some 300 citizens asking for a straight 5-cent street car fare.

The commission chairman made it plain that the projected inquiry into street car and bus fares would not be launched by the commission until after the power company has installed and has in operation the "trackless trolleys," it plans to use on a part of the system.

Wilhoit also made it plain that when the rule nisi is issued it will not be with a view of bringing the fare down as low as 5 cents. He indicated any reduction which the commission might deem proper would be considered worthwhile.

Cannot Prejudge.
"The commission, of course, cannot prejudice the case," the chairman said. "If the investigation reveals the power company cannot stand any reduction at all there won't be any reduction. We merely intend to look into the situation thoroughly."

Wilhoit praised the power company for the upkeep of the street railway system.

"The power company is giving good service and keeps its equipment in fine condition," he asserted. "I do not know of any other city where the cars are kept in such good condition. In a number of cities I have visited recently the cars are run down and the companies apparently are making no effort to keep them up."

Signed by 300.
The petition for the 5-cent fare was submitted to the commission last fall by Attorneys Pat J. Avery and Frank Bowers. It was signed by more than 300 patrons of the street car system.

"We have withdrawn our petition in order to give the power company an opportunity to improve its service without the embarrassment of a case before the Public Service Commission," Avery said.

The commission conducted a preliminary inquiry into the petition last fall but postponed its complete investigation until spring.

Wilhoit said yesterday that, inasmuch as the petitioners had asked for a 5-cent fare, everything done by the commission had been directed in that avenue. He added that when the new inquiry is launched no particular rate will be in mind.

GREENVILLE, Ga., April 8.—(P)—Gus Huddleston was elected mayor of Greenville in yesterday's election, it was announced today. Elected to council were W. C. Culpepper, W. T. Strozler Jr. and Guy Hardaway.

BIGGER AND BETTER

ADVERTISEMENT.

Sealed proposals for the construction of two new buildings, one a four-story building for kitchens and dining rooms and remodeling of rooms for kitchens in east detached building at the Milledgeville State Hospital, Milledgeville, Ga., (herein after referred to as the project) will be received and publicly opened and read aloud at the office of the State Department of Public Welfare, Division of Institutions, state capital, Atlanta, Ga., until 10 o'clock, central standard time, on April 20, 1937.

The character and amount of security to be furnished by each bidder is stated in the proposed contract documents. No bidder may withdraw his bid within a period of 30 days after the date set for opening bids.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the office of the State Department of Public Welfare, Division of Institutions, state capital, Atlanta, Ga. A deposit of $25 will be made for each set of plans and specifications. This deposit will be refunded to the bidders provided the specifications and plans are returned in good order within 15 days after the bids are received. The deposit will be retained to pay for the cost of reproducing the plans and specifications in case the person, or corporation making the deposit, does not bid.

The right is reserved to waive formalities and to reject any and all bids. This the 9th day of April 1937.

Board Deadlocked Over 10-Cent Trap

TAMPA, Fla., April 8.—(P)—J. S. Robinson, Plant City member of the Hillsborough county school board, today stood alone, like the boy on the burning deck, while his colleagues wrestled with a two-two tie vote to buy a 10-cent trap to ensnare a lone wolf, vandalistic mouse in school headquarters here.

Robinson refused to break the tie, even after other members poignantly pointed to the possible hysteria, and the nervous breakdown of young women of office employees.

Time and again, in recent weeks, they have been scared speechless by the nonchalant stubbornness of bold, bad office mouse, who persisted in laughing at them from vantage points in the school offices.

SENATE PROBE, SUIT LOOMS IN BALL GIFT

Van Sweringen Control Goes to Foundation Set Up by Manufacturer.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 8.—(P)—A senate investigation and a law suit threatened complications today for George A. Ball's plan to donate to a religious, charitable and educational foundation his reputedly rich holdings of Midamerica Corporation common stock.

Midamerica Corporation is the top holding company of the former Van Sweringen rail and industrial empire.

Bare Announcement.
There was only the bare announcement here by Miss Gertrude Barrett, Mr. Ball's secretary, of the transfer of the stock.

Mr. Ball, a 74-year-old millionaire fruit jar manufacturer who is Republican national committeeman in addition to handling a multitude of business interests, was reported to be in New York. At Washington, Chairman Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, of the senate railway finance committee, said he would begin an investigation of the transaction on the theory the Interstate Commerce Commission should have been consulted.

J. Paul Thompson, of Cleveland, Ohio, receiver for the estate of the late O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, said he would sue to enforce an option given by Ball and his associate, G. A. Tomlinson, of Cleveland, to enable the Van Sweringens to purchase control of Midamerica when they had cleared themselves of indebtedness.

Midamerica was formed in 1935 by Ball and Tomlinson to buy at auction controlling securities in the Van Sweringen holdings offered for sale to satisfy debts of the Van Sweringen brothers.

Midamerica bought the Van Sweringen interests for $3,121,000. It has been estimated the gross profit to Ball and Tomlinson since the purchase has been approximately $10,000,000.

The foundation, known as the George and Frances Ball Foundation, was incorporated March 22. Incorporators and members of the board were Ball, his wife, Elizabeth W. Ball, their daughter; Leland Rex Robinson, of Bronxville, N. Y., and Dr. Lemuel A. Pittenger, president of Ball State Teachers' College here.

Tailors Believe King To Be No. 1 Fashion Setter

NEW YORK, April 8.—(P)—King George VI, who gained the British throne when his brother abdicated, is destined also to supplant the Duke of Windsor, in the opinion of American tailors, as the world's best-dressed man.

The verdict was not unanimous, however, a widely circulated questionnaire showing 60 per cent believe the King will be style setter No. 1 after coronation day.

Thirty per cent of the tailors polled would leave the crown of best-dressed on the brow of Edward.

Ten per cent answered: "Wait."

The nation-wide vote, conducted by the Merchant Tailors' Designers' Association, brought this response from Harry Young, Detroit tailor:

"Correct or not, whatever King George chooses to wear will have a definite influence on fashion."

N. Bronson Williams, man-about-town New York tailor, said he was "pessimistic."

"He simply hasn't the flair for doing the smart thing," Williams said. "For instance, he was photographed the other day wearing a rose in his buttonhole—something no well-dressed man would ever do."

TOKYO WANTS WRIT TO REMOVE STEEL TAX

TOKYO, April 8.—(P)—The government decided today to ask an urgent imperial ordinance exempting iron and steel from import duties until March 31, 1938, to speed up construction programs.

The move is designed to check increase in prices of the metals in addition to facilitating military, naval and domestic construction projects.

TWO MEN KILLED WHEN BRIDGE FALLS

Abandoned Structure Falls as Workmen Are Removing It.

BLOCTON, Ala., April 8.—(P)—Two were dead and two others in serious condition in Birmingham hospitals today as a result of the collapse of an abandoned railroad bridge near Marvel, Ala.

The dead were David Odum, 25, of Bessemer, Ala., and Hard Smith, Birmingham negro. In Birmingham hospitals were D. H. Segrest, of Bessemer, and Shuler Hankins, of Birmingham. The four men were dismantling a bridge formerly a part of a branch line of the Southern railway to Masena. It was a 315-foot span, across the Cahaba river. Two of the bridge's three sections had been dismantled, and the third section collapsed, taking the four workers into the river with it.

Southern officials said the branch line was abandoned several years ago and the tracks taken up. The bridge was sold for scrap last year.

CROKER MAKES PLEA FOR TOWNSEND PLAN
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 8.—(P)—The Florida legislature may ask the national congress to "put in the Townsend pension plan" as a substitute for various kinds of relief now being paid. Representative Lamar Croker, of Gilchrist county, said he would introduce a resolution in the legislature providing for the request to congress.

Croker said he hoped the legislature would pass the resolution. The Townsend plan, he said, has not been "fairly studied

2 KILLED IN COLLISION
AKRON, Ohio, April 8.—Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cooney, of Columbus, were killed and daughter, Jean, 21, was injured today when their automobile struck and collided with the Akron-
